VITAL BATTLE IN BRAZIL WAR THOUGHT NEAR

15 REBELS KILLED IN ENCOUNTER, IS CLAIM

CAPITAL SAYS SPIRIT OF REVOLT IS EBBING

(Associated Press.)

A series of engagements along a straggly 200-mile front at the southern border of Sao Paulo State have apparently drawn Brazil's federal and insurgent armies into line for the battle reported imminent since last week.

Hard fighting at several points was announced by both sides, each claiming the victory.

The federals said the rebels had been defeated at Senges bridgehead and had left fifteen dead on the field. Federal casualties were given as six wounded.

The rebels asserted they had routed the federals after a five-hour battle betwen Affonso Camargo and Cariopolis, the hardest fought thus far of the civil war. Federal prisoners and war material were captured.

Let Rebels Retreat.

The rebels also claimed victories at Quatigua and at Gatinga, where 35 prisoners were taken.

Indications are that the struggle between the opposing forces will be decided in Sao Paulo and Parana, where the best equipped troops of both sides are concentrated.

In the Minas Geraes campaign the federals reported their troops were slowly reoccupying the big rebel state but had refrained from unnecessary fighting and were content to let the rebels retreat into remoter districts.

Both sides announced gains in outlying states, the rebels in Matto Grosso and the federals in Para.

Federals Evince Optimism.

Federal and rebel commanders are bringing up troops as fast as they can to the Sao Paulo war zone. As Sao Paulo is nearer to it than the rebel headquarters, the federals have the advantage in transportation.

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The Brazilian federal government today claimed victories over the revolutionists to the south, the west and the north, and declared that the rebels were becoming discouraged by their reverses.

The principal victories were listed as being along the 200-mile Sao Paulo-Parana front and in the southwestern region of the State of Minas Geraes.

The main battle in northern Parana occurred at Senges bridgehead, with fifteen rebels—one of them an officer—found dead on the field after the fight. Federal sources said that many insurrectos were wounded, whereas the government casualties totaled only six wounded.

Railway Changes Hands.

With the capture of this place the government troops asserted that they had driven the rebels out of the triangular western portion of Minas Geraes. The revolutionaries also were understood to have withdrawn from the vicinity of Bello Horizonte, capital of the state.

Death Near as Lungs Of Diamond Collapse

Miss Marion Roberts, red-haired chorus beauty, being questioned at police headquarters in connection with the shooting of Jack "Legs" Diamond. She is said to have occupied a room adjoining Diamond's.

Manager of Hotel Gives Police New Name in Shooting Case.

New York, Oct. 14 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—The tubercular and bullet-pierced lungs of Racketeer Jack (Legs) Diamond suffered a collapse this afternoon, and surgeon's words issuing from the Polyclinic Hospital tonight indicated that the Sunday morning shooting in the Monticello Hotel was about to become a murder.

"Patient's condition critical. There has been a pulmonary collapse," came the bulletin from Dr. C. H. Burnett, resident surgeon, at 5 p. m.

Before the collapse Diamond had been holding his own rather well, and the word had been that if he could stave off pneumonia until Thursday he stood a good chance of recovery.

Mrs. Diamond, who had visited her husband earlier in the afternoon, hurried to his bedside shortly after 6 o'clock, but remained there only ten minutes. The New York World News Service was informed that Jack was then conscious, and vaguely complained to her that he did not like his room, but still the hospital staff considered it likely that he would not last through the night.

Mrs. Diamond's brief visit was taken to indicate that Legs was not expected to die during the evening. The 8 o'clock bulletin said his condition was the same as last night—that he was resting comfortably, though in a critical condition.

An X-ray was taken today, and although the hospital announcement said it showed nothing out of the ordinary, information is that it

BANDIT LEADER IS SHOT DOWN ABOARD TRAIN

BULLET ENDS HUNT THROUGH MID-WEST

SLUG STOPS MOVE TO DRAW HIS PISTOL

Gang Chief Is Tracked to Ozark Country by Letters That He Mailed.

Branson, Mo. Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Jake Fleagle, object of a nation-wide search after he led a band of ruthless killers in the robbery of the First National Bank, of Lamar, Colorado, in May, 1928, was wounded seriously and captured here today.

The desperado was caught as the result of a trap laid for him in the Ozark Mountain country by postal inspectors, and authorities of California, Colorado, Missouri and Arkansas.

Fleagle was confronted unexpectedly on a Missouri Pacific passenger train which he boarded here to travel to Hollister, a nearby town.

Reached for Pistol.

One shot was fired and the bandit leader fell with a bullet in his admoen. After a brief struggle his weapon was wrested from him. None of the officers would reveal who fired the shot.

The prisoner was taken to Springfield, Mo., late today to undergo an operation. If he recovers, he will be returned to Colorado to face trial for murder.

Three Were Hanged.

Four men were killed by the Lamar robbers and three members of the gang already have paid with their lives on the gallows at the Colorado Penitentiary at Canon City.

Those executed for their part in the robbery were Ralph Fleagle, brother of Jake, George J. Abshier and Howard Royston.

In the holdup, A. N. Parrish, president of the bank, and his son, John, Cashier, were shot and killed.

E. A. Kessinger, a teller, was taken as a hostage by the bandits and later slain after they escaped into western Kansas.

The other victim was Dr. William Wineinger, of Dighton, Kans. The physician was lured from his home to treat one of the wounded robbers. Then he was killed, the gang believing he might identify the Fleagles, who lived on a ranch near Garden City, Kans.

Tracked to Ozarks.

Fleagle was tracked to the Ozark country by postal inspectors through letters he had mailed. It was discovered after his capture that he had a gunshot wound in the wrist, which physicians said had been inflicted about ten days ago, indicating he may have had a recent brush with the law.

At one time rewards on the bandit leader's head totaled $55,000. Officials of the Colorado Bankers Association said today, however, that some of the offers had been withdrawn and only $4,000 remained posted in that State.

Postal inspectors pressed a relentless search for the desperado in the belief that he had a hand in the robbery of a Southern Pacific mail train at Pittsburg, Calif., June 22, 1929, when $17,000 loot was obtained.

Officers on Train.

Postal inspectors and other officers had been secretly combing the Ozark country for several weeks, after establishing that Fleagle was in hiding in this region.

The capture today, however, was a chance one. On the train which

LEWIS COUNTS ON REPUBLICAN AID IN ILLINOIS

Democratic Trend Seen Throughout State by Observers.

MRS. O'NEIL FACTOR IN SENATE BATTLE

Disgruntled G. O. P. Are Saying They Will Cut Mrs. McCormick.

OPPOSITION TO HER REPORTED GROWING

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—There is an indisputable Democratic trend in this State. As to whether it will trend far enough to elect J. Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, to the United States Senate remains to be seen.

To say the least, a Democrat coming into this State just now would find things most heartening. For one thing, all he would hear would be Lewis. One runs into any number of deep-rooted Republicans, or people whom he has come to consider such, who say now that for many reasons they intend to vote for J. Ham.

"Well, a woman has no place in the Senate for one thing," they say, "and again, this prohibition business has come to be pretty rotten."

Then they go on to talk of hard times in explaining why "hundreds of others" intend to vote for J. Ham. They do not give this as their own reason, but the more one talks with them the more he is convinced that opposition to a woman serving in the Senate and prohibition are not their fundamental reasons. Perhaps it is that all things cnosidered they are ready for a new deal.

Lewis Called Lucky.

Now one encounters this feeling to a surprising degree among people with whom it has been his wont to meet and talk with in past years. It is striking. It is significant. To predict J. Ham's election on the strength of it is something else again. There are many slips betwixt the cup and lip.

There are two traditions, however, which should be dispelled in any discussion of the situation. One is that Illinois is an overwhelmingly Republican State and that J. Ham is a most lucky candidate. That the dapper gentleman does very well on the hustings is probably true, but after all he has never gotten very far with this so-called great campaigning ability of his.

It is not generally understood that the gentleman's one term in the Senate was by virtue of the Legislature and then it was a case of the Democrats and the Progressives getting together to deny the regulars in 1912. Prior to that time J. Ham, born in Virginia and reared in Georgia or vice versa and moved thence to Washington, had served once in the House from that State. Then he had served on a general's staff in the Spanish American War, settled in Chicago and had himself appointed corporation counsel or something of the sort.

Defeated by McCormick.

The first time he faced the electorate in this State was when Medill McCormick opposed him in the senatorial race of 1918 and defeated him. After that J. Ham ran for governor and was defeated by Gov. Dunne. So as a successful campaigner he is not so "hot." That he is a campaigner of some sort is evidenced by the crowds he is drawing now.

The old man's activity belies the whispering campaign against him. He is posing as 65 when everybody whispers to you that he is at least 75. If he is the latter he is the gayest old bird that ever took the stump. He is speaking four and five times a day.

And so is the Widow McCormick. Mrs. Lottie O'Neill is driving her

BODY OF MARY BAKER MAY BE EXHUMED TO LOCATE LOST BULLET

Calvin Coolidge Says:

In almost all peace time governmental decisions economic results are a dominant motive. The imperial conference among the dominions of the British Empire now being held at London is largely given up to questions of trade regulations. The delegate from Canada proposed an empire policy of protection good against the rest of the world with preference among the different dominions.

The most important decision of the conference was made by Chancellor Snowden in announcing that the present government would not favor the adoption of such a policy. This came after the declaration favorable to the principle by Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservatives.

A counterproposal has come from the board of trade, pledging Great Britain to purchase a certain percentage of her imports from the dominions. But in this there will be difficulties of allocation. Protection for a compact country like the United States is entirely different from applying the policy to a world empire.

The desire of trade to buy in the cheapest and sell in the highest market then makes all artificial restrictions exceedingly problematical. Each dominion would have to make some sacrifice. The decision of the British cabinet will have a very important effect on world trade.

Campbell Counsel Plan to Probe for Third Gun Slug.

EXPERTS DISAGREE ON FATAL WEAPON

GARMENTS OF GIRL WILL BE EXAMINED

Government Attorney Gives Permission for Tests After Parley.

Exhumation of Mary Baker's body, which is resting in the community cemetery in Oak Grove, Va., will be asked by defense counsel in order to locate a bullet which is deemed essential to the defense of Herbert M. Campbell, it was learned by The Post last night.

Coupled with this startling development in the celebrated murder case is the report of Dr. Albert H. Hamilton in which he claims that the pistol, turned over to authorities by Campbell, is not the gun which fired the mortal bullets.

Decision to compel exhumation of the body was reached after Robert Hamilton, son of the ballistics expert, discovered that there were only two mortal bullets in the hands of the Government, while three shots had been fired into the girl.

Post Files Consulted.

Young Hamilton had read back numbers of The Washington Post and found the report of an autopsy performed by Coroner H. B. Swain, of Arlington County, in which the condition of the girl's body was described.

The third bullet, which entered her back and did not emerge, was buried with the body. It is considered essential by the defense that this slug be produced in court. Defense counsel points to the fact that the authorities do not know the caliber of this bullet.

Two Gun, New Theory.

There is a possibility, they said, that two guns may have been used in the killing. Perhaps, they said, the bullet in her back may have been fired by an automatic, while the others found were revolver ammunition. Charles Henry Smith, chief defense counsel has declared his intention of demanding that this missing evidence be presented in court.

If the Government does not exhume the body and obtain the bullet it is known that the defense will demand that the bullet be placed in evidence before the case is sent to the jury.

In the earlier autopsy, the doctors probed for it but could not locate it. X-ray will be used to find it if necessary.

Clash of Experts Seen.

Dr. Hamilton's verdict that Campbell's gun is not the death weapon was submitted to Mr. Smith last night at a conference between defense representatives. His decision insures the first clash between Col. Calvin Goddard and Dr. Hamilton when the case goes to court on Tuesday.

The expert's report specifies that his examination of the bullet which was taken from the girl's side shows that it was fired by smokeless powder. The ammunition turned over to authorities by Campbell has black powder, which is smoky.

On the mortal bullet, Dr. Hamilton said, were unmistakable traces of ingredients used in smokeless powder.

POLICE FIGHT REDS IN BOSTON STREETS

GREEN REGRETS BRAWL

Boston, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Fifteen persons, five of them women, were arrested today during a battle between police and a group of 50 Communists who attempted to invade the national convention of the American Federation of Labor.

For fully 20 minutes the Communists and police, hemmed in by a crowd of more than 1,000 spectators, fought outside the Hotel Bradford, where the federation was in session.

Heads were cracked and police uniforms were torn while patrol wagons rushed police reserves to the scene from a nearby precinct station. Taxicabs pressed into service as patrol wagons were filled while Communists struggled to rescue the prisoners.

The Communists gave advance warning of their intention to stage a demonstration today. For the past several days hand bills were circulated, calling upon the "militant workers of Boston" to join in a demonstration today.

When the labor convention opened this morning, police were on duty outside the hotel and in the corridors leading to the convention hall, but this detail was inadequate to handle the fighting radicals.

Shortly before noon the Communists paraded to the hotel, carrying Communist placards and were promptly ordered away by the police. An attempt then was made to hold a meeting in the street, but the first speaker who attempted to address the gathering was placed under arrest.

Angry Communists tried to rescue him and the battle began. Traffic on Tremont street was paralyzed while the screams of women Communists increased the bedlam.

Mounted police and squads of reserves finally dispersed the mob, but not before Police Capt. Jeremiah Gallivan had been beaten by the rioters.

Meanwhile the labor convention was in session inside the hotel. Later,

260 SHEEP BURNED IN FREIGHT BLAZE

FIRE CAUSE UNKNOWN

A large stock shed and six freight cars containing nearly 260 sheep were destroyed last night by a fire of undetermined origin in the Potomac freight yards at Alexandria, Va.

According to employes of the yard, the blaze started about 8:30 p. m. and rapidly gained headway before fire appartus could be summoned from Alexandria.

When firemen arrived, the stock shed covering a half mile at one end of the yards, was completely destroyed and two freight cars loaded with sheep were too far gone to be saved.

Vainly fighting to save four more cars standing nearby, employes and firemen were forced to stand aside until the flames died down in order to get near enough to play water on the blaze.

At a late hour last night R. N. Colvin, superintendent of the yards could not be located to give an estimate of the damage.

The blaze could be seen for miles around. The District Fire Board was kept busy answering calls from persons believing the fire to be in the city.

At one time, when flames threatened to spread to other buildings and freight cars close by, firemen thought it would be necessary to call fire apparatus from the District, but the Alexandria volunteer companies confined the flames to one portion of the yards by playing large streams of water on threatened spots.

Several hundred persons, attracted by the reflection of the fire, flocked to the scene, hampering brakemen and watchmen who were attempting to keep the tracks on which trains were due to pull into the yards clear.

W. J. Jones, a clerk in the superintendent's office, last night estimated damage at about $7,000.

RIOTERS AT SPANISH COLLEGE JEER KING

STRIKERS ATTACK CAR

Madrid, Oct. 14. (A.P.)—One of Spain's greatest universities, that at Barcelona, today was closed by a vote of the deans and all classes suspended indefinitely because of grave disorders within its precints, involving what authorities characterized as gross disrespect for the king. Reopening will not occur until after today's riot, has been fully cleared up.

Investigators were ordered to find leaders of some 500 students who, at midday, stormed the main assembly hall and took from it a portrait of Alfonso, burning it in the yard after cutting out the head, which they mounted on a pole and paraded about the grounds.

Additional importance was attached to the incident because, authorities said, it was evident that Communists or other agitators had enrolled in classes for the purpose of inciting hostility toward the government.

DROP BORLAND LAW, BRIDE RECOMMENDS

LAID BEFORE CITY HEADS

More than $1,000,000 in special assessments under the Borland law will be saved to hundreds of individual property owners and lost to the municipal treasury if the District Commissioners approve a recommendation made to them yesterday by William W. Bride, corporation counsel.

Mr. Bride recommended that the Commissioners cease attempting to enforce the Borland law, which has been more and more restricted by decisions of District courts with the tacit approval of the United States Supreme Court. He recommended, too, that the Commissioners cancel all assessments levied or collected under the Borland act for three years back.

His recommendation was made verbally at a regular executive meeting of the Board of Commissioners, but decision was withheld by the city heads, who asked their legal adviser to submit his recommendations in a written report as soon as feasible.

At the same time the Commissioners asked that William P. Richards,

Oil Man's Daughter Freed; Promises Kidnaper $10,000

Greenfield, Mo., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Mrs. Alma Wilson McKinley, 24, daughter of Benton Wilson, wealthy oil man here, who was kidnaped from her parents' home last night, telephoned late today from Stockton, 20 miles north of Greenfield, that she had been released and was returning home. Her father and husband immediately started out to meet her.

Mrs. McKinley, an expectant mother, informed her parents that the kidnaper had demanded $10,000, but released her after she said that the only way he could get the money would be to free his prisoner.

Mrs. McKinley said that her automobile, in which she was forced away from her home here, stalled near Jericho Springs, about 20 miles from Greenfield, and that she spent last night under a tarpaulin in the woods. She was not harmed.

Her kidnaper, Mrs. McKinley added, said that he was a member of a gang of five, but she did not see any other men. Shortly before Mrs. McKinley called from Stockton her automobile was found by a farmer approximately 25 miles northwest of Greenfield. It was deserted.

Harold McKinley, the husband, a former University of Missouri football player, and three brothers of Mrs. McKinley had been in posses which were searching every byroad and abandoned farm in this and adjacent counties.

Man Is Thrown 20 Feet By Speeding Police Patrol

Speeding out Connecticut avenue northwest, following the truck of the Fire Rescue Squad which had been called to revive a gas victim, a police patrol car struck George H. Roney, a watchmaker of 3940 Livingston street, early last night seriously injuring him.

Roney was removed to Georgetown Hospital where it was reported that he was suffering from a fractured collarbone, multiple bruises and lacerations. He may also have a fractured skull.

According to witnesses, the accident occurred at Connecticut avenue and Livingston street northwest as Roney, who had just left a street car, stepped around in front of that vehicle into the center of the street. It was reported that the police car passed to the left of the car rather than between the car and the curb, in order to avoid hitting passengers just leaving the car.

The injured man was hurled 20 feet by the force of the collision. The police car, driven by Private Arthur H. Gaihar of the Fourteenth Precinct, abandoned the job of trailing the rescue squad and rushed Mr. Roney to the hospital. Witnesses said the fender of the police car was badly smashed where it struck Mr. Roney.

The Rescue Squad had been called to an address on Quesada place

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST OPEN INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION TODAY

14,000 Delegates Expected to Attend First of Three Conferences Here.

$8,000,000 FUND ASKED FOR PASTORS' PENSIONS

More than 14,000 delegates from all parts of the United States and 30 foreign countries are expected here today for the opening of the international convention of Disciples of Christ, which will be followed by the world congress of Christian Churches and the youth convention of Disciples of Christ. Headquarters will be maintained at the Washington Auditorium, but group meetings will be held at half a dozen halls and churches through October 23.

The convention opening today is designed to focus world-wide attention on the 100th anniversary of the Christian Church and the dedication of the new $1,500,000 National City Christian Church at Thomas Circle. One of its principal objectives will be the subscription of an $8,000,000 pension fund for ministers of the denomination.

The advance guard of delegates, including Robert Alexander Long, of Kansas City, who will serve as president of the convention, arrived in the city yesterday, and a number of committee meetings were held last night. Arrangements have been made for housing the visitors in private homes and for transporting them to meeting places and on sightseeing trips about the city.

Committees Are Active.

Committees were busy preparing the auditorium for the great gathering yesterday and in registering delegates and distributing special literature. The convention will close with a special communion service Sunday and the world congress will immediately open, to last through October 23. The youth convention, which will be held jointly with the international convention, is expected to attract young people of 1,000 Christian churches.

Three hundred men, who will distribute emblems at the Communion service Sunday, met yesterday to receive instructions from the Rev. F. E. Davison, pastor of the Austin Boulevard Christian Church, of Oak Park, Ill. Mr. Davison has directed these annual Communion gatherings for the last nine years. The chairman of the Washington committee is the Rev. D. C. Gordan, pastor of the Mount Rainier Christian Church.

Plans for subscribing the $8,000,000 pension fund will be brought before the convention tomorrow, and the next matter of business to be taken up will be the election of the president of the United Christian Missionary Society, one of the largest organizations affiliated with the church.

Reports to Be Submitted.

Reports of such organizations as the Board of Education, Boards of Temperance and Social Welfare, the Association for the Promotion of Christian Unity, the Rural Church Commission and others will be submitted at a short business session tonight, before President Long's opening address.

Other officers of the international convention are Cleveland Kleihauer, Mrs. Luella St. Clair Moss and W. N. Birney, vice presidents; Graham Frank, general secretary; Mrs. G. W. Muckley, recording secretary; H. B. Holloway, transportation secretary, and J. H. Nance, treasurer. The Washington general committee includes Maj. W. W. Kirby, general chairman; Judge John A. Connaughton and Earl Taggart, vice chairmen; C. N. Williams, secretary, and A. G. Bishop, treasurer.

The dedication of various sections of the new church at Thomas Circle will begin at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and will close about 5:30 p. m. Dedication of the entire building will be at sunrise Sunday.

Reception to Be Held.

Following the Communion services Sunday, a reception will be held at the Washington Hotel for all missionaries and foreign delegates. The afternoon sessions of the convention will be devoted entirely to business matters, while inspirational subjects will be discussed at the morning and evening meetings.

Among the speakers at the international convention will be Edgar De Witt Jones, of Detroit; Roger T. Noee, of Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Jesse M. Bader, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Charles Reign Scoville, A. E. Corey and Charles T. Paul, of Indianapolis; Graham Frank, of Dallas, Tex.; E. M. Wits, president of Texas Christian University; Arthur Braden, president of Transylvania University, Ky.; John D. Zimmerman, secretary of the Kansas Christian Missionary Society; John G. Alber, secretary of the Nebraska Christian Missionary Society; Rodney L. McQuary, of Anderson, Ind.; Paul Preston, of Dallas, Tex.; W. R. Warren, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Dr. H. O. Pritchard and John O. Wood, of the board of education, and Dr. Luther Weigle, of Yale University.

New Noonday Classes To Be Conducted at 'Y'

Noonday lunch hour exercise sessions for the "tired business man" have been started by the Y. M. C. A. at its downtown gymnasium, 1736 G street northwest, with classes in indoor baseball, volley ball, basket ball, handball and other competitive sports to be held daily, except Sunday.

Special hours, aside from this feature of the new fall and winter schedule, also have been arranged, with free class instruction in swimming provided at 3:30 o'clock on Mondays and Fridays, and at 7:30 o'clock on Monday nights.

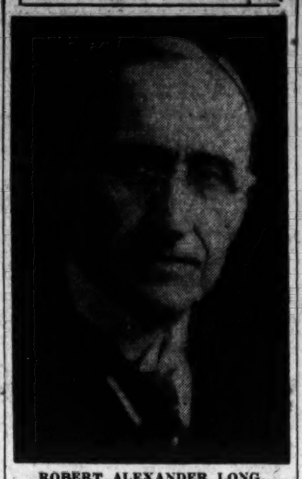
McCrory Blast Victim Asked Explosion Cause

The McCrory Stores Corporation yesterday asked the District Supreme Court to order Mrs. Lula B. Carter, of 609 Delafield place northwest, who is suing the company for injuries allegedly received in the blast last year, to explain what exploded and what caused the explosion.

Through Attorneys G. B. Craighill, C. B. Tebbs and Frank H. Myers, the corporation says that the plaintiff's declaration does not contain these allegations. The company also says that the suit fails to explain how the store was negligent in operating and maintaining the cellar.

Alexander H. Bell and P. H. Marshall, attorneys for Mrs. Carter, have been informed by the company's attorneys that the matter will be presented to the court Friday.

WILL SPEAK



ROBERT ALEXANDER LONG, president of the International Convention of Disciples of Christ, who will open the gathering with an address tonight.

Their promotion was recommended by Fire Chief George S. Watson to fill the vacancies caused by the retirement of several veterans recently. Promotion of a fourth lieutenant also probably will be made. Chief Watson is expected to submit a recommendation to the Commissioners this morning and Commissioner Herbert B. Crosby indicated yesterday that he would recommend approval by the Commissioners of the recommendations of the fire chief.

Privates who are to be promoted to sergeants are Alexander Whiteman, John N. Ankers, Vernon C. Richardson, James F. Mills, John M. Sydnor and Walter A. Weber. Other privates are to be boosted in pay to fill the places left vacant by the promotions to sergeant. They are William O. Weitzel, John R. Mowatt, Walter P. Whittington, Mason E. Wallace, Louis J. Woman Takes Dose Of Poison; Is Saved

Army Captain's Wife Picks Up Bottle Believing It Held Medicine.

Mrs. Harry C. Grayton, 36 years old, wife of an Army captain, was treated by members of the fire rescue squad and a doctor from Emergency Hospital yesterday afternoon, after she had taken a quantity of poison by mistake for a headache medicine in an apartment of a friend at 3601 Connecticut avenue northwest.

Complaining of a headache, Mrs. Grayton went to the home of Mrs. Guy Kirksey at the Broadmoor Apartments, where it is said she took the poison from a bottle. She did not look at the label, thinking the bottle contained a medicine. Had it not been for the quick arrival of the rescue squad and Dr. Samuel Benjamin, of 3532 Connecticut avenue northwest, who were summoned by Mrs. Kirksey, the dose might have proven fatal.

The Graytons arrived here a few days ago, coming from Philadelphia, and are staying temporarily at the Hostess House at Walter Reed Hospital, where Capt. Grayton is being treated for a fractured arm received in an automobile accident in Pennsylvania, while en route to Washington. Mrs. Grayton's condition is not considered serious.

Attachment Is Issued In Deadly Weapon Case

An attachment was issued for William Thomas Kirby, 25 years old, of Emery place near Belt road northwest, yesterday when he failed to appear in answer to charges made by police of the Fourteenth Precinct that he was carrying a deadly weapon when arrested and held for investigation in connection with the mysterious shooting last week of Charles W. Tucker, of 4232 Thirty-ninth street northwest.

Kirby had been held for three days, while police were carrying on an investigation of the shooting which occurred while Tucker was crossing a vacant lot near his home Friday night. Police alleged that Kirby was carrying a blackjack in his pocket when arrested. He had been released on a collateral of $50, and when he failed to answer to his name in court yesterday, Judge John P. McMahon ordered the attachment issued.

BRIDE WILL CONFER WITH STAFF TODAY

Wisconsin Avenue Property Involved in Petitions by District.

All efforts to collect street repair assessments under the Borland law may be abandoned by the District government as a result of the refusal yesterday by the United States Supreme Court to review decisions of District courts setting aside assessments levied for street improvements.

Refusal of the Supreme Court to review decisions of the District courts leave those decisions as the law which must guide in future assessments under the Borland law.

William W. Bride, corporation counsel, declared that the refusal of the highest court to review the cases was "a body blow to effective enforcement of the Borland law," but added that the decision of the Supreme Court was not "entirely unexpected" by himself and his assistants who have been handling the Borland law suits.

Conference Due Today.

Mr. Bride is to confer this morning with his assistants, Francis H. Stephens, Robert E. Lynch and W. H. Wahley. The effect of the decision will be gone over and the status in which it leaves the Borland law as an effective law which can be equitably applied to all property owners will be studied.

What recommendation will be made to the District Commissioners following the conference Mr. Bride refused to forecast, but he declared that the latest decision leaves comparatively little property which the District may legally levy against under the Borland law.

Appealing to the Supreme Court, the District's brief declared that if the District court's decision were not set aside there would be left of the Borland law "very little, if anything."

"So much property that has been assessed for highway paving will be exempted from assessments under this ruling that it would be inequitable to require other and less numerable properties to bear the burden of these assessments," the Supreme Court was told.

"The same thing is true today that was true when the brief was filed with the United States Supreme Court," Mr. Bride said in commenting on the refusal to review the adverse decisions.

Different Condition Obtains.

Mr. Bride has been opposed to the Borland law and made his opposition known some time ago, urging that it was enacted at a time when the condition of city streets was of principal concern to those owning abutting property, a condition that does not obtain today because of changed conditions due to advent of the automobile and its widespread use.

District Commissioners withheld comment on the Borland law decision yesterday, saying that they first would have to study the decision and the report which Mr. Bride is to submit.

They would give careful consideration, they said, to any proposed law which might be recommended for submission to Congress as a substitute for the Borland law.

The cases which the Supreme Court refused to review yesterday were instituted by the American Security and Trust Co., Edward B. McLean, as trustees of the estate of the late John R. McLean, and by Christian Heurich, owners of large pieces of property on Wisconsin avenue which are undivided but are used for their residences.

Points Under Dispute.

The District courts decided that the property was suburban within the meaning of the Borland law. The District contended that the highway plan called for subdividing of the estates and the cutting of streets through them. The citizens contended that the "streets" which the District said justified heavy assessments against them for paving long stretches of Wisconsin avenue were "paper" streets and probably will never be anything else.

Previous decisions against Borland assessments included a ruling that triangular or irregularly shaped property could not be assessed as the District had been assessing it.

Mr. Bride said that there are approximately 500 Borland suits pending and added that the District would make no efforts to push these until a policy had been determined by the Commissioners in view of the Supreme Court action.

Leon Tobriner represented the Heurich interests, McKenney and Flannery were the attorneys for the American Security and Trust Co. and Wilton J. Lambert appeared for Mr. McLean.

Autoist Gets Sympathy Of Court, Also $5 Fine

The sympathy of Judge Ralph Given was extended to Harry Boule, 25-year-old, colored, who was brought before him in Traffic Court yesterday morning for speeding.

"I realize that your life was in danger by reason of the possibility of your being run over by a larger car," the judge told him, "but in spite of the fact that it was a doll-baby type car you were driving I'm forced to fine you $5." The arresting policeman said Boule made 32 miles an hour.

Restraining Order Granted When Alley Is Barricaded

War clouds which loomed over the embattled and barricaded sector of Chester and W streets southeast were blown away, temporarily at least, by Justice William Hitz in District Supreme Court yesterday.

Nine of the residents of that wartorn neighborhood, led by Wilber L. Blankenship, 2225 Chester street southeast, filed a suit for injunction against Edward M. Flaherty, 2213 Chester street southeast, and William C. Flaherty, 2218 Chester street southeast, asking that the court restrain them from maintaining a blockade to an alley leading to the neighborhood garages and back doors.

Justice Hitz, acting on the request of Attorneys H. Winship Wheatley and H. Winship Wheatley, jr., granted the barricaded citizens a temporary restraining order. The justice's mandate means that the Flaherty brothers must tear down the fence they have erected. Should the hearing, which has been set for this week, be decided in their favor, they can rebuild the barricade.

According to the suit, the Flahertys claim that they own the alley and last Thursday told the neighbors that they intended to shut it off. Friday the alley was blockaded and now the citizens can not put their cars in the garage or take them out. Neither can ice and coal be delivered.

The machine age was blamed for the present unemployment yesterday by John B. Colpoys, editor of the Trade Unionist, in a talk before the first fall meeting of the Council of Social Agencies at the Y. W. C. A. He also denounced unemployment insurance.

Unemployment was attributed to the failure of the American people to put remedies they had evolved into effect by Dr. John O'Grady, director of the Catholic Charities. Dr. Leifer Magnussen, director of the Washington Branch of the International Labor Association, said that the Capital has the lowest percentage of unemployment of any city of equal size in the country.

PLAZA PLAYGROUND ABOLITION FOUGHT BY STANTON PARK

KEELER IS NOMINATED TO PRESIDENT'S POST

Police Praised by Crosby in Speech to Residents of Brookland.

Strong condemnation of the proposed abolition of the Plaza playgrounds adjoining Union Station was registered by e Stanton Park Citizens' Association meeting in the Peabody School last ni.at.

A. H. Gregory, president, was appointed chairman of a committee including Claus J. Schwartz, principal of Stewart Junior High School, and Miss M. G. Young, principal of the Peabody-Hilton-Carberry group of schools, to formulate a plan of action to preserve the grounds for the use of the District's children.

Unable to See Reason.

It was pointed out that elimination of the Plaza Playground will leave the schools of the District with no suitable grounds centrally located for holding athletic meets and contests, and the association further was unable to see any reason why the grounds, which will not be used by the Government for any other purpose for another five years or more, should not be continued in their present usage at least until proper replacement is made. If necessary, the association plans to demand congressional action to save the playground for the children.

W. W. Keeler, of 14 Eighth tsreet northeast, was nominated for presidency of the association to succeed Mr. Gregory, who has held office for two terms and declined a third on the grounds that his health and outside interests made it impossible for him to devote proper attention to the needs of the association in the future.

Officers Are Nominated.

J. P. Farmer, of 402 Eighth street northeast, and William E. Monroe, of 336 Eighth street northeast, were nominated for vice presidents to succeed Gilbert A. Clark and S. B. Frantz. Other officers nominated for reelection were Mrs. L. H. Brown, secretary; Claiborne Hunter, treasurer; Robert Bier, financial secretary, adn Mr. Gregory and Harry N. Stull, delegates to the Federation of Citizens Associations.

Other matters discussed at the meeting, but regarding which no action was taken, included the question of competition of pushcart peddlers and street venders against established merchants, and the problem of giving contracts to outside bidders and hiring outside labor on Government jobs in the District.

Kramer Again to Head Relief Group of Board

Stephen E. Kramer, first assistant superintendent of District schools, was reelected president of the Immediate Relief Association of the Board of Education at a meeting of the association yesterday afternoon.

Miss Anne M. Goding was elected vice president, succeeding Frank C. Daniel, principal of McKinley High School. A vote amending the constitution brought about an amalgamation of the offices of secretary and treasurer, and Dr. E. G. Kimball was elected to the combined office. M. O. B. Jacobs was formerly secretary and Robert L. Haycock held the office of treasurer.

Grand Jury Cases Will Be Expedited

Rover and Aids Confer With Judge Schuldt on New Method.

As a result of a conference last week between District Attorney Leo A. Royer, Assistant District Attorney John Fitzpatrick at Police Court, Judge Gus A. Schuldt and Assistant United States Attorney David A. Hart, changes will be made in methods of sending cases to the grand jury for consideration.

In a new ruling which went into effect yesterday, Police Court cases which are to be sent to the grand jury will go there immediately from the minor courtrooms, and it was decided to try all felony cases before other cases each morning so that they could be sent to the grand jury without delay.

Officials pointed out that this method would result in a saving in time, witness fees and bond for the prisoners, many of whom either waited in jail or on bond for grand jury hearings for days or even weeks under the old method.

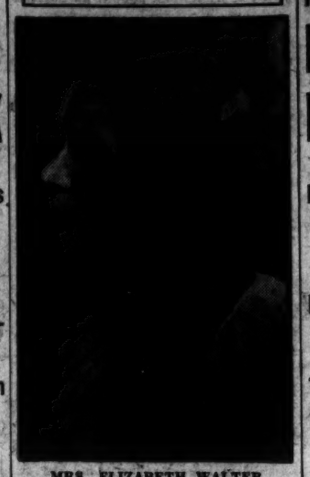
DIES IN CRASH



MRS. ELIZABETH WALTER CONVERSE.

AUTO CRASH VICTIM PAID SPEEDING FINE

Mrs. Converse's Companion, Drage, Gave $14 on Fairfax Charge.

WOMAN'S RITES TODAY

David Drage, of Kansas City, who with Mrs. Elizabeth Walter Converse, socially prominent Washingtonian, was killed early Sunday morning in an automobile accident at Falls Church, Va., had been arrested on charges of speeding at 60 or 65 miles an hour and passing cars on curves and on the brow of a hill late Saturday, it was revealed yesterday.

A. W. Mills, Fairfax County policeman, yesterday said that he had viewed the body of the young man and that he was the one whom he had arrested, though at that time Drage was driving an automobile bearing North Carolina tags and gave his address as 323 North Wrenn street, High Point, N. C.

Upon being taken before Justice of the Peace John T. Moling at Fairfax, Drage was fined $14. He said at the time that he was on his way to Warrenton, Va., whence he and Mrs. Converse were returning when they were killed.

Funeral services for Mrs. Converse will be held at her late residence, 10 East Kirk street, Chevy Chase, Md., at 11 o'clock this morning. Burial will be in Staunton, Va., beside that of her brother, who also was killed in an automobile accident.

Drage's body has been shipped to Kansas City for burial.

Man Gets 90 Days For Taking Table

Frank Watson, 41 years old, colored, failed to escape with a table he took from an apartment house hallway at 211 Delaware avenue southwest, Saturday morning, in spite of a sprint over the Capitol grounds, according to a story heard by Judge John P. McMahon, in Police Court yesterday morning.

According to the resident manager of the apartment, Mrs. Alma Williamson, Watson was seen carrying the table from the building by Postman Howard A. Maxwell when he was delivering mail to the house. He told a colored maid employed at the building, Helen Brown, that the man was taking the table away and she started after him, chasing him from the grounds near the Labor Building to the other side of the Capitol.

Her chase was not futile, according to Private R. J. Barrett of the Fourth Precinct, for when he arrived in answer to a call she still had the man by the coat holding him for the policeman. He was given a jail sentence of 90 days.

Mother's Will Gives Bequest of $1 to Son

Mrs. Effie Crouch, who died September 18, left her son, Joseph W. Crouch, only $1, according to her will filed for probate in District Supreme Court yesterday. She explains the small inheritance by saying that she made advances to him during her life time.

A stepson, Edwin, is also left only $1. Another son, John T., is given a hotel at Colonial Beach and is to share with his sister, Effie M. Kessler, the running of a barber shop business. The daughter is also to receive the house at 717 Tenth street southeast. She and John are to divide the remaining estate with the latter acting as executor.

Enforcement of Auto Parking Rule Is Urged

Stricter enforcement of the regulation prohibiting the double parking of private automobiles and giving the privilege of such parking to commercial vehicles when curb space is not available was asked of the District Commissioners yesterday by the board of governors of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association.

The board suggested this stricter enforcement rather than elimination of the regulation as recommended by the Traffic Advisory Council. The association members expressed the opinion that considerable congestion, now existing, could be done away with by stronger enforcement of the regulation instead of its abolition.

For the eighth time in ten days, a sneak thief worked in the Y. M. C. A. Building yesterday, securing $56 from a trousers' pocket in the room of John Schwartzbeck, of Sharon, Pa., while the latter was out. Grover Bell, manager of a bakery at 2100 Rhode Island avenue, reported $20 taken from the cash register. Thieves entered through a garage and window in the rear.

Clothing valued at $50 was stolen from the Frazee-Potomac Laundry, 400 Eighteenth street northwest. Loot was obtained in a third-floor storeroom.

Carson, was was indicted recently by the District grand jury in connection with his alleged actions on September 9 in holding a squad of police at bay while he intimidated Miss Annie Jennings, the girl he loved, is sane. This announcement was made yesterday by United States Attorney Leo A. Rover.

Mr. Rover made the statement shortly after receiving the report from Dr. D. Percy Hickling, District alienist. The examination was advised by Mr. Rover and Assistant United States Attorney Michael F. Keough after the father of the youth had requested it.

Policeman Cited On Abuse Charge

Representative Busby, Who Is From Mississippi, Is Complainant.

Private C. J. Garry, attached to the Third Precinct, yesterday was cited to appear before the Trial Board next week in answer to charges of abusng a Mississippi representative.

Jeff Busby, the representative who filed a complaint against the policeman, told Capt. J. P. Beckett, of the Third Precinct, that he was halted at Seventeenth street and Pennsylvania avenue by Garry for alleged failure to obey a traffic signal. Busby denied he disobeyed the signal, and in the argument which ensued Garry was said to have used profane language in directing the representative to the station house.

Garry was cited to appear before the trial board by Maj. Pratt on the recommendation of Capt. Beckett. Garry is said to have admitted calling the member of Congress a "liar, but nothing worse."

Police Can Not Halt Autos Unless Law Is Involved, Rule

The corporation counsel's office yesterday ruled that a policeman could not cause a person to be fined for not stopping when he was hailed by him unless the driver had committed a traffic violation or the officer was operating a semaphore.

The ruling was made when Earl Dixon, a cab driver who lives in Rosslyn, Va., was brought into Traffic Court by Private A. J. Loftis, of the Seventh Precinct, who told Judge Ralph Given that he had hailed Dixon while he was driving along Canal road and he failed to stop.

Loftis at the time was watching a house on Canal road in an attempt to capture an escaped prisoner. Dixon drove near the house, stopped, and started off again, when the officer hailed him. He was not caught until the policeman traced him through the automobile number.

VITAL BATTLE IN BRAZIL WAR THOUGHT NEAR

(Associated Press.)

A series of engagements along a straggly 200-mile front at the southern border of Sao Paulo State have apparently drawn Brazil's federal and insurgent armies into line for the battle reported imminent since last week.

Hard fighting at several points was announced by both sides, each claiming the victory.

The federals said the rebels had been defeated at Senges bridgehead and had left fifteen dead on the field. Federal casualties were given as six wounded.

The rebels asserted they had routed the federals after a five-hour battle betwen Affonso Camargo and Cariopolis, the hardest fought thus far of the civil war. Federal prisoners and war material were captured.

Let Rebels Retreat.

The rebels also claimed victories at Quatigua and at Gatinga, where 35 prisoners were taken.

Indications are that the struggle between the opposing forces will be decided in Sao Paulo and Parana, where the best equipped troops of both sides are concentrated.

In the Minas Geraes campaign the federals reported their troops were slowly reoccupying the big rebel state but had refrained from unnecessary fighting and were content to let the rebels retreat into remoter districts.

Both sides announced gains in outlying states, the rebels in Matto Grosso and the federals in Para.

Federals Evince Optimism.

Federal and rebel commanders are bringing up troops as fast as they can to the Sao Paulo war zone. As Sao Paulo is nearer to it than the rebel headquarters, the federals have the advantage in transportation.

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The Brazilian federal government today claimed victories over the revolutionists to the south, the west and the north, and declared that the rebels were becoming discouraged by their reverses.

The principal victories were listed as being along the 200-mile Sao Paulo-Parana front and in the southwestern region of the State of Minas Geraes.

The main battle in northern Parana occurred at Senges bridgehead, with fifteen rebels—one of them an officer—found dead on the field after the fight. Federal sources said that many insurrectos were wounded, whereas the government casualties totaled only six wounded.

Railway Changes Hands.

With the capture of this place the government troops asserted that they had driven the rebels out of the triangular western portion of Minas Geraes. The revolutionaries also were understood to have withdrawn from the vicinity of Bello Horizonte, capital of the state.

Miss Marion Roberts, red-haired chorus beauty, being questioned at police headquarters in connection with the shooting of Jack "Legs" Diamond. She is said to have occupied a room adjoining Diamond's.

Manager of Hotel Gives Police New Name in Shooting Case.

New York, Oct. 14 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—The tubercular and bullet-pierced lungs of Racketeer Jack (Legs) Diamond suffered a collapse this afternoon, and surgeon's words issuing from the Polyclinic Hospital tonight indicated that the Sunday morning shooting in the Monticello Hotel was about to become a murder.

"Patient's condition critical. There has been a pulmonary collapse," came the bulletin from Dr. C. H. Burnett, resident surgeon, at 5 p. m.

Before the collapse Diamond had been holding his own rather well, and the word had been that if he could stave off pneumonia until Thursday he stood a good chance of recovery.

Mrs. Diamond, who had visited her husband earlier in the afternoon, hurried to his bedside shortly after 6 o'clock, but remained there only ten minutes. The New York World News Service was informed that Jack was then conscious, and vaguely complained to her that he did not like his room, but still the hospital staff considered it likely that he would not last through the night.

Mrs. Diamond's brief visit was taken to indicate that Legs was not expected to die during the evening. The 8 o'clock bulletin said his condition was the same as last night—that he was resting comfortably, though in a critical condition.

An X-ray was taken today, and although the hospital announcement said it showed nothing out of the ordinary, information is that it

BANDIT LEADER IS SHOT DOWN ABOARD TRAIN

BULLET ENDS HUNT THROUGH MID-WEST

Gang Chief Is Tracked to Ozark Country by Letters That He Mailed.

Branson, Mo. Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Jake Fleagle, object of a nation-wide search after he led a band of ruthless killers in the robbery of the First National Bank, of Lamar, Colorado, in May, 1928, was wounded seriously and captured here today.

The desperado was caught as the result of a trap laid for him in the Ozark Mountain country by postal inspectors, and authorities of California, Colorado, Missouri and Arkansas.

Fleagle was confronted unexpectedly on a Missouri Pacific passenger train which he boarded here to travel to Hollister, a nearby town.

Reached for Pistol.

One shot was fired and the bandit leader fell with a bullet in his abdmoen. After a brief struggle his weapon was wrested from him. None of the officers would reveal who fired the shot.

The prisoner was taken to Springfield, Mo., late today to undergo an operation. If he recovers, he will be returned to Colorado to face trial for murder.

Three Were Hanged.

Four men were killed by the Lamar robbers and three members of the gang already have paid with their lives on the gallows at the Colorado Penitentiary at Canon City.

Those executed for their part in the robbery were Ralph Fleagle, brother of Jake, George J. Abshier and Howard Royston.

In the holdup, A. N. Parrish, president of the bank, and his son, John, Cashier, were shot and killed.

E. A. Kessinger, a teller, was taken as a hostage by the bandits and later slain after they escaped into western Kansas.

The other victim was Dr. William Wineinger, of Dighton, Kans. The physician was lured from his home to treat one of the wounded robbers. Then he was killed, the gang believing he might identify the Fleagles, who lived on a ranch near Garden City, Kans.

Tracked to Ozarks.

Fleagle was tracked to the Ozark country by postal inspectors through letters he had mailed. It was discovered after his capture that he had a gunshot wound in the wrist, which physicians said had been inflicted about ten days ago, indicating he may have had a recent brush with the law.

At one time rewards on the bandit leader's head totaled $55,000. Officials of the Colorado Bankers Association said today, however, that some of the offers had been withdrawn and only $4,000 remained posted in that State.

Postal inspectors pressed a relentless search for the desperado in the belief that he had a hand in the robbery of a Southern Pacific mail train at Pittsburg, Calif., June 22, 1929, when $17,000 loot was obtained.

Officers on Train.

Postal inspectors and other officers had been secretly combing the Ozark country for several weeks, after establishing that Fleagle was in hiding in this region.

The capture today, however, was a chance one. On the train which

LEWIS COUNTS ON REPUBLICAN AID IN ILLINOIS

Democratic Trend Seen Throughout State by Observers.

MRS. O'NEIL FACTOR IN SENATE BATTLE

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—There is an indisputable Democratic trend in this State. As to whether it will trend far enough to elect J. Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, to the United States Senate remains to be seen.

To say the least, a Democrat coming into this State just now would find things most heartening. For one thing, all he would hear would be Lewis. One runs into any number of deep-rooted Republicans, or people whom he has come to consider such, who say now that for many reasons they intend to vote for J. Ham.

"Well, a woman has no place in the Senate for one thing," they say, "and again, this prohibition business has come to be pretty rotten."

Then they go on to talk of hard times in explaining why "hundreds of others" intend to vote for J. Ham. They do not give this as their own reason, but the more one talks with them the more he is convinced that opposition to a woman serving in the Senate and prohibition are not their fundamental reasons. Perhaps it is that all things cnosidered they are ready for a new deal.

Lewis Called Lucky.

Now one encounters this feeling to a surprising degree among people with whom it has been his wont to meet and talk with in past years. It is striking. It is significant. To predict J. Ham's election on the strength of it is something else again. There are many slips betwixt the cup and lip.

There are two traditions, however, which should be dispelled in any discussion of the situation. One is that Illinois is an overwhelmingly Republican State and that J. Ham is a most lucky candidate. That the dapper gentleman does very well on the hustings is probably true, but after all he has never gotten very far with this so-called great campaigning ability of his.

It is not generally understood that the gentleman's one term in the Senate was by virtue of the Legislature and then it was a case of the Democrats and the Progressives getting together to deny the regulars in 1912. Prior to that time J. Ham, born in Virginia and reared in Georgia or vice versa and moved thence to Washington, had served once in the House from that State. Then he had served on a general's staff in the Spanish American War, settled in Chicago and had himself appointed corporation counsel or something of the sort.

Defeated by McCormick.

The first time he faced the electorate in this State was when Medill McCormick opposed him in the senatorial race of 1918 and defeated him. After that J. Ham ran for governor and was defeated by Gov. Dunne. So as a successful campaigner he is not so "hot." That he is a campaigner of some sort is evidenced by the crowds he is drawing now.

The old man's activity belies the whispering campaign against him. He is posing as 65 when everybody whispers to you that he is at least 75. If he is the latter he is the gayest old bird that ever took the stump. He is speaking four and five times a day.

And so is the Widow McCormick. Mrs. Lottie O'Neill is driving her

Calvin Coolidge

Says: In almost all peace time governmental decisions economic results are a dominant motive. The imperial conference among the dominions of the British Empire now being held at London is largely given up to questions of trade regulations. The delegate from Canada proposed an empire policy of protection good against the rest of the world with preference among the different dominions.

The most important decision of the conference was made by Chancellor Snowden in announcing that the present government would not favor the adoption of such a policy. This came after the declaration favorable to the principle by Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservatives.

A counterproposal has come from the board of trade, pledging Great Britain to purchase a certain percentage of her imports from the dominions. But in this there will be difficulties of allocation. Protection for a compact country like the United States is entirely different from applying the policy to a world empire.

The desire of trade to buy in the cheapest and sell in the highest market then makes all artificial restrictions exceedingly problematical. Each dominion would have to make some sacrifice. The decision of the British cabinet will have a very important effect on world trade.

Campbell Counsel Plan to Probe for Third Gun Slug.

EXPERTS DISAGREE ON FATAL WEAPON

GARMENTS OF GIRL WILL BE EXAMINED

Government Attorney Gives Permission for Tests After Parley.

Exhumation of Mary Baker's body, which is resting in the community cemetery in Oak Grove, Va., will be asked by defense counsel in order to locate a bullet which is deemed essential to the defense of Herbert M. Campbell, it was learned by The Post last night.

Coupled with this startling development in the celebrated murder case is the report of Dr. Albert H. Hamilton in which he claims that the pistol, turned over to authorities by Campbell, is not the gun which fired the mortal bullets.

Decision to compel exhumation of the body was reached after Robert Hamilton, son of the ballistics expert, discovered that there were only two mortal bullets in the hands of the Government, while three shots had been fired into the girl.

Post Files Consulted.

Young Hamilton had read back numbers of The Washington Post and found the report of an autopsy performed by Coroner H. B. Swain, of Arlington County, in which the condition of the girl's body was described.

The third bullet, which entered her back and did not emerge, was buried with the body. It is considered essential by the defense that this slug be produced in court. Defense counsel points to the fact that the authorities do not know the caliber of this bullet.

Two Gun, New Theory.

There is a possibility, they said, that two guns may have been used in the killing. Perhaps, they said, the bullet in her back may have been fired by an automatic, while the others found were revolver ammunition. Charles Henry Smith, chief defense counsel has declared his intention of demanding that this missing evidence be presented in court.

If the Government does not exhume the body and obtain the bullet it is known that the defense will demand that the bullet be placed in evidence before the case is sent to the jury.

In the earlier autopsy, the doctors probed for it but could not locate it. X-ray will be used to find it if necessary.

Clash of Experts Seen.

Dr. Hamilton's verdict that Campbell's gun is not the death weapon was submitted to Mr. Smith last night at a conference between defense representatives. His decision insures the first clash between Col. Calvin Goddard and Dr. Hamilton when the case goes to court on Tuesday.

The expert's report specifies that his examination of the bullet which was taken from the girl's side shows that it was fired by smokeless powder. The ammunition turned over to authorities by Campbell has black powder, which is smoky.

On the mortal bullet, Dr. Hamilton said, were unmistakable traces of ingredients used in smokeless powder.

POLICE FIGHT REDS IN BOSTON STREETS

GREEN REGRETS BRAWL

Boston, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Fifteen persons, five of them women, were arrested today during a battle between police and a group of 50 Communists who attempted to invade the national convention of the American Federation of Labor.

For fully 20 minutes the Communists and police, hemmed in by a crowd of more than 1,000 spectators, fought outside the Hotel Bradford, where the federation was in session.

Heads were cracked and police uniforms were torn while patrol wagons rushed police reserves to the scene from a nearby precinct station. Taxicabs pressed into service as patrol wagons were filled while Communists struggled to rescue the prisoners.

The Communists gave advance warning of their intention to stage a demonstration today. For the past several days hand bills were circulated, calling upon the "militant workers of Boston" to join in a demonstration today.

When the labor convention opened this morning, police were on duty outside the hotel and in the corridors leading to the convention hall, but this detail was inadequate to handle the fighting radicals.

Shortly before noon the Communists paraded to the hotel, carrying Communist placards and were promptly ordered away by the police. An attempt then was made to hold a meeting in the street, but the first speaker who attempted to address the gathering was placed under arrest.

Angry Communists tried to rescue him and the battle began. Traffic on Tremont street was paralyzed while the screams of women Communists increased the bedlam.

Mounted police and squads of reserves finally dispersed the mob, but not before Police Capt. Jeremiah Gallivan had been beaten by the rioters.

Meanwhile the labor convention was in session inside the hotel. Later,

260 SHEEP BURNED IN FREIGHT BLAZE

FIRE CAUSE UNKNOWN

A large stock shed and six freight cars containing nearly 260 sheep were destroyed last night by a fire of undetermined origin in the Potomac freight yards at Alexandria, Va.

According to employes of the yard, the blaze started about 8:30 p. m. and rapidly gained headway before fire appartus could be summoned from Alexandria.

When firemen arrived, the stock shed covering a half mile at one end of the yards, was completely destroyed and two freight cars loaded with sheep were too far gone to be saved.

Vainly fighting to save four more cars standing nearby, employes and firemen were forced to stand aside until the flames died down in order to get near enough to play water on the blaze.

At a late hour last night R. N. Colvin, superintendent of the yards could not be located to give an estimate of the damage.

The blaze could be seen for miles around. The District Fire Board was kept busy answering calls from persons believing the fire to be in the city.

At one time, when flames threatened to spread to other buildings and freight cars close by, firemen thought it would be necessary to call fire apparatus from the District, but the Alexandria volunteer companies confined the flames to one portion of the yards by playing large streams of water on threatened spots.

Several hundred persons, attracted by the reflection of the fire, flocked to the scene, hampering brakemen and watchmen who were attempting to keep the tracks on which trains were due to pull into the yards clear.

W. J. Jones, a clerk in the superintendent's office, last night estimated damage at about $7,000.

RIOTERS AT SPANISH COLLEGE JEER KING

STRIKERS ATTACK CAR

Madrid, Oct. 14. (A.P.)—One of Spain's greatest universities, that at Barcelona, today was closed by a vote of the deans and all classes suspended indefinitely because of grave disorders within its precints, involving what authorities characterized as gross disrespect for the king. Reopening will not occur until after today's riot, has been fully cleared up.

Investigators were ordered to find leaders of some 500 students who, at midday, stormed the main assembly hall and took from it a portrait of Alfonso, burning it in the yard after cutting out the head, which they mounted on a pole and paraded about the grounds.

Additional importance was attached to the incident because, authorities said, it was evident that Communists or other agitators had enrolled in classes for the purpose of inciting hostility toward the government.

DROP BORLAND LAW, BRIDE RECOMMENDS

LAID BEFORE CITY HEADS

More than $1,000,000 in special assessments under the Borland law will be saved to hundreds of individual property owners and lost to the municipal treasury if the District Commissioners approve a recommendation made to them yesterday by William W. Bride, corporation counsel.

Mr. Bride recommended that the Commissioners cease attempting to enforce the Borland law, which has been more and more restricted by decisions of District courts with the tacit approval of the United States Supreme Court. He recommended, too, that the Commissioners cancel all assessments levied or collected under the Borland act for three years back.

His recommendation was made verbally at a regular executive meeting of the Board of Commissioners, but decision was withheld by the city heads, who asked their legal adviser to submit his recommendations in a written report as soon as feasible.

At the same time the Commissioners asked that William P. Richards,

Mrs. Alma McKinley, Abducted From Missouri Home by Armed Man, Telephones She Is Safe; Ransom Ruse Obtains Her Freedom.

Greenfield, Mo., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Mrs. Alma Wilson McKinley, 24, daughter of Benton Wilson, wealthy oil man here, who was kidnaped from her parents' home last night, telephoned late today from Stockton, 20 miles north of Greenfield, that she had been released and was returning home. Her father and husband immediately started out to meet her.

Mrs. McKinley, an expectant mother, informed her parents that the kidnaper had demanded $10,000, but released her after she said that the only way he could get the money would be to free his prisoner.

Mrs. McKinley said that her automobile, in which she was forced away from her home here, stalled near Jericho Springs, about 20 miles from Greenfield, and that she spent last night under a tarpaulin in the woods. She was not harmed.

Her kidnaper, Mrs. McKinley added, said that he was a member of a gang of five, but she did not see any other men. Shortly before Mrs. McKinley called from Stockton her automobile was found by a farmer approximately 25 miles northwest of Greenfield. It was deserted.

Harold McKinley, the husband, a former University of Missouri football player, and three brothers of Mrs. McKinley had been in posses which were searching every byroad and abandoned farm in this and adjacent counties.

Speeding out Connecticut avenue northwest, following the truck of the Fire Rescue Squad which had been called to revive a gas victim, a police patrol car struck George H. Roney, a watchmaker of 3940 Livingston street, early last night seriously injuring him.

Roney was removed to Georgetown Hospital where it was reported that he was suffering from a fractured collarbone, multiple bruises and lacerations. He may also have a fractured skull.

According to witnesses, the accident occurred at Connecticut avenue and Livingston street northwest as Roney, who had just left a street car, stepped around in front of that vehicle into the center of the street. It was reported that the police car passed to the left of the car rather than between the car and the curb, in order to avoid hitting passengers just leaving the car.

The injured man was hurled 20 feet by the force of the collision. The police car, driven by Private Arthur H. Gaibar of the Fourteenth Precinct, abandoned the job of trailing the rescue squad and rushed Mr. Roney to the hospital. Witnesses said the fender of the police car was badly smashed where it struck Mr. Roney.

The Rescue Squad had been called to an address on Quesada place

Campbell's ammunition, he said, is composed of different explosive ingredients composed largely of charcoal, sal petre and sulphuric acid.

Difference in Guns Noted.

Furthermore, Dr. Hamilton said, the gun which fired the mortal bullets was an American-made gun of a better grade than the Campbell weapon. He determined this point after microscopic scrutiny. The expert pointed out that all the markings on the fatal bullet were uniform, while there was a great variation in the traces made on bullets fired from the suspected pistol.

The experts today will make minute examination of girl's clothes.

Permission for the examination was given by Assistant United States Attorney William H. Collins at the conclusion of an all-day examination yesterday of the pistol and bullets which the Government says Campbell used in the murder.

Dr. Hamilton and his son yesterday made exhaustive microscopic examination of the gun and the death bullets, and obtained ten samples of slugs fired through the gun for their test purposes.

Disagreement Arises.

There was a slight disagreement between the experts and the Government when Dr. Hamilton and his son asked permission to insert a bullet into the muzzle. Mr. Collins, on the advice of Dr. Wilmer Souder, of the Bureau of Standards, and Lieut. John Fowler, ballistics experts, at first declined the permission.

Government experts believed that the insertion might alter the contour of the muzzle from which traces are placed on the bullets.

Sought to Make Comparison.

Dr. Hamilton said his purpose in inserting the bullet into the muzzle end was to obtain a record of grooves, widths, and an impression made on the bullet for comparison with the death bullets.

They closely examined the interior of the barrel of Campbell's gun with their microscope and other instruments. The group then went from a jury room in the District Supreme Court Building to Police Headquarters, where the experts fired shots from the pistol into cotton.

Mr. Hamilton showed the Government experts that he had numbered each slug and each shell so that he could determine from which shell each bullet was fired. Government experts said that the number on the slugs would deface the bullet and alter the marks on it made by the barrel. However, Mr. Collins permitted the bullets to be used.

Virginian Named For Tariff Post

J. F. Bethune to Represent American Commission in Europe.

(Associated Press.)

John F. Bethune, of Falls Church, Va., was appointed by the Tariff Commission yesterday as its representative in Europe, with headquarters at Brussels. Mr. Bethune, who has been secretary of the commission for the past eleven years, will enter upon his new duties early next year.

An announcement by the commission said that it expected through Mr. Bethune's new work to "accompliah much in removing misunderstandings on the part of European countries concerning the American tariff and its operation, and in securing foreign data for use of the commission."

Mr. Bethune's appointment is another step in reorganization of the commission under the Hawley-Smoot act and was regarded as further evidence that the commission intends to attach great importance to the foreign aspects of the tariff.

CREDITORS PETITION FOR NEW RECEIVER

Prince & Whitely Capital Branch Is Managed by Smythe, They Say.

WANT NEUTRAL PARTY

Suit was filed in District Supreme Court yesterday by Ernest Coblenzer and Lillian Sommers, of Washington, to have Bernard A. Smythe's appointment as an ancillary receiver for G. Lisle Foreman and others, operating as Prince & Whitely, set aside and a new receiver appointed.

The petitioners claim they are creditors of the firm, which recently was put into the hands of a receiver in New York and suspended from the stock exchange. They assert that $500 is due Ernest Coblenzer and $1,500 to Lillian Sommers.

In their petition they aver that on October 10, Bruce B. Derrick, Florence K. Middaugh and Mary Weir Seelan petitioned the court for appointment of a receiver for the Washington branch of the firm and that Mr. Smythe was duly qualified after posting bond of $100,000.

Now, however, the new plaintiffs assert that Smythe has for a long time been associated with the Washington office of Prince & Whitely, occupying and still does occupy, the position of manager of said office. It is for this reason they ask appointment of a disinterested party as receiver instead of the appointee.

The suit was filed by Lawrence J. Heller. Justice Jesse C. Adkins yesterday issued an order requiring the original petitioner and the receiver to appear Friday to show cause why the petition for a new receiver should not be granted.

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—A committee of creditors of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Prince & Whitely, which failed last week, has been formed to consider settlement of its affairs, the law firm retained by the committee announced today.

The committee is composed of Joseph Davies, of Washington, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission; Joseph Castle, ice cream manufacturer of Newark, N. J.; Guy C. Gabrielson, former speaker of the New Jersey Legislature; C. R. Blank and Walter Matthewson, of Chicago.

Andree Held Trip Suicide, Aid in Far North Asserted

Wellman, Who Four Times Sought Pole, Quotes Dane's Island Assistant That Balloonist Feared to Delay Flight; Relates Own Transatlantic Attempt.

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Another chapter of the tragic story of Solomon Auguste Andree was brought back out of the shadowy past today by Walter Wellman, who set out twenty years ago tomorrow from Atlantic City in the dirigible America on the first attempted aerial voyage across the Atlantic.

Four years before, in the America—a little airship not more than a fourth as large as the R-101—Mr. Wellman had attempted to fly over the North Pole from the same base, on Dane's Island, whence started the ill-fated Andree balloon expedition in 1897.

"One of the men who had worked for Andree up there, worked for me," Mr. Wellman said today, "and he told me that Andree believed he was committing suicide when he set off for the North Pole in his balloon, but that he went any way, because he was afraid of public criticism."

Andree was supposed to start for the North Pole in his balloon in 1896, Mr. Wellman said, but he failed to get away. He was severely criticized by the newspapers, and it hurt him deeply.

Mr. Wellman, in his seventy-second year now, had other stories to tell today—reminiscences of years in Washington as a newspaper correspondent, of four attempts to reach the North Pole, twice with dog sleds and twice by air, and of that first attempt to fly across the Atlantic.

On a foggy Saturday morning, twenty years ago tomorrow, the America set out on her gallant attempt to chart an aerial path cross the Atlntic. She trailed behind her in the water a long serpent of steel casks in which were stored surplus fuel and supplies. This device was known as an "equilibrator," and it was supposed to serve as ballast. Fogs and storms—which every flier knows about now, but of which no aeronaut had any idea in those days—lay head of her.

Four days later, 1,000 miles east of Cape Hatteras, her crew brought her down near the water, cut loose the lifeboat that had swung underneath. The ship dropped to the Atlantic with a mighty splash, and from the deck of a steamer that rescued them they watched the airship's bag, almost empty of hydrogen now, drift away.

For three nights and more than three days they had fought with wind and weather. Once in the dark and fog, they missed by inches the masts of a schooner, whose crew, seeing the America's black bag, with her engine exhaust pipes red hot, come at them out of the dark sky, were frightened almost out of their wits.

Once she almost exploded. On the third morning the sun came out, the hydrogen in her bag began to expand, and she shot up to an altitude of 3,600 feet.

"They'd opened the air valve instead of the gas valve," Mr. Wellman said. "We didn't get that gas valve open a second too soon. And, then, when we did open it, we were through. We had let out so much gas that we knew when the sun went down and the gas contracted she would no longer stay up. We were so short of hydrogen before that happened that we'd had to break up one of our three motors, which was out of commission, and throw it overboard."

Since that adventure Mr. Wellman has never ridden in any kind of aircraft. He has never been up in an airplane. But he believes in airplanes as the future masters of the air.

TRIBUTES ARE PAID TO LANSBURGH FIRM

Luncheon of Advertising Club Honors Store on 70th Anniversary.

DR. SIMON IS SPEAKER

With officers, executives, employes and friends of the store gathered before a distinguished assemblage of officials and leaders of civic life in the Capital, the Advertising Club of Washington yesterday paid tribute to the firm of Lansburgh & Bro. on the occasion of the store's seventieth anniversary. The celebration of the Ad Club marking this event was held in the National Press Club.

In conjunction with the observance of the store's anniversary, the club also honored 54 living and dead members of the firm's staff who, since its founding in 1860, served 25 years or more continuously as Lansburgh employes.

Tracing the history of the organization from the beginning of the store, founded by Gustave and Max Lansburgh, Dr. Abram Simon, rabbi of the Washington Hebrew Congregation and guest speaker, paid tribute to the policies which have kept the Lansburgh firm in the field of business in the Capital for 70 years. He said in part:

"America stood on the brink of a sizzling volcano of the Civil War in 1860. Yet vigorous young men of the Lansburgh clan were undeterred in launching their business career in that critical hour. My interest in this celebration is personal and unique, and it harks back to three years before the firm of Lansburgh & Bro. was organized. The father of the Lansburgh sons was the Rev. S. M. Lansburgh, chosen as the first rabbi of the Washington Hebrew Congregation in 1857.

Early History Traced.

"He bequeathed to his sons his acute mind for the manufacture and sale of cloth. It is quite encouraging to members of my profession to know that the proverbial minister's sons have made good in their chosen department of life.

"The firm of Lansburgh & Bro., consisting originally of Gustave and Max, called itself 'The Fancy Goods Agency,' at 322 C street, above the Bank of Washington. By the year 1866, the brothers were operating two stores. One was called the Metropolitan Dry Goods Store, at 515 Seventh street, in the Intelligence Building, while the other at 375 Seventh street was called 'The Baltimore Bargain Store.' Every advertisement carried the name as Lansburgh & Bro.

"The nondescript names of the stores were soon abandoned, the upper Seventh street store sold; the lower Seventh street store gave greater promise of success; Brother Max gave way to Brother James, and by 1870 the firm began its phenomenal and progressive expansion."

Integrity, window display, newspaper advertising and service were stressed by Rabbi Simon as the principal points in the sucess of Lansburgh & Bro.

Honor Roll Is Read.

Charles J. Columbus, managing director of the Advertising Club, followed Dr. Simon to the speakers' platform, where he read the roll of honor of the firm, those who served 25 years or more. Plan for Traction Curb Abandoned

Montgomery Commissioners Heed Protests; Concrete Strip to Be Used.

The Montgomery County commissioners yesterday decided to abandon their plan to construct a curb along the tracks of the Washington Railway & Electric Co. on Wisconsin avenue between Bradley lane and the Old Georgetown pike, in view of the protests of the Montgomery County Civic Federation and nine civic bodies of that area, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Benjamin C. Perry, president of the board of county commissioners, who is in charge of the Bethesda area.

The plan as revised will provide for a 12-foot strip of concrete along each side of the car tracks for a distance of 3,000 feet. When the project is completed, the paved roadway on the east side will be as wide as that on the right-hand side.

Dr. Perry explained that he had favored having the street car company raise its tracks and pave its right of way, but the company declined, and he had felt that the curb would be a palliative measure. The street car tracks are a foot below the road level at some places. In view of the opposition to the curb by the citizens, he will again take up the matter of raising the car track bed with the railway company, he said.

Southern Railway Dividend to Stay

Stockholders Told It Is Not to Be Cut as Business Drops.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Fairfax Harrison, reelected today as president of the Southern Railway Co., told the stockholders of the company at their annual meeting here that the railway expects to maintain its present common dividend in spits of decreased business.

Mr. Harrison was reelected president along with Gaspar G. Bacon, of Massachusetts; Jeremiah Milbank, of New York, and Jackson E. Reynolds, of New York, as directors for terms of three years. This was the only business transacted. The directors met afterward and reelected all officers.

The railway management, Mr. Harrison said, does not expect to cut or pass its dividends, and present prospects are for their maintenance through 1930 and 1931. A comparative report for the eight months ending August 31, 1930, showed revenues of $80,984,879, as compared with $94,011,703 for the same period of 1929, a decline of 13.86 per cent. FULL SAIL AHEAD!

In the old days when crossing the ocean was a hazardous adventure, mariners gave that order at the first sight of land. To see solid earth just ahead heightened morale, produced a sense of security from dangers safely passed, and encouraged crew and passengers to be patient a little while, because the happy landing was close at hand.

The good ship "America" is nearing land after a hazardous journey. Adverse winds of false inflation, black skies of tight credit and heavy seas of unemployment made it discouraging—but solid earth is sighted, and to every industry and every individual the order now is, Full Sail Ahead!

To help every branch of business to function normally and at its highest peak, it is wisdom now to spend some of our hoarded dollars—to let out our sails that we so wisely reefed during the storm.

Whether or not you were hit by the storm, you must realize that there is no such thing as easy money, and that the safe investment of your savings is in the purchase of a home—a well-located piece of business property—or an apartment house. Prices are lower than they have been for years.

We have a list of homes from every section of the city, so attractively priced and termed that you are sure to find your dream house in it. We have also an exclusive, private list of business properties and apartment houses that represent financial security for you and your family. Truly this is a buyer's market—you should make the most of it.

This country HAS weathered the gale with the same determination that staged our marvelous come-back in 1922. We are headed for good times—enjoy them in your own home or by owning a substantial piece of investment property in the Nation's Capital.

ACCUSER MUST FACE COURT, JUDGE RULES

Information Given Outside Not Evidence, He Says, Freeing Four.

RUM CASE IS DISMISSED

A man has a right to be faced with all witnesses who testify against him, according to a ruling made by Judge Robert E. Mattingly in Police Court yesterday, when charges of selling liquor were heard against Jacob and Rosa Tebeleff, Thomas Cornell and William A. Fling, who were being tried together.

His opinion was delivered when testimony an informer had given before a United States commissioner was brought into court as evidence for the prosecution. The informer had purchased liquor from each of the defendants, according to his statement.

"Until informers are put on the stand I will not rule the raid as being according to law," the judge stated. "Every man accused of a violation of the law is guaranteed by the Constitution the right to face his accuser in court.

"The informer, in some cases, might even be a convict or a perjurer, or a man of the highest character, but an ex parte hearing before the commissioner is not evidence enough for me to convict a person on."

Assistant Attorney David A. Hart stated yesterday that the ruling of Judge Mattingly differed from that of some of the other judges. Mr. Hart said he was not in a position to adopt different tactics at the present time.

Statue of Jefferson Davis Given Permanent Location

Underwood & Underwood.
The statue of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy, which has been placed in Statuary Hall, at the Capitol, and which will be unveiled shortly with appropriate ceremonies.

Bronze of Confederacy's Chief Stands Next to Figure of Grant.

After more than six months of delay, the bronze statue of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy, which is to be unveiled in Statuary Hall at the Capitol shortly after Congress reconvenes, yesterday was placed in its permanent location between the statues of Grant and Muehlenberg.

The statue is the work of Augustus Lukeman, of Virginia and New York, the sculptor who created "The Circuit Rider" which stands on Sixteenth street. It has been in Statuary Hall since April, but unveiling has been postponed because of the need for replacing a defective pedestal. The new pedestal is of mahogany-colored Tennessee marble.

When it was first decided by the State of Mississippi to present the statue to Congress, a commision was appointed which elected a location by a window in the southeast corner of Statuary Hall.

Artists declare that from an artistic standpoint, because of its unusual lighting qualities, this was the most desirable spot in the entire hall for a bronze piece. Repreentatives of the State, however, decided that the position was not prominent enough, and demanded the new location.

Three Lives Lost As Flood Recedes

Two Bodies Found in Car and Texan Drowned Trying to Cross Creek.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—A death toll of at least three persons was recorded today as flood waters receded in many sections of Texas and work of rehabilitation was started.

The bodies of Earl Calhoun, of Eldorado, and E. M. Duke, of Del Rio, were found in the South Concho River near San Angelo in Colhoun's automobile. The machine apparently was washed downstream when the men attempted a crossing. R. W. Brown, of Canadian, was drowned in Cageby Creek on his ranch. He had tried to cross the stream on horseback.

Reports from the flooded area indiacte the high water is subsiding rapidly. The Brady River has returned to its banks. Residents of Brady again are scraping silt from their properties, a previous deposit being made in another flood only eight days ago. Railway traffic is still cripple especially in the vicinity of Amarillo, where several briges were washe away.

BRIDE PROPOSES DROPPING OF LAW

assessor, prepare a statement showing just what money is involved. An informal and rough estimate placed the figure at something like $1,000,000 if cancellations were restricted to the last three years. How much of the assessments have been paid in without protest and how much has been withheld by property owners in protesting against the unpopular law has not been determined.

Whatever the Commissioners may do within their legal power, the whole question will have to go to Congress for determination at its next session. What Congress will do is open to doubt. Repeal of the Borland law has been recommended in the past. Mr. Bride was one of those who said the law placed an unfair burden on property owners, and he started out to gather information about the laws in other cities. When he had completed his inquiry he said nothing about the data he had collected because it showed that there were similar laws in cities throughout the country as burdensome or more so than the District law.

It was the existence of these laws in their old home towns which made it impossible for District officials in the past to convince members of Congress that repeal of the Borland law would not be a gift to District residents and would simply mean another contribution from the Federal Government.

Two factors have entered the situation to act to change the future consideration of the question. One of these is the gasoline tax. In his annual report Mr. Bride recommended doubling the District gasoline tax to 4 cents a gallon as a substitute for the Borland law.

More important than this, however, is the fact that the decision of the United States Supreme Court not to upset the decisions of the District courts against the Borland law will serve as a precedent for similar attacks by property owners throughout the country and probably with the same results.

In the meantime the situation of the District Commissioners is not an especially easy one, because of the complications arising out of the conflict of law and equity and inevitable future lawsuits if they seek to enforce what the courts have left of the Borland law, to say nothing of what to do about rearranging their annual estimates to provide moneys for street improvements in the future, and, more immediately what to do about street improvements which were planned for this year under the Borland law assessment system.

Youth Convention Starts in Capital

Parley Launched in Union With Meeting of Disciples.

While the third international convention of Disciples of Christ is in progress this week at the Washington Auditorium, younger members of the brotherhood will hold a "youth convention," starting today at the Luther Place Memorial Church, with general headquarters at the Vermont Avenue Christian Church.

Among Washingtonians who will play an active part in the "youth convention" are the Rev. M. Elmore Turner, pastor of the Tacoma Park Christian Church; Miss Katherine Willfley, daughter of the pastor of the Vermont Avenue Christian Church, and Mrs. Cora Hazes, general chairman on local arrangements, of the Fifteenth Street Christian Church.

"Sharing World Highways With Jesus" with be the discussion theme for the conference. This has been separated into four general outlines: "Highway of Economic Justice," "Highway of Racial Brotherhood," "Highway of World Peace," and "Highway of Christian Unity." The convention will close with a banquet Saturday evening at Calvary Baptist Church. The delegates to the "youth convention" also will participate in dedication of the new National City Christian Church at Thomas Circle.

DEATH OF DIAMOND NEAR AS LUNGS FAIL

Meanwhile, the missing star witness, John M. Ginsburg, dapper little manager of the Monticello, who had laid the wounded gangster on his own bed and then vanished from the hotel almost as quickly as the smoke from the assassins' pistols that shot diamond four times, gave himself up to District Attorney Crain, through his attorney, Hyman Bushel.

Mr. Ginsburg contributed a considerable share to the large supply of apparent ignorance already gleaned from the several persons who were at the scene immediately before and after the shooting.

Yet Mr. Ginsburg did contribute an important new name to the inquiry, that of one Harry Drescher, who was staying in the hotel.

"Get Harry Drescher up here," Diamond told Ginsburg as he collapsed on the hotel manager's bed, and Ginsburg did so.

"Who done it?" Drescher asked Diamond, but Ginsburg admits hearing no answer. There Drescher fades out of the Ginsburg story, but he assumed immediate importance in the schedules of searching detectives.

At police headquarters they knew there was a bondsman of that name, and from the records they plucked the pedigree of a gentleman so named who had been in and out of the workhouse for the last fifteen years on narcotics charges. He was last released in May, 1930.

The Ginsburg story also indicated that the car with a New Jersey license seen leaving the hotel just after the shooting may have been that in which he was departing with his friend, Wallace D. Bennett.

With Ginsburg came his wife and their 3-year-old son, Harold, equally unable to give any clues. They were not detained, but Ginsburg was detained as a material witness in $25,000 bail, which Mr. Bushel said he could not furnish, and marched away in the custody of Capt. John Appel, a determined looking detective.

FINANCIERS' PARLEY WITH HOOVER BARED

LEAVE TO BE EXTENDED

A nocturnal conference between President Hoover on one hand and Richard Whitney and Allen Lindley, president and vice president, respectively, of the New York Stock Exchange, on the other, took place at the White House Sunday, it was disclosed late yesterday.

The usual speculation followed news of the conference, but nothing official was given out as to just what was discussed. The impression was given, however, that the conference was not of any great significance.

Mr. Whitney, a close friend of the President since the days when they did war work together, called the White House after the President's return from the Rapidan on Sunday and asked for the conference. The President not only granted that request but asked Mr. Whitney and Mr. Lindley to dinner.

Wilbur to Stay in Cabinet.

President Hoover yesterday announced that Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur will remain in his Cabinet as Secretary of the Interior. In order to make this possible, he said, Leland Stanford University at Palo Alto, Calif., will extend Dr. Wilbur's leave of absence as long as is necessary.

The President's announcement was occasioned by a story that appeared in the Stanford Daily a few days ago. According to this, Dr. Wilbur's two-year leave of absence as president of the university had expired, and the trustees were prepared to demand either that he return to his post or that he resign.

Dr. Wilbur's continued absence, the student paper said, is seriously hampering the school's progress.

In announcing yesterday that Dr. Wilbur would remain, President Hoover, who is an alumnus of Leland Stanford, said that his Cabinet aid was too valuable a man to spare from the Government service, and, with a smile, he added:

"As one of the trustees, I can speak with more authority than a student publication."

To See One Football Game.

President Hoover also announced yesterday that, with the exception of a brief journey to see a football game, he will make no more trips away from Washington until Congress convenes the first Monday in December.

It is virtually certain that the football game which the President will witness will be the Navy-Princeton clash at Princeton, October 25.

Among those who called on the President yesterday was Eliot Wadsworth, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who has just returned from the Republic of Santo Domingo, whither he went as the President's personal representative to make a survey of the damage done by the hurricane of two months ago.

Mr. Wadsworth told the President that the natives were working like beavers to repair the damage done by the storm, and said that he had been very much impressed by their energy and fortitude.

Damage in 20-Mile Radius.

The damage, Mr. Wadsworth said, was confined in a radius of 20 miles of the city of Santo Domingo.

Within this area, he said, temporary shelters have been erected to take care of the homeless. Fortunately, he said, no epidemics of sickness have yet broken out.

From a financial standpoint, Mr. Wadsworth said, Santo Domingo is confronted with a real problem. This, he said, arises not alone from the hurricane, but from the severe drop in the prices on sugar, tobacco, and cacao, three of the republic's leading commodities.

A financial program to help the republic probably will be worked out in the near future when Elias Brache and Roberto Despradel come here to confer with officials of the American Government.

16 Naval Vessels To Be Withdrawn

Destroyers Will Be Laid Up Under Economy Plans of Service.

(Associated Press.)

Twelve destroyers will be withdrawn from the battle fleet and four from the scouting fleet under the economy plans of the Navy. In making this announcement yesterday the Navy said destroyers in the battle fleet on the Pacific will be reduced from 42 to 30 and those with a full complement in the Atlantic scouting fleet from 39 to 29.

Eight of the latter ten will operate, with smaller crews, in the new Atlantic training squadron and the other two will be decommissioned. Two additional destroyers, now attached to Washington and New York Naval Reserve units, are to be taken out of service.

Under the reorganization 81 destroyers and minelayers of 93,426 tons will remain in commission. Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of Naval Operations, said the laid up vessels would be kept in good shape so as to permit their recommissioning when necessary.

Members of the Rescue Squad worked for almost an hour endeavoring to revive Mr. Sauter, but were unsuccessful. The man was pronounced dead by Dr. Sidney C. Cousins, of 3921 Ingomar street northwest.

Five Firms Testify At Packing Inquiry

Buying Competition Keen, Say Representatives in Supreme Court.

(Associated Press.)

Five representatives of small packing concerns were called as witnesses yesterday in the District of Columbia Supreme Court by Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. to testify on competitive conditions in the meat-packing business.

Armour and Swift are endeavoring to obtain a modification of the consent decree which confines them to meat packing and closely related lines. Frank Hunter, president of the East Side Packing Co. of East St. Louis, Ill., and Abraham Goldberg, president of the Alabama Packing Co., of Birmingham, said their businesses had grown at a rapid rate during the past few years and that competition in cattle buying was keen.

David G. Madden, a Knoxville, Tenn., packer, and George Heil, of a St. Louis packing firm, gave similar testimony. All the witnesses said transportation by motor truck had largely displaced the use of refrigerator cars for distances around 100 miles.

ATTITUDE OF PRESS ON DRY LAW SOUGHT

Prohibition Bureau Sends Its Questionnaires to 3,000 Newspapers.

WILL ISSUE MONOGRAPH

(Associated Press.)

The Bureau of Prohibition of the Department of Justice has asked 3,000 newspapers of the country to express their sentiment on the national prohibition law.

It announced yesterday that the division of research and public information had mailed questionnaires to the newspapers. The questionnaire asks if the newspapers favor the eighteenth amendment and national prohibition law, whether they are opposed to the law, or whether they are neutral.

When the replies are received the information will be compiled and made the subject of a monograph to be issued by the bureau. The questionnaires were sent out by E. A. Grant, acting chief of the division of research and public information.

The letter transmitting the questionnaire told the editors the Prohibition Bureau wanted to get the attitude of the press of the Nation as a whole upon the subject of the eighteenth amendment and the administration of the dry laws.

The monograph to be issued will be one of a series issued with the $50,000 appropriation made by Congress to pay the cost of an educational campaign in favor of the dry laws.

A. W. Fox to Join Law Partnership

Former Post Writer to Be Associated With Brother In Offices Here.

Albert W. Fox, widely known Washington newspaperman, announced the formation of a law partnership here yesterday coincident with his admission to the District bar upon taking the oath in the District Supreme Court.

He will be associated in a general law practice, maintaining offices in the Munsey Building, with his brother, Charles James Fox, owner of the North China Star, one of the foremost newspapers of the Orient, and legal advisor to the Nanking government. The latter will arrive here in December.

Albert W. Fox was associated with The Washington Post as a political and editorial writer from 1916 until recently when he resigned to prepare for his entry into his new profession. Prior to coming to Washington, he was associated with the New York Herald and the New York Sun. He makes his home here at 1515 Webster street northwest.

Boris Nuptials Set For October 25

Official Announcement Is Made of Date of Rites in Assisi.

Rome, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Official announcement was made tonight that the marriage of Princess Giovanna of Italy and King Boris of Bulgaria would take place on October 25 at the ancient city of Assisi.

Assisi, with its 18,000 population, is on a spur to Mount Subasio and off the beaten track of al but religious pilgrims and a small class of thoroughgoing tourists. Overjoyed town officials are going to string electric lights in the streets and the population will revive some of the historic pageantry of the place that dates back before the coming of Christ.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—King Boris today acknowledged congratulations conveyed to him yesterday from President Hoover by the United States minister. Boris' message said: "I am deeply touched. Thank you sincerely for your heartfelt congratulations and for your amiable letter. "BORIS."

DEMOCRATS COUNT ON LEWIS' VICTORY

Illinois Candidate in Senate Race May Get Support From Republicans.

MRS. O'NEILL IS FACTOR

own car about the State; Mrs. McCormick is riding around in her chauffeured car, and J. Ham is riding in a car furnished by the Democratic State committee. Somehow one gets the suggestion of Abraham Lincoln's campaign against Douglas out of Mrs. O'Neill's foray—poor, but smart and honest.

Speakers Draw Good Crowds.

Observers report that both the Widow McCormick and J. Ham have been drawing good crowds everywhere and at any time of the day they spoke. Mrs. O'Neill is just getting started.

Now about this being an overwhelmingly Republican State: In 1916 Hughes beat Wilson by 202,000. Two years later, in what has come to be known affectionately as an off year, Medill McCormick defeated Lewis by 53,000. In 1920 Harding carried the State by 886,000 and in 1924 Coolidge carried it by 876,000.

The closest analogy to the present fight lies in the 1926 race. In that year the late George Brennan, the Democratic boss, was defeated by Frank L. Smith by only 67,000. An independent running that year, Magill, drew 156,000 votes.

Comparison Is Drawn.

Every vote over 156,000 that Mrs. O'Neill draws in this campaign adds to Mrs. McCormick's trouble. I doubt that she can afford to lose even that much because of the number of other Republican bolters.

As to whether Mrs. O'Neill will get 156,000 votes seems to be a matter of conflicting opinion. Magill ran as a protest candidate because it had been disclosed that Smith had received money from the Insull public utility interests. They were both drys.

It is hard to believe that the Illinois voters who are now buying "The Life of Al Capone, a Self-Made Man," were greatly disturbed about the Insull contributions to the Smith campaign. Indeed, the Illinois governor did not seem greatly concerned because he reappointed Mr. Smith after the Senate had denied him his seat and surely Mr. Smith considers the whole business just so much fun because he is now running for Mrs McCormick's place an representative-at-large, and he will be elected. Yet Magill mustered 156,000 votes.

Heavy Vote Polled.

Mrs. O'Neill, running as a dry in a wet and dry fight, should garner more than that. It is pointed out, however, that Magill had some money behind him which Mrs. O'Neill does not seem to have.

The vote in this State in presidential years is close to 3,000,000. In off years it has been roughly, heretofore, 1,750,000. Observers see an added interest this year that will run it up to 2,000,000.

The predictions run all the way from a McCormick victory by 50,000 to a Jim Ham triumph by 100,000. That shows you how close the calculations are.

There is the mooted question, of course, of whether the City Hall, or Chicago gang, will go along with the widow Ruth.

Thompson Support Uncertain.

A wiseacre right close to Mayor William Hale Thompson told me very secretively that while the city machine was with Ruth, the mayor's personal crowd was not. Similarly, one hears that J. Ham is not so popular with the local Democratic machine. The truth probably is that both sides will go along to save their own necks.

As to the support of the City Hall gang for Ruth, there is a mayoralty election next year and it would not want to face that fight with a disrupted organization.

The Democratic leaders here seriously hope not only for a Lewis victory but to pick up four representatives in the State. The Republicans are not in a mood, either, to say they are hoping through their hat.

GO-TO-CHURCH PLEA HEARD BY DISCIPLES

SPEAKS IN AUDITORIUM

"Christ and the church are no longer associated. Membership in many churches means less than membership in a lodge or club and the majority of club and lodge members are better informed as to principles and ideals of such organizations than are church members as to the hope that is in them."

With these charges Robert A. Long, president of the International Convention of Disciples of Christ, opening the third annual convention at the Washington Auditorium last night, made a strong plea for a more thorough loyalty to the church in regular attendance upon its services, in generous contributions to its support, and in prayer for cooperation in its correction and improvement.

More than 12,000 delegates from 30 countries are now in Washington to attend the conference, which will continue for 10 days with an exhaustive program of day and evening sessions. The organization was founded in Pennsylvania about 100 years ago by a group who chose "a personal faith in Jesus Christ and the following of His teaching, rather than churchly or philosophical interpretations" as the fundamental basis of their advocacy. Membership is now estimated at about 2,000,000.

Dr. Poling to Speak.

The feature of today's session will be an address by Dr. Daniel E. Poling, of New York, president of the World Christian Endeavor Union and editor of The Christian Herald.

Dr. Poling will discuss the movement to establish an adequate pension system for ministers of Christian churches in the United States and Canada. Plans for accomplishment of this goal have been under way for 18 years, and in 1925 the question was placed before the Commission on the Ministry authorized at a convention in Cleveland.

To provide minimum benefits for aging ministers who can not be expected to participate in the fund long enough to earn more than the specified minimum benefits, it is proposed to raise a reserve fund of at least $8,000,000 from which the ministerial relief roll also will be supported until the need for such help disappears. To raise this fund, it is planned to stage a national drive during the week of November 9 to 16.

Church Attendance Slumps.

Mr. Long pinted out that statistics prove that there is an "alarming decrease" not only in church membership, but in attendance as well. He attributed this to "increasingly large numbers, both within and without the church, who believe that the church has had its day; that it is and has been at best a human organization with all the weaknesses of human efforts, and that it is subject to change and may even disappear."

These, he held, are those who contend that "the church, as we know it, is more of a hindrance than a help to Christ; that a man can be a Christian without being a member of the church—perhaps a better Christian; that conditions of membership in the church are matters of indifference, and that if the church should disappear Christianity would continue."

Declaring that such teachings are confusing an disturbing to the lay man, Mr. Long insisted that he could not subscribe to the "loose talk" that is is possible to be a good Christian without any duty toward the church, nor that condemnation of the church for its failures and weaknesses justifies any neglect of it.

Reform, Not Neglect, Needed.

While he admitted that the church at present may not fulfill its mission and that "no one can look at the church today without bitter sorrow for its divisions, its worldliness, its selfishness, and its sloth," Mr. Long held that abandoning the church is not the way to reform it.

"The great reformations of the past," he said, "have taken place within the church by men who were devoted to it. They have realized how far short it came of the ideal of Christ, but they have believed that the church had a divine purpose and that in serving the church they were serving Christ. I am convinced that the continuation of the church depends upon the substance of its message. So long as men find God through the church; so long as the church ministers to the spiritual man and holds forth the promise of eternal life, it can never fail nor be displaced."

Quoting critics who have asserted that "woman, having failed in her endeavor to bring man up to her standards, became discouraged and stepped down from her own high pedestal to the lower standards of man," Mr. Long declared that the church in many instances has adopted a similar position, and insisted that the church must stand firm by its foundation and responsibility.

Boards Hold Meetings.

The formal session last night was preceded by meetings of the directors of the convention board of education at the Hamilton Hotel, and of the board of managers of the United Christian Missionary Society at the Burlington Hotel.

In addition to the address of President Long last night, there was a musical program and the presentation of reports of agencies, commissions and committees. Various auxiliaries of the Disciples of Christ will hold their annual business meetings today.

The general convention session will start at 8:15 o'clock this morning with dedication of the prayer room in the Washington Auditorium by the Intercessory Fellowship of Christian Missionaries.

On the morning program, of which Dr. Poling's talk is to be the feature, are also John D. Zimmerman, secretary of the Kansas Christian Missionary Society, who will talk on "The Center of the Great Commission," and John G. Alber, secretary of the Nebraska Christian Missionary Society, whose topic will be "The Total Impact of State Missions."

The Rev. Claude J. Miller, pastor of the Independence Boulevard Christian Church of Kansas City, Mo., will address the morning session on the subject of "The Lost Beatitude." The Rev. H. R. Ford, pastor of the Central Christian Church of Marion, Ind., will be the chaplain of the morning meeting. An extensive musical program has been arranged.

Luncheons to Be Held.

At noon there will be a luncheon of the National Evangelistic Association in the Raleigh Hotel, and of the Council of Ministers' Wives at the Mayflower. This will be followed by a brief service in the new National City Christian Church at Thomas Circle.

The Council of Ministers' Wives is declared to be the only organization of its kind in the world. Greetings from Washington will be extended by Mrs. Earl Wilfley and from the Washington Federation by Mrs. Harvey S. Irwin, its president.

Addresses will be made by Mrs. Alice Vanderbilt Morris, of New York; Mrs. Clifford Weaver, of Texas, and Mrs. Jesse Bader, of Indianapolis. Others on the program will be Mrs. Logan Martin, of Texas; Mrs. Walter M. White, and Mrs. Roger Nooe, of Tennessee. Mrs. Lillian Bourne Crouch, who, with Mrs. Morris, is presenting a gift of books written by Mrs. Weaver to the local federation, will be guest of honor.

The afternoon will be devoted to conferences on religious education and missionary work, followed by a business session at 3 o'clock, at which various reports will be presented. At the evening session in the Auditorium, addresses will be made by the Rev. Edgar DeWitt Jones, pastor of the Central Woodward Christian Church and vice president of the association for the Promotion of Christian Unity; and by Jesse M. Bader, secretary of evangelism and of home missions of the United Christian Missionary Society.

Purpose of Convention.

The convention is in celebration of the 1900th Pentecost, and immediately following the conclusion of the sessions here on Sunday, a world convention of the Churches of Christ in 35 countries is to be held, starting with a communion service held jointly with the International Convention of Disciples of Christ in the Washington Auditorium, Constitution Hall and the new National City Christian Church.

The first regular sessions of the world convention will be held Sunday evening in Washington Auditorium, with Mr. Bader presiding, and in Constitution Hall, with Charles S. Medbury, of Des Moines, Iowa, a member of the central committee, presiding. A "roll call of nations" will be the feature of these sessions. The world convention will continue through October 28.

TO ADDRESS DISCIPLES TODAY

The Rev. Claude J. Miller, pastor of the First Christian Church, of Hutchinson, Kans. (left), will speak on "The Lost Beatitude" at the third International Convention of Disciples of Christ at the Washington Auditorium today. The Rev. Daniel E. Poling, president of the World Christian Endeavor Union (right), will urge support for the $8,000,000 ministerial pension fund to be raised next month.

Fleague boarded were eight officers who were en route to press the search farther south in Missouri and northern Arkansas.

There were five officers on the chair car in which Fleage was shot. They recognized the fugitive as he stood on the station platform and were waiting for him when he stepped aboard. The officers were E. H. Kline, California postal inspector; Harry Wilde and C. A. Lloyd, Los Angeles city detectives, and E. L. Nelson and Orville King, Kansas City detectives.

"We were almost as much surprised to see Fleagle on the platform as he was to see us a few minutes later," Inspector Kline said. "We did not believe he was in Branson. We believed he was farther south."

Wilde Fired Shot.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 14 (A.P.). Detective Lieuts. Chester Lloyd and Harry Wilde, who assisted in the capture of Jake Fleagle, notorious robber, in Branson, Mo., today telegraphed their headquarters here tonight that Wilde fired a shot which felled the bandit.

Las Vegas, Nev., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Joe Miller, alleged to have assisted Jake Fleagle, bandit shot and captured today at Branson, Mo., and a third man in robbing a train near Pittsburg, Calif., last year, was arrested here today on orders of Federal authorities.

Miller has ben under surveillance for a year by local officers, who were informed then that he, Fleagle and a third man, whose identity they did not disclose, had ben indicted secretly by a Federal grand jury in connection with the main train robbery.

In the murky gloom of a May night in 1928 at Dighton, Kans., four heavily armed bandits stood beside an automobile tottering on the edge of a cliff. Inside, trapped, was a Dighton physician to whom the four had gone to have dressed the wounds they suffered hours earlier in the holdup and slaying of three men in the First National Bank of Lamar, Colo.

Shoved Over Cliff.

One of the bandits gripped the side of the machine unwittingly, possibly to shove back their victim, and a moment later the shove had been given which sent the car out into the abyss, carrying the doctor to his death. The fingerprint on the wrecked machine, fashioned in unique whorls and lines, was sent far and wide in photographs as the only clew to the identity of the four men.

A. B. Ground, fingerprint examiner of the United States Bureau of Investigation here, noted the unusual markings of the print, but a search through the 2,000,000 or more photographs in the office failed to match any record. Then came a day when the bureau received from a California sheriff an identical fingerprint, but the man who made it, Jake Fleagle, had been released on a minor charge.

His brother, Ralph Fleagle, was located and arrested, confessing and implicating Jake and both Howard L. Royston and George J. Abshir. Yesterday the bureau announced the capture of Jake. Ground, forced by Government rules to decline rewards offered, nevertheless won a speedy promotion.

LUTHERAN SEMINARY REPORT IS DEBATED

KNUBEL RAPS CRITICISM

Milwaukee, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—A report of the committee on theological education, which offered resolutions for more direct control by the United Lutheran Church in America of its church seminaries was tabled after a lengthy discussion at the final session of the convention today.

Following the statement of the Rev. Dr. P. H. Knubel, president of the church, "deploring" the criticism of President Hoover's congratulatory message to the Lutherans on the 400th anniversary of the Augsburg convention by Father John J. Burke, secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, no further action was taken by the convention. Dr. Knubel said "this is no quarrel between Catholics and ourselves, but between a Catholic spokesman and the President's message."

The resolutions for more direct control of church seminaries offered by Dr. August Steimle, New York, were "loaded with dynamite," the Rev. Paul H. Roth, Minneapolis, said following the reading of the portion which held the seminaries were for preparation of ministers "for the whole church and not for any section of it only."

Another recommendation of the committee, for appointment of a theological commission to function as a department of theological education for the church executive board, renewed the controversy.

Dr. H. H. Bagger, president of the Pittsburgh Synod, offered a substitute, which was adopted, calling for abolition of the commission on theological education and turning the entire question of training ministers for the church over to the executive board, the conference of synod president and the Board of Education.

Two Hunters Carrying Carcasses Shot; 1 Dies

Aspen, Colo., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Two hunters carrying carcasses of deer they had killed were shot by unseen marksmen today. One was killed and the other wounded. The authorities believed the men were victims of other hunters who mistook them for deer.

Apparently the persons responsible for the shooting fled. Russell Rex Reed, 17, of Montevista, died without being able to give a definite account of what happened. William Rondigan, a soldier from Fort Logan, who also was shot, was not sure from where the bullet came. His condition is not dangerous.

Widow Who Fired Shots In Court Faces Charges

Enid, Okla., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Mrs. Dolly Douthitt, eccentric wealthy widow, who September 24 fired a volley of revolver shots in a district court room after losing a civil suit, today was charged with the attempted murder of H. Z. Wedgwood, United States commissioner.

Wedgwood, acting as an opposing attorney, was wounded. She also is charged with the attempted murder of Roy Elam, another attorney, and A. G. Sutton, the trial judge. Shots fired at the latter two men went wild. Preliminary hearing for the woman probably will be held next week.

Pratt Scolds Detective Who Let Prisoner Free

Detective Sergeant James E. Kane, attached to the Detective Bureau, was reprimanded officially yesterday by Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, for permitting a prisoner to escape from him in Union Station on September 25.

While returning the prisoner to Washington from Charlotte, N. C., the detective removed the handcuffs from the prisoner's wrist in order to call Police Headquarters for a car. While he was telephoning the man made his get-away. The police chief stated that ordinarily a detective would be demoted for an act of this kind, but in view of Kane's good record he would be allowed to keep his rating.

PUBLIC ASSEMBLIES ARE BANNED IN CUBA

TAKES EFFECT TONIGHT

Havana, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—President Machado today signed a decree forbidding the holding of meetings or assemblages of any kind throughout the republic until November 2, the day after the congressional and senatorial elections.

The decree, although complete in every detail, will not become effective until tomorrow night at 6 o'clock, when it will be published in the official gazette.

Officials said the decree was occasioned by a number of minor disturbances, unimportant in themselves, but tending to disturb the national peace, coupled with the desire of President Machado to take all possible precautions against disorders during the remainder of the electoral period.

The prohibition of assembly during the next 20 days suspends one of the rights given Cuban citizens under the constitution. The power to lift this and other constitutional rights for a 30-day period was vested in the president 20 days ago by by special act of congress.

He may, if he deems it necessary, set up censorship, prohibit public speech and suspend the rights of habeas corpus during the remainder of the electoral period. It is not considered likely, however, that he will attempt the full exercise of his especial power unless extreme emergency should arise.

Machado has openly stated that he did not intend to use the right to withdraw constitutional guarantees if tranquillity prevailed throughout the island and last night permitted the reopening of the weekly magazine, Karikato, closed a week ago because of its bitter attacks on the government.

President Green, of the federation, issued a statement expressing regret at the occurrence and citing it as an exhibition of the policy of Communists in America to "deliberately incite violence, street uprisings and to arouse feeling and passion."

The American Federation went on record today as favoring the five-day week for all workers. More than 500,000 workers affiliated with the federation already have the five-day week, the report of the committee on the shorter working week said.

The charge of the building trades department that Brotherhood of Carpenters must cease infringing on the jurisdiction of the various international unions, mentioning two buildings in Washington, D. C., was referred to executive council for effort to compose differences.

Demonstration is Opposed.

A resolution calling for a one-day demonstration to impress upon the public the need for a five-day week was defeated. The resolution provided that all federation workers lay aside their tools one day while mass meetings are held throughout the country.

This was opposed on the grounds that suspension of industry for a day was inadvisable.

The convention also went on record as favoring an eight-hour day for firemen in the United States and Canada and a 48-hour week law for women and minors, similar to that in effect in Massachusetts, in all the States of the country.

A resolution favoring a five-hour working day for all workers, recommended by the committee on shorter work days, was referred to the executive committee for more study.

way system through southern Minas Geraes. This was done through the capture of a tunnel at Mantiqueira and another at Passa Quatro, leading to Soledade. Dr. Adolpho Moreira was appointed director of the railroad.

Para Remains Loyal.

Turning to the regions lying north and east, Government spokesmen said that revolutionaries who had made incursions along the frontier of Rio De Janeiro State were fleeing, while the Federals were in complete control of the Espiritu Santo frontier.

The northern State of Para, was listed as on the side of President Washington Luis, with volunteer battalions organized to aid the government and a squadron of government warships, reinforced by auxiliaries, lying in the harbor of the City of Para ready to fight for the government.

General Santacruz, head of the government forces in the northern region of Bahia, reported that he had assembled sufficient forces there to dominate the situation soon.

Reservists in Training.

The Federals say that the revolt chieftains are not only discouraged by the government's stand but are worried by economic distress. An intercepted radio message, sent by the rebel chief in Parana to Getulio Vargas, leader of the revolt, said that supplies must be shipped to the Parana sector immediately.

Meanwhile, new troops are being constantly assembled in the Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo districts. The reservists between the ages of 21 and 30, called out several days ago, have been ordered to report for duty not later than tomorrow and will be given a month's training before being incorporated into regular regiments.

Volunteer organizations are being assembled more rapidly. Deputy Hylario Freire has organized a battalion of 500 men in the Santa Anna district, while Deputy Vergueiro de Lorena already has embarked with a battalion bearing his name.

Rebels Report Gains.

Military police of the Sao Paulo district have organized a transport service with a large fleet of trucks and the first convoy already has left for the front. All trucks belonging to the various governmental departments have been requisitioned, while some of those owned by the city of Sao Paulo also are in use. Machine shops have been organized for the repair of motor vehicles.

The Sorocabana Railway, which was the goal of revolting detachments last week, now is operating normally.

Porto Alegre, Brazil, Oct. 14 (A.P.). Victories along the Sao Paulo-Parana front and an extension of their campaign into the westerly State of Matto Grosso were the principal gains reported by Brazilian revolutionary leaders here today.

A five-hour battle between Affonso Camargo and Carlopolis, along the Sao Paulo-Parana 200-mile battle line, was described as the sharpest of the civil war thus far and was said to have resulted in rout for the government troops.

Tighe Death Described As Accidental Drowning

A verdict of death by "accidental drowning" was returned by a coroner's jury at Norfolk, Va., yesterday in the case of Edward J. Tighe, 35 years old, of Washington, who drove his car into the Elizabeth River on October 4. Dr. C. D. J. MacDonald, coroner, expressed the opinion that Tighe was temporarily insane when he drove his machine off the dock.

Dr. MacDonald based his conclusions on the testimony of several witnesses that Tighe acted peculiarly while a guest at a hotel and the fact that he registered at three hotels in Norfolk the same night.

Johnson to Command New U. S. Battleship

(Associated Press.)

Capt. Alfred W. Johnson was ordered by the Navy yesterday to command the battleship Pennsylvania upon completion of his duties as president of the National Board of Elections in Nicaragua on November 4.

The Pennsylvania, now being modernized at the Philadelpha Navy Yard, is to be completed about March 1, 1931. The battleship will make a shakedown cruise along the Atlantic Coast before rejoining the battle fleet in the Pacific.

200,000 MEN MOVE ON CHINA RADICALS

CHANG MAY GIVE HIS AID

Shanghai, Oct. 14. (A.P.)—Having practically crushed the Northern rebellion, the Nationalist government was reported today about to dispatch 200,000 troops against bandit and Communist armies ravaging China south of the Yangtze River.

President Chiang Kai-Shek, said Nationalist officials ordered the troops withdrawn from Honan Province, where they have been fighting for six months against Northern alliance rebels of Feng Yu-Hsiang and Yen Hsi-Shan.

The troops will be sent immediately to Hupeh, Anhwei, Hunan and Kiangsi provinces in which for many months bandit-Communist hordes have looted and burned cities and countryside, and have massacreed thousands of Chinese.

In these provinces foreigners have lost much property and their lives have been endangered in many cities, including the looted and burned city of Changsha, Hunan Province. A large number of foreigners, many of them American missionaries, have been held in besieged Kiangsi province cities, or forced to flee.

Daily for many weeks, foreign shipping has been fired upon by reds along shores of the Yangtze River throughout the 520-mile stretch from Kiukiang to Ichang. Foreign warships, replying to rifle, machine gun and artillery fire, have silenced outlaw batteries only temporarily.

Soldiers released from Honan battlefields for the campaign against banditry, are said by the government to have driven Feng Yu-Hsang's rebel forces north of the Yellow River in Honan, killing 2,000 today and capturing large qantities of munitions.

Armies of Chang Hsueh-Liang, Manchurian dictator, were reported advancing southward from Peiping, which he recntly captured from fleeing northern coalition rebels. Moving along the Peiping-Hankow Railway, they were said to be about to cooperate with Nationalists marching northward, seeking to bottle the rebels in Shansi Province mountains.

Officials of Bank Kill Man Attempting Theft

Westville, Okla., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—An attempted bank robbery was frustrated here today, a robber was killed, a bank president was wounded and a posse tonight was reported to have surrounded the second of the two holdup men.

A man giving the name of Tom Haworth was killed when bank officials first grappled with the bandits and then obtained guns and fired at the fleeing robbers. Before he died he said his companion was named Elmer Jones. Jones was reported surrounded by a posse a short distance from here and his capture was expected momentarily.

cries including "Freedom for Catalonia."

Severe penalties, it was announced, are to be imposed upon the offenders.

While general conditions throughout Spain improved somewhat today, the peseta slump became more pronounced. There was much gloom in business circles as a result.

Several towns experienced new disorders, including Seville, where strikers attacked a street car operating on lines where a walkout had been declared. Strikes of varying degrees of seriousness continued in half a dozen towns where heavy police guards were held in readiness to preserve order it needed.

The strike committee which engineered the Seville walkout announced that the strike had ended, requesting that all workmen resume their posts as usual on Wednesday morning.

Seville, Spain, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Strikers or strike sympathizers again today stoned a suburban surface car, smashing windows, but injuring none of the passengers.

The police search for agitators continued and numerous new arrests were made this forenoon. The police said that most of the prisoners were Communists plotting against the monarchy.

The strike seemed to have made no progress. Metal and stone workers today were the most important groups still out. Dock workers have returned to their jobs. Police express belief that the strike movement was virtually crushed.

FASCIST, RED ROWS STIR PRUSSIAN DIET

HITLERITES ARE QUIET

Berlin, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The noisy minorities of Fascist and Communist delegates dominated the debate in today's opening session of the Prussian diet, a body whose right of existence in its present line-up has been challenged by the followers of Adolf Hitler since the national election on September 14.

The National Socialists and the Communists aired their opposing views today with vehemence. They engaged in verbal passages in which they were joined by their supporters in the public galleries who shouted encouragement or defiance.

The speaker of the house finally was compelled to order the ejection of scores of vociferous galleryites and when the house adjourned for the day no business had been done.

If the Hitlerites had real fireworks in restore for the diet they did not bring them forward today. The Fascists, made confident by election of 107 of their number of the Reichstag, are determined upon a move for dissolution to force new elections but the Centrists are equally minded against it in support of Prime Minister Braun's coalition.

The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine, prescribed by doctors for conditions due to excess acid. It is always a liquid; it cannot be made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips' and the word genuine in red.

MR. MORROW'S SPEECH.

Dwight W. Morrow has made another valuable contribution to political amenities in his speech at Newark, delivered on Monday evening. The country is refreshed when it follows a discussion of political matters in which fairness, courtesy and candor take the place of the tiresome claptrap that too often masquerades as political argument. Mr. Morrow's ability to see both sides of a question, to give credit to his opponents for motives as high as his own, and to base his arguments upon reason instead of vituperation is not only highly creditable to him but advantageous to his party.

The attempt to hold the Republican party responsible for the business depression is skillfully disposed of by Mr. Morrow. He disarms his adversaries by agreeing that "any party which takes credit for the rain must not be surprised if its opponents blame it for the drought." To the extent that Republican spokesmen set up the claim that their party was the inventor and sole producer of prosperity they have earned the embarrassment that comes to those who make excessive and absurd claims. Adversity takes no account of party politics and is no respecter of national committees. Nevertheless, it is as unjust to hold the Republican party responsible for the depression as it is to credit it with being the inventor of prosperity. The depression is world-wide. If the Republican party is responsible for the depression in the United States it is equally responsible for the depression in India, Germany, Italy, South America and everywhere else.

A world-wide influence is at work. Mr. Morrow finds that this influence is the aftermath of the World War. What he says on this point is historically sound, and his analysis is the only logical one that can be reached from the state of facts.

The prompt and effective steps taken by President Hoover to check adversity are cited by Mr. Morrow as an example of the manner in which the Government can cooperate with the people in a national emergency. The Government can not take over and operate languishing businesses and lift them above danger of disaster, but it can act within its sphere to preserve peace, expand public improvements, bring all elements of enterprise into consultation, and place at the disposal of the people accurate information. This has all been done, with the result that wages have been maintained, strikes averted, credit derangements avoided, and encouragement given to all ranks of industry. The United States is less affected by the world depression than any other nation, thanks largely to the foresight and energy of President Hoover.

Mr. Morrow sets curious minds at rest when he states that he looked forward with pleasure and confidence to the opportunity of voting two years from now for the renomination and reelection of Mr. Hoover. The New Jersey statesman thereby sounds the signal for united Republican indorsement of President Hoover.

In advocating a change in the Constitution to readjust the respective duties of the Government and the States in regard to prohibition, Mr. Morrow again speaks with moderation and persuasiveness. His stand is unmistakably clear, but it is taken without abuse of others who differ with him. The drys can dissent utterly from his opinions, while giving him full credit for good faith in advocating repeal of the eighteenth amendment. If all political speakers would study moderation and avoid the exchange of foolish abuse of their adversaries the public would not only be grateful, but would be enlightened, as it has been in reading Mr. Morrow's speech.

EXIT THE BORLAND LAW.

The Borland law permitted the Commissioners to assess one-half the cost of highway construction or improvement against owners of abutting property on a front-foot basis. Grave injustice and inequity attended the application of the law. The owner of a lot of extensive frontage but shallow depth, for example, was assessed more than the owner of a considerably larger piece of property with a small front. Land fronting on two or more streets, irregularly shaped lots, and undivided property was assessed for improvement of abutting streets at a figure far beyond the measure of benefit to the owner. Since 1916, when the Borland law was enacted, there has been constant opposition to it, legal and otherwise, and as far back as 1921 the Commissioners went on record as favoring its abandonment. The decision of the United States Supreme Court, rendered this week, kills the Borland law so far as its future value as a revenue-raising measure is concerned.

In refusing to review the decision of the lower court that the Borland law as applied in certain specific cases was unconstitutional, the Supreme Court nullified the law with respect to its application against property of a class and type similar to that involved in the cases under consideration. If property of this class and type is exempt from assessment under the Borland law, any attempt to apply the law to property of other classes and types would be subject to legal challenge on the ground that it was discriminatory. It is so obvious that the courts would support this challenge that further attempts to make assessments under it are not likely.

With its revenues under the Borland law cut off, how is the District to raise funds for highway construction and improvement? Under its provisions the District has been collecting upward of $500,000 a year. Obviously a substitute method of raising funds for highway work must be adopted. The gasoline tax is suggested as a substitute.

When the Borland law was enacted it was reasoned that the improvement of highways increased the value of property, and that in the long run the burden of highway construction and improvement when passed on to property owners was equitable to all. Today, however, with the automobile in general use, it is possible to apportion the cost of highway work directly among those who use the highways. The truck owner, whose vehicle does most damage to the street surface, pays a larger tax because his truck uses more gasoline than the owner of a little roadster. Now that the Borland law has been thrown out by court action, the gasoline tax law should be revamped so that the entire revenue therefrom will be used exclusively for highway work.

WASHINGTON.

Washington, the journal of information and opinion which is to be sponsored by the Republican national committee in behalf of the Grand Old Party, has a wonderful opportunity to throw new glories upon the ancient and honorable profession of journalism. The Republican party is abundantly endowed with political talent that can be transmuted into the finer gold of journalism. No doubt every one of these geniuses can be induced to contribute his special gift in making Washington the sparkling paragon of periodicals.

Let there be plenty of sob stuff. Nick Longworth, discoverer of the Democratic menace, can sound a moving tremolo, with deeper shudders that raise gooseflesh upon a marble monument. Or Roscoe McCulloch, he who shed salty tears upon the presidential bosom in Ohio a few days ago—why not a sob story from Roscoe?

For wisecracks and airy persiflage there is Cal Coolidge, the columnist, ready at hand. With him could be placed Bill Borah, another columnist who could be depended upon to grind out snappy stuff. Over his column it might be wise to give notice that, nevertheless and notwithstanding, he is a Republican. Uncle Simmy Fess would, of course, be the right man to take over the bedtime stories.

For rough and ready scrimmage work there is George Moses. Let him handle the reptile contemporaries. Offsetting his jabs could be placed the amorous persuasions of Jim Watson, so that unwary Democrats reading the sheet would be either knocked cold or converted into rockbound Republicans. For sporting writer there is no equal to Charley Adams, the yachtsman who runs the Navy. Jerry Nye, the Senate sleuth, could be made into a first-class police reporter.

Talent? The Republican woods are full of it. But there has been no medium through which talent could operate. Washington can fill the long-felt want. Dave Henshaw has only to draw upon the natural resources of the Republican party to produce a marvel of journalism.

SHOOTING OF "LEGS" DIAMOND.

New York is pondering over a dilemma of miscarried justice much as Chicago is in the habit of doing. Gotham's distinguished gentleman of crime, who was recently deported from Europe as an unwelcome visitor, has been shot down, and the police have another major underworld mystery on their hands. The "Legs" Diamond case in many respects parallels the Arnold Rothstein case, which shook the police force to its foundations and sent disquieting reverberations through political circles. Such cases are extremely disturbing to the public as well, because they emphasize the futility of the police and the courts in dealing with the supercriminal.

Diamond has a police record that is startling because of its length, and a prison record that is ridiculously small in comparison. During the last 16 years he has been arrested 24 times. Early in his career he served time for burglary and grand larceny. Since then he has been arrested on such charges as robbery, assault and homicide. But each time he was discharged, or the case dismissed. The police are well aware of Diamond's reputation, and even his activities, as a gangster. Yet he invariably escapes the penalties of the law.

Racketeers of this character, it appears, have little to fear from the police. The real menace to their business is competition from other lawless elements. The shooting of Jack Diamond, no less than the numerous murders of Chicago gangsters, illustrates the effectiveness of underworld methods in sharp contrast with the inefficiency of the machinery of justice. When the supercriminal is called to account for his misdeeds it is usually his rival or a traitorous follower who applies the punishment.

In Chicago Al Capone was "not wanted" when he gave himself up, but subsequently the police made a great noise about running down Capone and his gang as "public enemies." In New York "Legs" Diamond was "not wanted," in spite of the innumerable charges against him. What is the answer to this riddle? Is society helpless in the clutches of the supercriminals? Why are men prosecuted for petty larceny while the directors of great rackets are immune to the penalties of the law? Talk of ridding the country of crime is futile until these questions can be answered and the machinery of justice can be revitalized accordingly.

Strange how those South American countries continue to revolt even after Bishop Cannon has returned home.

Those New York youths who want to join the Brazilian army, rebel or otherwise, might find it more convenient to try jay walking in their own home town.

Pennsylvania holds a conference designed to promote enforcement of the dog law. That suggests an excellent slogan for Gift Pinchot: Let's make the world safe for caninity!

GIBBON'S MASTERPIECE

By AURIGA.

On this day, 166 years ago, there was conceived what after twenty years of zealous industry became universally known as the most perfect historical composition that exists in any language. Although it covers a period of more than 1,200 years—these including some of the most important epochs and significant movements in the history of mankind—and although it was in 1776 that the first of its six massive volumes appeared, this scholarly and monumental work has neither been set aside, nor threatened to be superseded by modern research. It is Edward Gibbon's masterpiece, the "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire."

"It was at Rome," Gibbon wrote, reminiscently, "on the 15th of October, 1764, as I sat musing amidst the ruins of the capitol, that the idea of writing the decline and fall of the city first started to my mind. But my original plan was circumscribed to the decay of the city, rather than of the empire; and though my reading and reflections began to point toward that object, some years elapsed, and several avocations intervened, before I was seriously engaged in the execution of that laborious work."

Elsewhere in his memoirs he says:

"I have presumed to mark the moment of conception: I shall now commemorate the hour of my final deliverance. It was on the day, or rather night, of the 27th of June, 1787, between the hours of 11 and 12, that I wrote the last lines of the last page in a summer-house in my garden. After laying down my pen, I took several turns in a berceau, or covered walk of acacias, which commands a prospect of the country, the lake and the mountains. The air was temperate, the sky was serene, the silver orb of the moon was reflected from the waters, and all nature was silent. I will not dissemble the first emotions of joy on the recovery of my freedom, and perhaps the establishment of my fame. But my pride was soon humbled, and a sober melancholy was spread over my mind, by the idea that I had taken an everlasting leave of an old and agreeable companion."

Gibbon himself was a book, or rather a library, having spent the greater part of his life in reading and storing up historical knowledge. He hated exercise—even that of looking for his hat. It is somewhere claimed that the minuteness and comprehensiveness of his historical knowledge are appalling to the scholarship of the present day. For 22 years before the appearance of his first volume, according to Charles Kendall Adams, he was "a prodigy of steady and arduous application." His investigations were believed to have extended over almost the whole range of intellectual activity for nearly 1,500 years. In my own opinion, Henry Thomas Buckle was perhaps the only human who ever remotely approached Gibbon in this respect. Buckle knew all the principal languages of Europe, both ancient and modern, and read them with such ease and rapidity as to master several volumes a day. In the specific work of preparing a mere introduction to his proposed general history of civilization, Buckle is said to have "habitually spent not less than about 10 hours a day for 17 years."

Bibliographically, there are several interesting points in connection with Gibbon's "Decline and Fall" which are not as widely known as they should be. For example, Edward Gibbon in his "Autobiography"—which Charles Dudley Warner, joining in the great chorus of praise, called "one of the most interesting, brilliant and suggestive autobiographies in the English language"—added two facts "which," he said, "have seldom occurred in the composition of six, or even of five quartos. First—My first rough manuscript, without any intermediate copy, has been sent to the press. Second—Not a sheet has been seen by any human eyes excepting those of the author and the printer; the faults and the merits are exclusively my own." Again, when the first volume appeared, in 1776, its success was immediate and complete. It established Gibbon's fame before the religious world could muster its forces in the grand attack on Chapters XV and XVI. So tremendous, indeed, was the success of the work that within a few years after appearance, in 1787, of the final volume, Gibbon had received £6,000 ($30,000) for writing it, and the printer a profit of £60,000 ($300,000).

Practically all of the world's literati during the past 134 years have enthusiastically praised this masterpiece. There have, of course, been some notable exceptions—such as those taken by John Ruskin, Walter Savage Landor, Frederic Schlegel, Thomas Macaulay, S. T. Coleridge, Thomas Carlyle, Woodrow Wilson, and certain ecclesiastics, the latter because Gibbon was "nothing short of an infidel" in that he failed sufficiently to sympathize with and emphasize the truth that he was in fact dealing with the history of the rise of Christianity.

As to the "Decline and Fall" itself, it is a history of the civilized world for thirteen centuries, during which paganism was breaking down and Christianity was superseding it. Warner has truly said that it "bridges over the chasm between the Old World and the New."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE CHILD.

I thought it must be nice to be
A curly-headed child of three,
Without one thought of bitter hate
Or envy of the worldly great;
Unspoiled by time; unscarred by grief;
In fairies still to hold belief,
And see the moon and stars each night
With wonderment and real delight.

Thought I, an adult fills his mind
With cruelties of every kind
And linked with every lovely thing
He see is harsh suspicioning,
A constant prey to doubts and fears
He grows more cowardly with the years.
But to the eyes of every child
The world's delights are undefiled.

But I suppose, and I am glad,
That children never see the bad,
For could we read each youthful mind
To our surprise perhaps we'd find
They think of us the self-same way
And to themselves in secret say,
Being blind to every fault and scar,

When the Hawk Masquerades as a Dove Rabbits Must Beware of All Feathers.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

Some days ago a young woman ran screaming from the office of a wealthy business man and fainted in the arms of convenient witnesses.

Revived by good Samaritans, she explained that she had entered the man's office on a legitimate errand and that he had endeavored to overcome her by force when she resisted his advances.

The man's office bore witness of a struggle. Articles from his desk were scattered on the floor; a chair was turned over. And his face was bleeding where finger nails had cut the skin.

Do you know any 50-year-old business men, with brains enough to win a fortune, who would attack a strange young woman in the broad light of day without so much as a locked door to hide the crime?

At night, perhaps, addled by liquor and jazz music and dim lights, one might generate enough enthusiasm to struggle for a kiss—if the lady seemed complacent enough—but to imagine the other scene is to confess ignorance of biology or to assume that the man is a pervert or a madman.

The jury, typically American, believed the girl instead of the man, but juries will not continue to believe.

It is too easy to enter a decent man's office, demand money for silence, and, being refused, to scratch his face, sweep his desk clean, kick over a few chairs and escape to the hall before he realizes what is happening. It is a "racket," and its infinite variations are as old as the art of blackmail.

The Mann act is almost bereft of dignity because so many evil women have used it to rob foolish victims.

Alimony is fast becoming a synonym for graft because so many women have made it the chief end of matrimony.

And the continued abuse of chivalry will in time cause a revulsion of feeling that will make courts suspicious of the best of women.

There are evil men in abundance; there are innocent women who deserve protection and compensation, but juries must learn to weigh the evidence in the light of reason instead of assuming that the woman is always truthful and right.

PRO AND CON

Wetter and Wetter.

New York Times.

New York can not tune up with Kansas in her hymn to the eighteenth amendment. New Jersey has fallen even more hopelessly from the good graces of the league. Pennsylvania, which should have been the last refuge of Republican orthodoxy, has turned heretic. There is more than one divisive issue there, but Dr. Nicholson's is the strongest. Massachusetts Republicanism is fatally divided. The Connecticut Republicans lean to the wet side. Rhode Island Republicans have had to consent to a referendum on the amendment. Illinois Republicanism is divided, but the majority has had to go over, on a condition certain of fulfillment, to the wicked. In dry Ohio the rift is so wide that the election of a wet Democratic senator is confidently predicted. In Wisconsin, indeed, there is substantial harmony, for the majority of both Progressives and Republicans are wet. In Montana the Republicans are hoping to elect a wet candidate for senator. California Republicans are divided, but the Republican candidate for governor is tacitly wet. Washington Republicans are officially wet and the drys are fighting for their political lives.

There is a general reaction against prohibition. The lords of the Anti-saloon League have trouble enough already without worrying about 1932.

New Orleans Times-Picayune.

In these days of mounting wet sentiment, politicians in many sections no doubt would rise up and call blessed the man who would devise a means of ascertaining the moistness or aridity of their constituency without throwing the question into an election by the introduction of a prohibition referendum concurrent with their own bid for popular favor. The predicament that members of Congress are beginning to find themselves in is well exemplified in the case of Illinois, where a referendum on repeal of the eighteenth amendment is to be conducted at the same polls where 27 members of Congress are to be elected. The Chicago Tribune, in an effort to enlighten the voters on the stand of the candidates, sent to each individual Republican and Democratic aspirant a set of questions devised to reveal his attitude toward prohibition. The crucial question was whether the candidate, if elected, would support repeal of the amendment in case the voters of the district show themselves in the referendum to be in favor of repeal.

The sad state of uncertainty on the part of Illinois congressional candidates is shown by the fact that of 53 aspirants for congressional honors, 25 "ducked" the question by refusing or failing to answer it. The Tribune notes that a few of these are well-known wets, but that the great majority are reputed to be dry. Of the 28 candidates who responded, however, not a single one said he would oppose repeal in case his district favors it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Down With the State, War and Navy Building and the Treasury—"Hideously Ugly."

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I am an ordinary layman in matters of art and make no pretensions to authoritative knowledge as does your correspondent, Mr. Arthur Gibson Morse, who discusses the State, War and Navy Building from the air. He reminds us that the Treasury Building represents financial strength on one side of the White House and that the State, War and Navy Building represents statesmanship on the other side.

That's positively a gorgeous idea. It reminds me of the Dutch gardener who puts rows of bricks around flower beds; also of the names of the States at the Lincoln Memorial, which disfigure that wonderful monument. I have been told that art sometimes hides art, and I think it would have been charming to ascertain there was a column for each State without a display advertisement to that effect.

This is the day when we are graduating from huge wayside advertising boards to grotesque monuments carved on stony mountains. Without going up into the air to view the situation, maybe I can give Mr. Morse a better notion about the Treasury and State Buildings. Wipe out both of them, and restore Pennsylvania avenue's fine sweep around the White House Grounds. The Government should always do its share of building, and I am certain the Treasury needs a new and better building than even the Department of Commerce.

I venture to say a future generation will take this view of the matter and want to know who the devil located the Treasury Building where it is. Was it President Andrew Jackson who arbitrarily stuck it there, with its hideously dirty aspect, mostly pagan columns? No more money should be wasted on either structure.

Tulip Trees Along Sixteenth Street Attacked by Deadly Scale—Something Should Be Done.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Nature Magazine contains an article upbraiding the officials of Washington for permitting the destruction of the tulip trees along Sixteenth street. These have been attacked by the tulip-tree scale, which is very deadly. This scale is easily detectable, for it exudes gummy droppings on to the pavements from the terminal twigs which it encrusts. A miscible oil will kill the scale.

The tulip is an exceedingly beautiful tree, much used for ornament in city streets and hence planted in Washington by lovers of trees in the city who see them in some fifty years ago. Many of the trees have died and others are reported in a bad state, but those remaining testify to the ornamental character of the tree. It grows to a height of 90 feet and can reach a diameter of 10 feet. It is wholly a native tree and grows at its best in this section of the country. One wonders what the city tree department has to say in reference to this charge of neglect.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It is sometimes difficult to place the blame for defects in our Government's operations, and this is particularly true of Patent Office work. The letter of Inventor complained of a bad condition, saying that the Patent Office is behind by 120,000 cases, covering about two years' time.

There are two committees of Congress handling Patent Office business—7 members on the Senate's committee and 21 on that of the House. The blame for men leaving the service of Uncle Sam for private positions at higher salaries can correctly be placed at the door of Congress, and not on the Commissioner of Patents. We all know that Uncle Sam is more able financially to pay modern salaries to its employes than any other individual or group, and he does it for alleged legislators only and at their solicitation.

Widening of M Street Badly Needed On Account of Cross-Town Traffic.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I wish to thank you for your editorial of October 8 relative to the widening of M street and to urge that the matter be kept before the Commissioners until this much needed improvement is made. The necessity for making this main and only cross-town artery less congested should need no argument.

As the widening of streets is a slow process, however, the conditions could be materially improved if the present one-way regulation, for which there seems to be no good reason, were abolished.

ADULT EDUCATION.

It is a pleasant thought that 27,000 men and women have enrolled in the adult classes of the Chicago public evening schools. The total number is expected to reach 60,000, according to the Rockford Register-Gazette, an increase of 10,000 over last year. Some of these students are striving to realize in a little way at least hopes long deferred. Harsh circumstances deprived them of educational advantages in their childhood. Now they strive to recover lost ground. Others are ambitious to acquire knowledge which will help them improve their material condition. All are on the right track. They are working to a helpful mental stimulus and a large measure of self-respect. Learning a little more each day they can face the world with more courage. It all means, too, quickening of their citizenship, a keener interest in the work of the world and a more valuable participation in it. To extend and build up adult education is a service tremendously worth while.

Envoy Leaves For Sojourn In New York

Mr. Herbert Brookes to Return Soon to Australia.

IN Washington on a little holiday trip, Mr. Herbert Brookes, the retiring Commissioner General for Australia in the United States, and Mrs. Brookes have been the center of a pleasant group of informal parties.

Mr. Brookes recently tendered his resignation to the Prime Minister, although nearly half of his appointed term remains unexpired. Several members of the British embassy group have taken opportunity during their visit to the Capital to bid them farewell, and "bon voyage."

Mr. and Mrs. Brookes were guests at a small luncheon yesterday given by the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, at the embassy. The guests included members of the embassy staff and their wives.

Mr. and Mrs. Brookes will leave for New York at noon today, where they will remain until the beginning of December, when they will start across the continent for the West Coast. En route Mr. Brookes plans to study business conditions in this country with the view of helping the serious depression which now exists in Australia, which brought about his resignation.

Mr. Brookes has held a unique position here. The office of commissioner general, with headquarters in New York, was created solely for him, his predecessors from the British colony having only held the rank of commissioners. His office ranks next to that of ambassador.

Mr. and Mrs. Brookes will sail from San Francisco the first of the year for Australia. The former has served as commissioner general a little more than a year, and during this time they have been frequent visitors to the Capital.

In Mr. Brookes' opinion, however valuable his office in this country may be in normal times, it can be permitted to lapse when drastic retrenchment becomes essential to balance the national budget.

Mrs. Hoover will attend the orchid show on Thursday afternoon, the day of the opening of the display of blooms which will be presented at the Willard for three days.

Patronesses for the show include Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, Mrs. Merritte W. Ireland, Mrs. William K. du Pont, Mrs. Amos A. Fries, Mrs. Albert C. Burrage, Mrs. Pierre du Pont, Mrs. W. V. Butler, Mrs. Henry Parsons Erwin and Mrs. Dwight Chester.

Senator Frederick H. Gillett and Mrs. Gillett are spending some time at Lenox, in the Berkshire Hills, Mass. Among other interesting visitors at the resort are Mrs. Newbold Morris, who gave a tea at Brookhurst, Lenox, Monday in honor of Maj. Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Bullard, who are guests of Col. and Mrs. Arthur F. Schermerhorn.

Mrs. Lewis W. Douglas, wife of Representative Douglas, of Arizona, will sail soon for France to spend several weeks.

Mr. Lehr Fess, of Toledo, Ohio, has joined his father, Senator Simeon D. Fess, at the Carlton, where he will remain for a few days.

The Chilean Ambassador and Senora de Davila will entertain at dinner this evening at the Embassy when the party will number 20 guests.

Senora de Davila has as her guest for a month her sister-in-law, Senora Delia Arrate, of Chile.

The Ambassador of Great Britain, Sir Ronald Lindsay, has returned from Long Island, where he passed the week-end with Lady Lindsay, who will remain at their summer home for a while longer.

The Minister of Finland, Mr. L. Astrom, who arrived in New York Monday from his home in Finland, where he spent the summer, has returned to Washington for the season.

Mr. Charles C. Eberhardt, American Minister to Costa Rica, who is now visiting at his home in Kansas, will later come to Washington for the remainder of his leave of absence, after which he will return to his post.

The Undersecretary of State, Mr. Joseph P. Cotton, who spent a few days at Bedford Hill, N. Y., has returned to Washington. Mrs. Cotton is remaining a while in New York.

Maj. and Mrs. George W. Easterday have returned from the Philippines and are established at 2116 Kalorama road. Maj. Easterday is at the War College.

Son Born in Paris To Baroness Baeyens.

An announcement has been received from Paris of the birth of a son on October 13, to Baroness Baeyens who was formerly Miss Mary Clark, of Hillsborough, Calif., granddaughter of the late Senator William A. Clark, of Montana. Baroness Baeyens is also a ntece of Mr. Richard Tobin, former American Minister to the Netherlands.

Mrs. James T. Menzie, wife of Capt. Menzie, U. S. A., of Fort Myer, Va., entertained at luncheon yesterday, at the Mayflower in compliment to Mrs. Harry Chamberlain, of Fort Monmouth, N. J. The guests included Mrs. Berkeley T. Merchant, Mrs. C. P. George, Mrs. James O'Hara, Mrs. Richard Newman, Mrs. Julian Cunningham and Mrs. William Grimes.

Maj. and Mrs. X. H. Price and their small daughter, Alice, of Paris, France, are in Washington and are guests at Wardman Park Hotel for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence V. Benet, of Paris, are spending a fortnight in New York and then will come to Washington to visit for about three weeks. They arrived in New York Monday on the Leviathan. During their Washington sojourn they will stay at the Mayflower.

Miss Anne Carroll Reaume is occupying the home of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Hugh A. Drum at 1820 Nineteenth street during their absence abroad. Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Drum will sail today for Europe.

Miss Reaume has had as her guest for the last ten days, Miss Elizabeth Osborn, of New York, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Cuthbert A. Osborn, of Denver.

They visited Mrs. O'Brien's son-in-law and daughter, the First Secretary of the Belgian Legation in Austria and Baroness van der Elst. The latter was before her marriage Miss Allison Roebling.

Mrs. William Cooper Proctor and Miss Mary Johnston, of Glendale, Ohio, who passed part of the week in Washington, have returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Southard Ellis, of Hartford, Conn., have sent out invitations for the wedding of the latter's sister, Miss Marie Estelle Gibbon, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Gibbon, of Charlottesville, Va., and Mr. John Thomas Trimble, jr., of Atlanta, on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Margaret's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Dr. Herbert Scott Smith will officiate.

Mr. K. Berry Peterson, attorney general of Arizona, returned to Phoenix yesterday, having spent a week in Washington on official business.

The later hunts will be held at Bradley Hills Farms in Maryland, where they will have live hunts instead of drag.

Much social activity has accompanied the quarterly meeting of the National Board of Management of the Daughters of the American Revolution assembling in Memorial Continental Hall this morning for the first time since last June. Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, of Cincinnati, president general of the D. A. R., entertained at dinner last night and today the members of the Board of Management will be entertained at luncheon in the banquet room of Memorial Continental Hall.

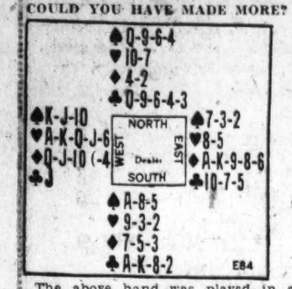
WORK ON BRIDGE

COULD YOU HAVE MADE MORE?



The above hand was played in a game of Contract Bridge; both sides were vulnerable and the bidding was: South one Club, West three Hearts, a jump-shift which was not a forcing bid because made over an adverse bid; it, however, showed at least eight probable tricks with massed strength in Hearts and asked East to jump to game provided he had one trick. North passed and East, holding the Ace and King of Diamonds, bid the fourth heart.

In Auction the bidding probably would have been: South one Club, West one Heart, North two Clubs, East two Diamonds; South pass; West two Hearts, all pass.

North led the Club Four. South won with the King and returned the Ace which West trumped; North played the Trey which marked North with a five-card Club suit. Declarer now led three rounds of trumps to exhaust the adversaries, and being able to count three more trumps and five Diamonds for eight additional tricks, faced his cards and conceded the Ace of Spades to his adversaries.

Did he concede too much.

THE CORRECT PLAY.

Declarer could have tried for an extra trick without the risk of losing game.

After the second trick Declarer can locate the Ace of Spades with South who had bid a four-card suit headed by Ace-King and consequently had a side ace or King. The Spade Ace is the only card that qualifies as Declarer holds all the others; consequently that Ace must be in the South hand to justify the initial bid and West, after exhausting trumps, should have led the Jack or Ten of Diamonds to trick 6, apparently denying the Queen, and overtaken with Dummy's King. This would look as if he did not plan to use the Diamonds, and a small Spade from dummy might tempt South to hold up the Ace, thinking West intended to finesse and that North would win the trick.

If the ruse works, West wins with his King, takes one Diamond in his own hand, overtakes the next in dummy, and discards his Jack and Ten of Spades on the two good Diamonds.

Jane Interprets the MODE

New York, Oct. 14.

I WONDER if there is such a thing as The Tired Business Woman!

We've never seen one and our association with business women has been large and varied. From our experience we have created a mental picture:

Gracious, soft spoken and unhurried is the figure in our composite "mentograph." Her secretary (almost an exact replica of herself) has efficiently taken care of all the troublesome details connected with her job, and the executive is a charming individual who is smartly clad and conscious of her loveliness, yet the heart and brains of whatever she is doing.

When she relaxes, she does it well and returns to her job completely refreshed and mentally alert. She is never tired, because she hasn't the time to be. In several words, she is efficient to a degree that prohibits weariness.

In a quarter of a century women have taught tired business men how not to be——!

I just love fringe! There is a little bit of it here and there in the new styles, not enough of it to suit me, but just enough to indicate a possible return to favor of this most popular trimming. And if you want to know why I like fringe so much, it's because it is the most graceful and flattering trimming that I know, modeling the figure over which it is worn but always in a fluid way that moves as the wearer moves. In my estimation, fringe gives grace to the less graceful person, and more grace to the graceful one.

My goodness, I'm so busy raving about fringe that I quite forgot that I started out to speak of the red fringed dress from Depoty Manging that I have sketched toay, and you should have seen it on the lady who wore it!

Hum, and you should see my two new nightgowns on the lady who designed them! meaning myself. Or meaning you, for that matter, if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post, for the carefully illustrated directions of how to make them. It's only one nightgown, really but on the basic design you can make several variations, each one of which is just as interesting as the original nightgown itself. You'll like this nightgown because the pleats are arranged in such a way that it models the figure, and to help the gown to hold its shape even after a night of tossing and turning.

According to the manufacturers of transparent velvet, who should really know, your transparent velvet dress can be hung in the bathroom, the tub half-filled with hot water, and the dress left there for half an hour. Then you must open the windows and allow the air to circulate until the dress is thoroughly dry, and with nothing touching the garment of course, and it will be miraculously free of wrinkles!

Holding your velvet hat over the tea kettle spout and brushing it, oh, so gently, with a very soft brush, will take dust, wrinkles and rain spots out of it, and give it a new lease on life.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

ENGLISH IVY FOR HOUSE CULTURE.

HOW the ivy rambles over the castles of the Old World, softening the grim outlines of those storied towers and lending its support to escaping prisoners or advancing Lochinvars is well known. Today in America we have few grim towers to entice the ivy's clinging tendrils, but we do need its dull green foliage to bring a bit of the great outdoors into our rooms in these coming winter months, when every sprig of green is so prized.

Nowhere does a box of ivy do so well as in a northern window and nowhere is a window box more welcome. Almost any plant will grow in a southern window, but in a northern one the choice is limited, so we flower lovers should be grateful for ivy.

There are two ways of growing the English ivy. First, in a box or pot, in soil composed of sand, good loam and manure of equal parts. When filling a box with cuttings use only the young, terminal ends of the shoots. Old shoots are not so apt to develop healthy roots. The first few days after starting these ivy slips it is well to keep them shaded, and at all times they must be kept wet. Should your rooms be quite cool at night, it will not disturb the English ivy, for, being cold-weather vines, they really do better in a cool place. They will also thrive in sunless windows, which is a worth-while asset.

A few sprigs of English ivy will be just the thing to place in a witching ball, so popular at this time. All the future care such a ball will require is to keep it in a well-ventilated place and change the water once a week. Some people feel all that is necessary is to replace the water that evaporates. This may be sufficient as far as the plants go, but it tends to cause the container to have a clouded appearance which detracts from its charm.

When mentioning ivy I would indeed be remiss were I not to refer to the parlor ivy, which has become so reservedly popular of late as a house plant and which is so extremely decorative when grown in a basket or rambling over a trellis in some sunny window. A little later, however, it is apt to be attacked by aphis, or green fly. As a preventive, sprinkle the foliage with water and while the leaves are still damp shake tobacco dust over the plant. This variety of ivy should always have a rich soil and a great deal of fresh air and water. It also requires about 3 hours' sun a day.

INFANTILE EYE DEFECTS.

MANY of the mental and physical defects of children are the result of nurture rather than nature; or, to put it differently, of bad food and poor food and disease rather than bad inheritance. The following illustrations are taken from "East Texas Sketches," appearing in the Texas Monthly:

"For years after Eva's birth every one was convinced that she was an idiot. She never talked so that any one but her fond mother could understand her. She could scarcely walk about alone. Her mother insisted she was a bright child withal. She insisted so much that a visit to the eye doctor was arranged. Eyeglasses were prescribed, and they proved a remedy. Eve straightway walked to some purpose, learned to talk with some sense, and became belatedly like other little girls."

Eva was nearsighted and perhaps somewhat retarded apart from her defect of vision. She was not a congenital idiot. In time, with proper treatment, she became normal, which does not happen in idiocy. Her trouble was one of nurture and not inheritance.

Another story related to a hump-backed boy 15 years of age. The crook in the boy's back was due to occupation or work rather than tuberculosis. He had been working as a field hand since childhood, and his back humped by his work and became set in the deformed position.

Another story related to the effects of malaria. "They complained of the chills and fever with which some half-dozen members of the tribe were constantly at war. A closer scrutiny served to show up the ravages of the chills and fever. The eyes of the victims were large, red rimmed and feverishly bright, with dark hollows beneath.

"The skin was pale, greenish, yellow, and one would have sworn it was inches thick. Their bodies, showing through their scanty clothing, were emaciated and unbathed. Their appetites were capricious. I learned that each year during the season the epidemic descended and fortunate indeed was the individual—young or old—who escaped its debilitating clutches. The mother said: 'Seems like the kids jes' will sneak off and fill up on hot watermelons in the fields. Then they go playing around in the pond and then they come down with the ague. Seems like we ain't done nothing lately but tank 'em up on chill tonic and whisky bitters.'"

The pen pictures of these children follow the lines of similar pictures of the Jukes. More than one such family has been written up as an illustration of bad inheritance and need of a sterilization law. So far as this family was concerned, what was needed was more medical service, better use of quinine and plasmochin compound, more mosquito control, better food and less chill tonics and bitters. Proposals for sterilizaton should stand aside until preventive and curative medicine has had its chance.

What Today Means to You

"LIBRA."

IF October 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7 a. m. to 8:30 a. m., from noon to 1 p. m., and from 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 10 a. m. to 11:15 a. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9 p. m.

There are many elements of danger revealed in the astrological portents for this date. The influence of others and not your own actions may defeat many of your purposes. Do not take physical risks! Domestic changes! Travel likely, but not advisable.

The child born on this October 15 will have a generous disposition, much warmth of heart and sympathy. More promise is shown than performance, as it will wish to achieve its ambitions without too much effort or sacrifice. It should be safeguarded by a good education.

You have an intensely practical nature, and apparently as intensely an unemotional one—the former is a fact, but the latter is more of a pose. Your mind is a concrete and a skeptical one, and you demand proof. You have an even temperament and your days are pretty well spent without worry or emotional storms. You are slightly more of a pessimist than an optimist, and are always ready for whatever happens—good or bad. With sound sense and good judgment at the throttle, you seldom run into a ditch. In times of emergency you are very cool and collected, and you do your best thinking.

As you are very undemonstrative in your affections, you are often called a stern and rather unfeeling being, but you do not deserve these criticisms. You love with a deep and great passion and you have a very sturdy and true loyalty. It is very difficult for you to express your deeper emotions, and too often your most beautiful thoughts and loveliest feelings are kept to yourself.

You are generally capable, and can turn a hand to a number of things and to them well. You use your head to save your heels, and you use method and system in your work. You can not be rushed, and you are slow and sure about everything which you do. You have "time sense" and are a most punctual being. You will not live without a definite and comforting religion.

PICKLED PIGS' FEET.

(Bureau of Animal Industry.)

The feet may be used for pickled pigs' feet or pig's-foot-jelly.

In preparing pickled pigs' feet, place them in salt pickle for several days. Then boil them for a varying length of time, depending upon the size of the feet, taking care to remove them from the kettle before the separation of the meat from the bones. Split the feet lengthwise, place them in a jar or other receptacle, and cover with vinegar to which bay leaves, allspice, and whole black pepper have been added.

Pig's-foot-jelly is prepared by curing the feet for several days in salt pickle, after which they should be boiled until the meat separates from the bone. Add vinegar, allspice and pepper, and pack into molds.

IT WAS LOCKED

By JOHN HAWK.

READ THIS FIRST:

Robin Smith, a young and rising but extremely sensitive poet, is invited to make one of a country house party. He accepts because Lady Gwendolen Winston, with whom he is desperately in love, will also be present; but he is so worked upon by the contrast between his youth, poverty and awkwardness, and the polished, blase manners of the other guests, that after quarreling with the Earl of Winston, Gwendolen's brother, and Donald Flint, her fiance, he locks the door of his bedroom and flees through the window back to his attic room. When Robin does not reappear the house guests start a search for him. The Earl of Winston is also missing. The guests burst open the door to the poet's bedroom. They discover the body of Lord Winston, Gwendolen faints.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER X.

Miss Haddon assisted Gwen to her feet, and, putting an arm around her waist, led her out of the room. Lady Gwendolen did not protest, but walked beside her guide quietly and obediently.

"Do lie down, dear," said the older woman, once they found themselves in Gwen's large cheery room with its broad white bed. But Gwen stood there like one in a dream.

"Do lie down, dear," repeated Miss Haddon, and this time assisted her. How well she understood her grief! How easily she could have given way herself. But Muriel Haddon had been schooled in a harder life than had ever touched Lady Gwendolen.

She sat down on the edge of the bed beside the beautiful prostrate figure, who only a short time before was so full of the joy of living and so excited by her new-found happiness.

"I mustn't give in," murmured Lady Gwendolen in a whisper, but with something of her old determination. "I must keep well and help. * * * I must help. * * * I can help. * * *"

It was as if she had forgotten her recent happiness and her fiance, forgotten them entirely in the face of this overwhelming sorrow and tragedy. Donald Flint had been very tender and sweet when he bid his future wife good night; Miss Haddon had been touched. But at the same time she had been conscious of something indefinable in Lady Gwendolen's attitude, as if the girl of an hour before was dead, even as her adored brother was dead. Muriel Haddon began to understand. Lady Gwendolen had determined to put her own life away and devote herself to avenging her brother's death. Muriel Haddon then and there resolved to help her in any little way she could. It was all there was left which she could do for the man she had loved.

"Have you any suspicion?" she asked hesitatingly. She hated to broach the affair, but felt that Lady Gwendolen longed to unburden herself to some one.

"It wasn't Mr. Smith," said the girl quietly, but with conviction.

Muriel Haddon said nothing.

"That knife," went on Lady Gwendolen in a strained voice, "that knife, how did it come here? If I could only make that out——"

"Don't worry now, dear." Miss Haddon gently smoothed the hot brow. "Try to rest. It's going to be very difficult."

Tears began to run down the pale cheeks. "I can't believe Edward is dead—I can't believe it," sobbed Lady Gwendolen, as if suddenly swept anew with the misery of the night's happenings.

Muriel Haddon sat quietly beside her and tried to comfort her, murmuring soothing words; the first that came to her tongue, but they seemed to help the stricken girl.

Meanwhile, things did not long remain at a standstill in the music room. Dr. Middlebury appeared with surprising promptness. Lady Dorothy went with him to the little room opening off the half-landing where Lord Winston lay dead. After a cursory examination, during which he disturbed the body as little as possible, knowing that the police would want to find things as they were when the crime was first discovered, Dr. Middlebury turned to the explorer and Lady Dorothy, who had stood side by side watching him:

"I should say roughly that Lord Winston has been dead about two hours, not longer."

"The knife must have penetrated the heart," went on Dr. Middlebury. "The reason there has not been more bleeding is because it was not withdrawn."

"It was murder?" Lady Dorothy spoke in a whisper.

Dr. Middlebury nodded. "Almost certainly. I do not see how the wound could have possibly been self-inflicted."

A shudder ran through Lady Dorothy. She could see the papers as they would appear on the morrow and following days. Her private life would be dragged before the greedy public.

"You have notified the police?" Dr. Middlebury asked.

"At the same time that you were called," the explorer replied. "I have not left the room since the discovery of the body." He paused to listen. There were approaching footsteps accompanied by an unfamiliar voice.

Sir George's large form presently darkened the doorway.

"The constable is here," he informed them. "He will take charge until an inspector arrives from Scotland Yard."

He stepped aside and allowed a tall, broad-faced, grave-looking individual to precede him into the room. "This is Lady Alston," he said to the stranger, indicating her with a gesture.

The constable bowed. "I have seen her ladyship often and did not think to meet her under such distressing circumstances."

Lady Dorothy looked at the man with distaste. Of middle age, he presented, in his way, a not unprepossessing appearance. The two men liked him immediately, but their hostess had a natural aversion to members of the police force which she had difficulty in concealing.

"We may all go to bed now, I presume?" She turned to the explorer.

"Unless the constable has need of us. * * *"

"That will be all right," said the man in question. "I can do little here in this light. You may as well get what rest you can, and when the inspector arrives in the morning we can take your depositions."

"Would you like to have my report before I go?" Doctor Middlebury asked him. He had often come in contact with the local constable in his work and had rather a liking for the man.

"Perhaps that had better wait for the inspector, too. You might write it out, although, of course, there will have to be a post-mortem."

After a moment's pause, the constable turned to Lady Dorothy, who had been lingering while the doctor spoke.

"Did you find the body where it is now? Who found it? I regret to have to trouble you, but I'd appreciate some of the outstanding facts now, if I may have them."

"You stay and tell him," Lady Dorothy put a pleading hand on the explorer's arm. "I'm not fit for anything."

She looked so thoroughly exhausted that immediate sympathy was apparent on every face.

"I'll take Lady Dorothy back to her guests. She ought to go immediately to bed," said the doctor, offering her his arm. "You know as much of the unhappy affair as she, do you not, Mr. Armstrong?"

The doctor had not been introduced, but he had had no difficulty in recognizing the explorer whose picture he had seen in the papers.

"I may know more," replied Mr. Armstrong. "At any rate, I will do all I can to assist the constable."

So, with brief good nights, the doctor and Lady Dorothy left the two men.

"Now, if you will give me the outlines of the case," began the constable, "I will try to have my report ready. I expect the inspector about four in the morning; rather before any of the household will be up, I fancy."

Bruce Armstrong smiled. He took out his faithful pipe which had accompanied him on so many expeditions in so many countries, and methodically lit it. As he puffed he began slowly to relate the events of the evening as they had appeared to him.

"Lady Dorothy has some week-end guests, as you probably know. We are rather a mixed crowd. There is Lady Gwendolen, Lord Winston's sister; Miss Haddon, the violinist; Sir George and Lady Opie, Donald Flint, Robin Smith, the poet; Prince Pozolevsky and myself."

"You think, then, it was one of the guests?" the constable interrupted, pointing significantly to the body which lay in the same position as previously on the floor near the bed.

"What I think is irrelevant." About the explorer's mouth a secret half-smile played. "While I watched here, waiting for you, I took the trouble to go through the pockets, and they are all empty."

"Robbery?" The constable lifted his eyebrows, doubtfully.

"That is for the police to decide. I only say that Lord Winston's pockets are absolutely empty, turned inside out, in fact."

"Um * * *" The constable stared meditatively in front of him without speaking. After some time he asked:

"Why, no! It was to have been occupied by Mr. Robin Smith, the poet. * * *"

Bruce Armstrong hesitated.

FRANCES M'DONALD

A Delightful Companion.

DEAR MISS McDONALD: As you have helped others, I, too, have come to you for advice.

About two years ago I married a young widower, with a child 3 years old. I truly thought I cared for him and would be happy, even though his work was in a strange town, if I had the child to care for, as I like children. But I think I must have been in love with life, not him as I soon lost all the affection I ever had for him when I began finding out his "real self." Had I known he was like that, cards and drink, I would never have married him. I thought by going with a man for nearly two years one ought to know him, but I did not, you see.

After we were married he paid no attention to the child, except to make him mind or spank him for some little thing. I took the baby everywhere I went and if we went together I had all the responsibility. His father seldom speaks to him and I have known him to tell people the child was mine, when I didn't know it. I make all the clothes for the child, but my husband never has a word of appreciation for me.

We hardly ever go out, it has been over two months since we went out in the evening, and I get very lonesome. We have bought a place just outside the city and the people are nearly all French, and as I can not speak the language I do not know many. When he comes home at night he hardly ever speaks except to answer a question. He will not talk over home problems, no matter how hard I try to get him. I am always neat in personal appearance and also my house. If any one comes in he knows he can talk to them and be real pleasant. He may be tired, but its always the same Sundays and all. If I ask him about anything he most always says, "Don't know," or "Suit yourself," and at times doesn't answer at all. I am getting so lonesome and blue it seems as though I could go crazy.

"A baby would take up your time," I'm told, but as he doesn't like children, I surely would not want one. I can hardly stand him when he is like that. I'm not yet 25 and I would hate to live like this always. We do not quarrel, he wouldn't even do that. My friends say I couldn't leave my home and nice things, but they mean nothing to me the way he is. I've tried to talk it over with him, but he only says "yeah," "I suppose so." Do you think I would do wrong if I just stepped out on him some day. He never explains where he goes even if I ask him once in a while.

My folks used to like him very much, but, although they didn't know his actions at first, have changed their opinions.

He seemed to care a lot for me, but I often wonder if it wasn't some one to take care of the child he really wanted.

"HOPING FOR DAWN."

Walk out? Any how! Here is a man who knew how to talk when he wanted to get a wife. Now let him talk if he wants to keep one. These oysters in human form who are too tired to talk but able to sit up till dawn playing poker need strong-arm technique. The sweet, submissive little soul sits at home wondering whether it is a complex or an appendix, usually spends her life wondering and never finds out. The one who packs her bags and lets the oyster do some wondering often finds herself with a model husband as a reward for her enterprise and initiative.

A wife, let it now be known to all and sundry, is not a piece of merchandise to be brought home and set up, and then forgotten until in need of repairs. No, sir. That day has passed. Today the wife ranks even ahead of the radio. She is not merely the person who makes the kitchen range do its stuff. She is no longer just a necessary part of a well regulated house. She is what makes the house a home. She is a presiding spirit. She is the atmosphere that makes one home so different from another. And she should know it even if the man of the house does not. In this case he plainly does not and he will have to be shown.

A nice long visit during which he will be given to understand that his technique as husband extraordinary was a bit faulty, will be all that will be necessary. He will decide that perhaps a woman is not like other furniture and will proceed to act more like a man and less like an oyster, and all will be well. Another complex will bite the dust. And another husband.

DISCIPLINE BY LOVE.

Discipline by the rod or its equivalent in coercion brings one set of evils, and disipline by a dominating and compelling love brings another.

Occasionally one sees children whose entire behavior down to the smallest detail is dictated by a mother whom they adore with an unquestioning and uncritical love.

If this mother happens to be wise as well as loving, she trains her child to habits and attitudes of so serviceable a nature that he glides through the years of childhood and youth with little difficulty.

He naturally gets on well with those in authority. He is courteous, industrious and friendly. He is perhaps apparently well adjusted to those of his own age.

But with his entrance upon adult life he is confronted with problems which demand of him initiative and independent action. He is at a loss. He is not equipped for self-direction or the pursuit of his own objectives. He does not know how to carry on save under the leadership of benevolent authority.

To teach a child to follow too submissively even the wisest and most loving guidance is no kindness.

The best parent is one who uses his child's faith in him as a stepping stone to self-reliance. He is careful not to permit his own wishes and prejudices to exercise too great an influence on his child's growing individuality.

Do not bring up your child so that your approval or disapproval are matters of life and death to him. Guard against the devastating effects of the need to stand well with you at all costs. Make your criticisms and corrections as impersonal as possible.

Nurses Rarely Over-Fat
Because They Know
Doctors, nurses, druggists and others in touch with modern medical practice are rarely over-fat. Nor are people who consult good doctors. They know that the main cause lies in a gland weakness. And they combat it with the factors used in Marmola prescription tablets.
Marmola is made for those who wish to employ this new-day method at small cost. It is prepared by a world-famous medical laboratory to fit the average case. People have used it for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. Users have told others, and the use has grown and grown. Now all can see on every side that excess fat has met a foe it rarely can resist.
All because science has found the gland weakness which lets too much food go to fat. It has found the right treatment in feeding what that gland fails to supply.
That is what Marmola does. A book in each box gives the formula and tells how and why it acts. No abnormal exercise or diet is required. Simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal and vitality comes up.
Let Marmola fight your over-weight in this right way. Do it to look normal and feel normal. Don't wait longer while so many enjoy its good effects. Telephone your druggist now for a $1 box.

BANKRUPT TRY CHARGED

In a double-barreled suit filed yesterday in District of Columbia Supreme Court minority stockholders of Washington Air Terminals Corporation seek a $1,000,000 judgment for alleged damages and request that the thirteen defendants be compelled to purchase shares of the company valued at $2,000,000. The suit was filed by R. O. Boykin, of 921 Eighth street northwest, and Dr. Frank Cogswell, of 4815 Fourteenth street northwest, as representatives of approximately 100 minority stockholders.

The defendants are Hambleton & Co., of 1521 K street northwest; Federal Aviation Corporation, of New York City; Safe Deposit & Trust Co., of Baltimore, Md.; Thomas Hambleton, of Baltimore, Md.; David K. E. Bruce, of New York City; Richard K. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; William H. Vanderbilt, of New York City; Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, of New York City; Anthony H. G. Fokker, of Hasbrouck Heights, N. J.; Brooks Parker, of Philadelphia, Pa.; George S. Franklin, of New York City, and Merian C. Cooper, also of New York City.

In March, 1929, the plaintiffs assert, they were stockholders of the United States Air Transport, Inc., which conducted a daily service from its Virginia airport to New York and also maintained a student school at the Washington Airport. About this time, the plaintiffs declare, some of the defendants entered into an agreement to form the Washington Air Terminals Corporation and to purchase 200,000 shares of the stock for $10 each.

This proposal was accepted by minority stockholders, it was alleged. Charge also is made that Hambleton & Co. was supposed to finance the proposition and is alleged to have interested other defendants in the matter.

The agreement was not carried out, according to the plaintiffs, who claim that as a result the business and property of the corporation have been dissipated.

Charge is made that some of the defendants authorized the purchase of the aviation field and incurred $1,125,000 liabilities in order to bankrupt the company and to render useless the stock held by the minority stockholders. It also is asserted that unless the defendants are compelled to follow the terms of the contract interests of the plaintiffs will be nullified.

The estate consists of real estate valued at $1,200,000 and personal property estimated to be worth approximately $1,500,000. His widow and a 7-year-old son survive.

The first two were said to have been wearing fatigue clothing when they were last seen and Author was dressed in working clothes. A reward of $50 has been posted by Maryland authorities for their apprehension.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

UNCLE SAM AND HOME, SWEET HOME.

REPRESENTATIVE RUTH BRYAN OWEN plans to introduce at the next session of Congress a bill creating a Department of Home and Child and making its chief a Cabinet officer. Mrs. Owen believes such a department would "promote and foster family life and child welfare."

S. O. S. signals are now being sent out from the great American home asking immediate rescue from the blow.

Can you imagine Home, Sweet Home under Government supervision? It would have mother a nervous wreck awaiting a ruling from Washington on baby's diet, father running a fever while reading an order from the Secretary of Homes forbidding him to sleep on his left side, and baby bawling itself into a delirium because the Government had placed an embargo on teething rings.

It would mean the impounding of the house dog by Federal agents investigating the Japanese flea, the summoning of the cat before a congressional committee in a mouse scandal, and the barring of canaries reported for singing merrily under the wrong administration.

THE folks would have to get a Federal permit to keep a parrot, and file a weekly report on the changes of water for the gold fish.

If anything goes wrong in the home it will be a matter for Government attention, once Uncle Sam begins playing nursemaid. Even the kiddies will be regulated. Couples having no children will notify Washington and get a couple from the people down the street who have more than their quota.

There will, of course, be a house-to-house quiz, after which the Government Bureau will issue a long-winded statement fixing 2.08 children as the official quota per home and specifying that 1 3-5 of them should have blue eyes and light hair.

If there are not enough children to go around the bureau will import them and if there are too many Congress will be asked to create a fund to take over and hold the excess crop until there is a better demand.

THERE will be a big field force, obviously, and official snoopers in complete touch with goings on in every home. And how the home will be improved and regulated. There will be a day officially decreed for rug-beating, and a series of national Wash Willie's Ears, Sweep Under the Bed, Mend Daddy's Shirt and Stop Baby Biting Its Nails Weeks.

A Cabinet officer will decide how long father may have his eggs boiled and if mother wants to go on a diet she will have to take it up with her congressman.

But the real crisis will come when a mother, studying rule 345, section 865, finds it illegal to choose a new spring hat without Federal aproval, writes to Washington, and has to wait until the following winter for the matter to pass through the various committees and undersecretaries!

FIRE PERIL CLOSES NEW YORK FORESTS

JERSEY BLAZE QUENCHED

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The States of New York and Connecticut took measures today to prevent the outbreak of fires in forest made tinder-dry by autumnal drougth, while in New Jersey a score of forest fires were reported to be under control after causing damage of $70,000 or more.

State forests in the Adirondack and Catskill Mountain sections of New York were closed by proclamation of the governor on account of the fire peril, much to the lament of deer hunters, primed to begin their season tomorrow.

Jersey Checks Fires.

In Connecticut officials requested the public to keep out of the woods until rain lessens the fire hazard, and cities cautioned householders to use water sparingly because of the shrinkage of levels in reservoirs and streams.

Fire Warden Coyle of New Jersey reported today after an airplane tour that all the fires there had been quenched. They sprang up several days ago, some of them in cranberry bogs which had been drained preparatory to harvesting and were abnormally dry. The most serious fire, near Atsion, burned over 1,200 acres of woods and 300 acres of bog.

Similar dry conditions exist in parts of New Hampshire and Vermont and Gov. Weeks of Vermont is expected to issue a proclamation forbidding further hunting, as a protection against forest fires.

Maryland Saves Water.

Maryland's rainfall, since January 1, has been about half the normal and some western counties have been on restricted water rations for several months. Authorities at Annapolis have prohibited use of water in concrete mixing and firemen have been asked to return to the old bucket brigade whenever possible.

In Pennsylvania the menace of the drought is approaching the proportions of last summer's long dry spell, Government agencies said. Forests are so dry that postponement of the rabbit-hunting season from November 1 may be necessary. So far only the town of Marietta has suffered acute water shortage.

Visiting Nurses Increase Cases

Society Cares for 6,091 in Summer, According to Report.

Care was given 6,091 patients during the four summer months by the Instructive Visiting Nurse society in the most strenuous period in its history, declared a report submitted to the board of managers of the group in its first fall meeting yesterday morning at its offices in the Star building.

The number of patients represented 3,974 persons who received treatment from the society for the first time. The staff made 39,218 visits to patients during this period, an increase of 2,000—4,100 visits over the same months in 1929.

Other reports showed that 166 crippled children had been given care, with 100 Kiwanis Club cases in the number, and that 131 patients had been registered in the society's maternity service for delivery and 26 for confinement during the last month. The society elected Mrs. John Jay O'Connor, former president of the American Association of University Women and of the Council of Social Agencies, to membership and referred its budget to committee for final review.

TRADE BOARD PLANS INQUIRY INTO BUDGET

HOOVER MAY GET FIGHT

Investigation of handling of District affairs by the Bureau of the Budget is to be conducted by committees of the Board of Trade, it was announced yesterday by George Plitt, president of the board.

Acting on the authority of the Board of directors of the trade body, Mr. Plitt referred the question to the municipal finance committee of which Joshua Evans, jr., is chairman, for study. Should the investigation result in a decision to launch a campaign to relieve the District from the control of the Budget Bureau, the matter may be carried to President Hoover for an expression of his views, it was announced.

A special committee is also to be appointed to make a detailed study over a period of time of the various bureaus and individual Government officials whose authority encroaches on the jurisdiction of the District Commissioners. The membership of the trade body, consisting of more than 3,500 men, will act on the findings of this committee.

This action is the outgrowth of dissatisfaction on the part of District taxpayers over the present method of handling estimates for the operation of the municipality. The Budget Bureau has the authority to change not only the total amount of the budget submitted by the city heads, but also has the power, and in the past has exercised its prerogative, of changing individual items submitted for financing various District departments, it is pointed out.

Another objection to the Federal control of the District budget is based in the power of the Bureau of the Budget to approve or disapprove the anticipated Federal contribution to the District on which the tentative budget for the city is predicated by the Commissioners.

Robert J. Cottrell, executive secretary of the Board of Trade, announced yesterday that 109 new members have been approved in the last two days.

Pratt Ordered to Bring Prisoner Into Court

Justice Peyton Gordon in District of Columbia Supreme Court yesterday signed an order requiring Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, to produce Thomas LePage in court this morning and to show cause why the man can not be released from custody. The order was signed on a petition filed through Attorneys John P. Mullen and James B. Archer.

LePage was arrested several days ago, but no formal charge has been booked against him. Statements made to Justice Gordon yesterday by Government attorneys were to the effect that LePage is believed to be wanted in New York City in connection with the investigation of a homicide.

McCoy Will Plead For Kindergarten

Delegation to Request Retention of Under Age Unit in Capital.

A delegation headed by former Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy, of the District Supreme Court, will appear before the Board of Education this afternoon to ask the board to continue the underage kindergarten at the Webster Americanization School. This school permits attendance of children under five.

Others who will speak to the board in regard to the kindergarten are Mrs. E. C. Rittue, director of Americanization of Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, past president of the District Parent-Teacher Association, and Herbert S. Wood, president of the District Public School Association.

One of the main arguments on behalf of keeping open the kindergarten is that parents are enabled to attend the Americanization School by sending their children to the kindergarten. All other kindergartens for children under five have been discontinued. The entire kindergarten situation is also expected to be discussed at this afternoon's meeting. New light has been thrown on the kindergarten question by the announcement of Representative Robert G. Simmons that an average daily attendance of 25 pupils is not necessary to keep open a kindergarten class.

Headquarters Leased For Soroptomist Club

Permanent headquarters for the Soroptomist Club of Washington have been established in the Lafayette Hotel, it was announced yesterday by Miss Mary Catherine Lewis, president of the club.

Furnishings of the early American period will be selected for the new clubrooms by a committee composed of Miss Celeste Hodges, Miss Elsie Fitzgerald, and Mrs. Eva J. Turner. The club will have a luncheon today at the Lafayette. Gov. Moore of Idaho will be the guest of honor.

Fred M. Cornwell, 62, Will Get $150 Monthly as Pension.

Retirement of Capt. Fred M. Cornwell from the police force was approved yesterday by the District Commissioners on recommendation of Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police.

Capt. Cornwell is 62 years old and has served more than 33 years on the police force. For several years he was in charge of detective headquarters at night, subsequently was assigned as night inspector, was promoted to captain, and for the last few years has been in command of the Fourth Precinct.

Waterman's Lady Patricia

It's new, it's completely feminine, and it's utterly unlike the old fashioned "scaled-down" men's pens. Waterman's Lady Patricia has:

A SMART FEMININE CLASP, INSTEAD OF A CLIP—for today's woman carries her pen in her handbag, and this clasp fastens it securely in place where she finds it instantly without searching.

A SLENDER, GRACEFUL SHAPE; YET HOLDS PLENTY OF INK—for today's woman insists that all her belongings be as practical as they are beautiful.

NYE GROUP FINISHES NORTH CAROLINA QUIZ

TENNESSEE GOAL TODAY

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The Senate campaign funds investigating committee today decided in the negative on the major charge against the North Carolina primary—that of use of large sums of money from outside sources.

Winding up two days of inquiry with a brief hearing here, Senator Gerald P. Nye, Republican, of North Dakota, chairman of the committee, said that there was no evidence to substantiate such a charge.

He indicated that there might be further inquiry into the primary, but that it would be limited to investigation of charges of illegal voting and of the amounts spent by county committees in behalf of senatorial candidates. The latter amounts are not reported to the secretary of state and under North Carolina precedent have never been included in the $10,000 maximum limitation placed upon a senatorial candidate's expenditures.

Nye Goes to Tennessee.

Senator Roscoe C. Patterson (Republican), Missouri, third member of the committee to come to North Carolina, left for Washington.

A report of a "big check" being sent to Asheville from out of the State in furtherance of Josiah W. Bailey's campaign for the Democratic senatorial nomination brought the committee here.

Knowledge of Check Denied.

The committee members did not reveal the amount of the reported "slush fund" check, but G. Lyle Jones, manager of Bailey's campaign in Buncombe County, testified that there had been rumors here that one for $25,000 had been received by a bank here and distributed among Bailey's supporters. He denied that this was true.

Before hearing Jones, the committee called Wallace B. Davis, president of the Central Bank & Trust Co. He was asked if a large sum of "outside money" had been sent to North Carolina for use in the primary and had been handled through his bank. He disclaimed any knowledge of any such transactions.

Aid of Hoover Reports On Hurricane Damage

Eliot Wadsworth, of Boston, special representative of President Hoover to survey the hurrican damage in Santo Domingo, yesterday reported to the Chief Executive that the producing units of the island in the rural regions were unimpaired, with only the trading center of Santo Domingo damaged.

Mr. Wadsworth said the principal emergency of the island now is financial and that two representatives of the government, Elias Brache, jr., and Roberto Despradel, were en route to Washington to confer with this Government over the question of obtaining a loan.

Flies Without Steering.

Fuerth, Bavaria, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Flying a new airplane for two and a half hours without touching the steering gear was the feat accomplished by Pilot Wiehler of the Focke-Wulf works, of Bremen, when he recently delivered a machine of the "Buzzard" type here. As soon as he reached the desired altitude he set the wheel according to his compass in a straight line for this Bavarian city. The plane never swerved.

Missouri corn cobs that are manufactured into pipes have an annual retail value of over $30,000,000.

HAITI GOES TO POLLS; MARINES STAY AWAY

30 INEBRIATES SEIZED

Port au Prince, Haiti, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—While American Marines remained in their barracks, the people of Haiti today held without disorder their first parliamentary election since American intervention in the island republic's affairs in 1915.

Early returns indicated that three of the presidential candidates, Constantin Mayard, Charles Zamor, and Seymour Pradel, had been elected to the Senate.

Orderly crowds assembled in front of the newspaper offices here tonight to get the latest returns in the balloting for 15 senators and 36 deputies, who will meet in November as a national assembly to choose Haiti's next president from among their number.

The new chief executive will succeed Eugene Roy, provisional president, since May 15, when Louis Borno completed his eight-year tenure of office.

Fifteen men were arrested today on charges of trying to repeata votes at the polls. About 30 were arrested for intixaction, although the saloons were closed while the election booths were open. There were frequent toasts to the political success of various candidates, rum having been distributed among the voters during the parliamentary campaign.

While the people of Haiti voted, the American Marines stayed in barracks. The Garde D'Haiti, trained by the Marines was on the alert for any trouble. A Garde unit in the capital was called out several times to calm a crowd that included supporters of J. Jolibois Fils, a newspaper man running for parliament as a labor leader.

The present election is the outcome of the work done here last spring by President Hoover's Haitian Commission, headed by W. Cameron Forbes, now United States Ambassador to Japan.

13 CAMP CONVICTS ESCAPE IN CAROLINA

Posse of 50 Men Search for Prisoners; One Held by Trusty.

GUARDS ARE DISCHARGED

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Escape of thirteen convicts, some of them serving long terms for murder, from the Person County Prison Camp, was disclosed tonight by State Prison officials here. The getaway was made last night after the sawing of bars in a cell block.

The fugitives included Sam Lineberry, serving 20 to 25 years, from Columbus County, for murder; John Yanalavich, Henderson County, five to ten years for highway robbery; Jim Wilson, Gaston County, 22½ to 30 years for murder; Charles B. Phillips, New Hanover, 26 to 28 years for murder; Taft Guyton, Bladen County, 7 to 12 years for murder; Henry Francis, Halifax County, 5 to 7 years for larceny and 12 to 15 years for murder, and Eugene Davis, McDowell County, 14 to 20 years for assault with a deadly weapon.

A posse of 50 men, headed by Capt. J. H. Loftin, in charge of the camp, made a fruitless search for the fugitives today. The escape was discovered by E. C. Hilton, a trusty, who caught one prisoner in the act of getting away, halted him, spread the alarm and prevented the possible escape of others of the 71 convicts in the camp.

Two men, a cell corporal and a guard, whose names were withheld, were blamed for the escape and were summarily discharged, prison officials announced.

Rankin Says Present Tariff Fosters Causes for World Conflicts.

VETERANS' BUREAU HIT

Sharp criticism of the Hoover administration for unemployment, the general depression, the stock market crash a year ago and what he termed "the growing enmity of the rest of the world against the United States for our high tariff wall," among other charges, were leveled by Representative John E. Rankin (Democrat), of Mississippi, in an address last night.

He appeared before a meeting of the District of Columbia Democratic Women's Educational Conference, held at the Women's National Democratic Club, 1526 New Hampshire avenue northwest, in substituting for Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, former Governor of Wyoming, who was called out of the city unexpectedly yesterday. Miss Mae Helm, president of the conference, presided.

"The President is more responsible for the stock market crash than any man," declared Representative Rankin. "One thing that caused the crash was erecting the high tariff wall. Canada, naturally, is retaliating. They are talking of the same thing at the British imperial conference. Briand's idea for free trade in Europe is another instance. All of this means further curtailing our trade. It means that by our high tariff we are fostering the very causes of international conflicts that have led to wars in the past."

He charged that the Republican party had encouraged the exploitation of the Philippines, Porto Rico, Alaska, and that the administration's policy in Latin America was breeding trouble there. He also took occasion to rap the Veterans' Bureau, and said that "when the Democratic party comes into power in these elections on November 4 we're going to do some housecleaning there." He deplored what he called the high expense in operating the bureau, whose aggregate salaries of employes amount to $43,000,000 annually.

Cubans Like Hot Dogs.

Havana, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The American "hot dog" of Coney Island fame has reached such a degree of popularity that the typically Cuban snack, the papa rellena, or meat stuffed potato, has been crowded out, there being a "hot dog alley" where only "perros calientes" may be found.

A fact you should not overlook

MORE red-cells in the blood! Good health and resistance to infection and disease, depend on that. If a lowered red-cell count is allowed to continue, ANEMIA often results.

S.S.S. should be your safeguard. A hundred years of experience has proved its usefulness in building red-cells in the blood. Take it before meals. Millions of people have found it the easiest and surest way to restore their red-blood-cells. The appetite picks up, the whole body is strengthened, invigorated! Get S.S.S.—take it and possess a wonderful power of new life and vitality. Ask for the large size. At all drug stores. © S.S.S. Co.

How to recognize a low blood count

Blood is Life! You cannot count your own red-blood-cells—that is technical! But you should know that they are the "ships" that sail in the blood and carry nourishment to all parts of the body. Also, they remove impurities from the tissues.

You can recognize a lowered count by the way you look and feel—such as body weakness, lack of appetite, underweight, paleness, sallow complexion, boils and pimples. They may indicate that you need S.S.S.

S.S.S.—the great blood tonic—stimulates the blood-building organs to supply the necessary red-cells. If your vitality and clear skin are slipping away from you, try S.S.S.

Builds Sturdy Health

TROUBLE IS FEARED IN TEXTILE STRIKE

CHIEF OF MILL RETURNS

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., Oct. 14.—Admission by the local textile union leaders that they "could not be responsible for any untoward situation that might develop as result of the effect of the mill management in ignoring the demands of 4,000 workers," and the return to his desk of H. R. Fitzgerald, mill president, were the developments today in the labor situation. The mill president declined an opportunity to say something about the textile situation.

Uneasiness by the union officials over the possibility of trouble was due in the main to a now general realization that the mills are gradually functioning more strongly and that picketing does not hold down accessions to the loyal workers.

It was reported today that 400 looms were running in No. 4 mill and that all processes from the picker room to the warp rooms were operating sufficiently to clothe the looms with thread. Nearly 3,000 union operatives crowded the gates early today and at quitting time and opened a vocal outburst as the so-called strikebreakers went in and emerged.

C. W. Bolick, union organizer, commenting on the tenseness of the situation, said by those experienced in strikes to follow invariably the first reaction to idleness, commented on the alleged attempt to bring in strike breakers to the mills and said it was "to be deplored," adding that it "might precipitate a situation that would be regretted. The workers of the mill here deserve some consideration after the long years of service most of them have given the mills."

Two acts of violence have been reported to the police. H. C. Deddman, overseer of a cardroom says that unidentified persons entered his garage at night, slashed his car tires and cut the upholstery.

William L. Strader who has worked in the mill boxroom has reported a similar act of vandalism. No arrests have been made.

Differences of opinion were expressed relative to the alleged strike breakers. Union checkers said they were persons hitherto refused jobs in the mills. The other view was that they are mostly workers who have not joined the union and who, feeling the pinch of want, are running the gantlet of jeers to resume an earning basis.

Son Will Seek Dead Representative's Seat

Charles Forrest Curry, of Sacramento, Calif., son of the late Representative Curry, today announced he would be a candidate to succeed his father as representative from the Third California District.

Mr. Curry, who served overseas as a captain in the Army Air Corps for nearly two years, was his father's assistant since the Sixty-third Congress. The senior Curry, who died Friday night, had won both the Republican and Democratic nominations from the Third District. Young Curry was urged by many friends and Republican organizations in the Third District to become a candidate for the seat. He advised them that if elected he would follow his father in "policy, practice and principle." He is 36 years old and was recently married.

Man Accidentally Shot, Badly Hurt, by Son, 19

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 14.—Thad W. Griffin, of Chester, 9 miles from Petersburg, was accidentally shot and dangerously wounded by his son, Nelson, 19, in their home Sunday. The bullet fired from a pistol struck Griffin in the right breast and punctured a lung.

He received first aid by a Chester physician and then was taken to a Richmond hospital. It was stated today that Griffin had gone to the lower floor of his home, which was in darkness, to get something to eat after the family had gone to bed. When he started back up the stairs his son heard him and, believing him a burglar, opened fire with a pistol. His condition today was reported to be only fair.

Virginia Library Group To Meet in Petersburg

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 14.—The Virginia Library Association will hold its annual convention in St. Paul's Parish House here, October 24 and 25. The convention will be presided over by Thomas P. Ayer, chief librarian of the Richmond public library.

One of the principal speakers will be Dr. George F. Bowerman, chief librarian of Washington's library system and a past president of the American Library Association. His subject will be "The New Biography." On October 24 the Woman's and Study Clubs of Petersburg will entertain the visitors at a tea, and on October 25 they will be luncheon guests of Petersburg.

My Friends: Correct Your Eating Faults and Lose Your Fat With Kruschen Salts

Yes, I'm 45 today—built like a race horse, my friends say—and I know I feel ten years younger than I did three months ago—and I'd hate to tell you how much fat I lost with Kruschen.

I call Kruschen Salts the "magic salts" because when I was fat and wretched, despondent and half sick all the time—it took only one bottle that I bought for 85 cents at Peoples Drug Stores to liven me up—put ambition and energy into me—make me feel years younger and with the help of a change in diet show me how to lose the fat I was so ashamed of.

Cut out pastries and desserts—go easy on potatoes, cream, cheese and butter—eat lean meat, chicken, fish, vegetables and fruits and never fail to take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

Every drug store worthy of the name in the world sells Kruschen Salts—an 85-cent bottle lasts four weeks—not much to pay for buoyant health.

IN THE PLAYHOUSE

By JOHN J. DALY

JOSEPH M. GAITES, the New York producer, is about the busiest man in show business these days. He is opening plays in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, and Great Neck for the Shuberts. Last week he brought in "Everybody's Secret," to the Belasco flying under the banner of the Professional Players. This week he has an interest in "Scarlet Sister Mary," the Daniel Reed-Julia Peterkin play starring Ethel Barrymore. After seeing a rehearsal here yesterday afternoon Mr. Gaites hopped aboard an airplane and flew to New York, to be in New Haven last night for another play opening. Incidentally, he will work the latter part of this week in Great Neck, replacing Jane Bromley in "Everybody's Secret" with Miriam Hopkins, for whom the play was originally purchased.

• • • •

Mr. Stoddard Taylor, manager of the Belasco Theater, is enjoying the greatest week's business this house has seen in many months. Next week he hopes for a continuation of the lines at the box office. Then, A. A. Milne's delightful fantasy, "Michael and Mary," comes sailing into town with Madge Kennedy in the stellar role. At the National, Mr. Harry Rapley, because of an unprecedented seat sale, is being besieged to hold over the first all-talking picture made by David Wark Griffith, the life story of Abraham Lincoln, in which Walter Huston does his greatest screen impersonation. This would give the picture a two-week's run in Washington. Mr. Huston, it may be remembered, played his first stage part in this city. It was in the old Garrick Theater, the play being "Mr. Pitt," from the pen of Zona Gale.

Silk stockings still being in fashion, Mr. Jimmy Lake, manager of the Gayety Theater, has booked an attraction called "Silk Stocking Revue," and this combination of vaudeville and burlesque will get under way next Sunday night. Featured in the cast is that stellar comic, Frank X. Silk—the X standing for Xavier. Mr. Silk, without a high hat, plays one of the best tramp roles on the circuit.

LITTLE COLLEEN MOORE, the Irish comedienne who won so many honors in the films, has stepped out on the stage in a play called "On the Loose," and this work of the theater was booked into the National Theater for Thanksgiving week. Just when the bill-posters and others were getting ready to take out the eight-sheets and other advertising matter, word came yesterday that this attraction is being shifted to some other city, that Washington will not see it till later, if then. In the meantime, the switch in bookings will bring Basil Rathbone and William Faversham, with other stage celebrities, in a play the title of which will be announced later. It sounds like an all-star cast out of the George Tyler offices.

• • • •

Mr. Duke Foose, manager of the Washington Auditorium, has a way of shunning the spotlight these days, devoting his time mostly to fishing and the staging of expositions for the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade and other organizations. Soon he will be awakened out of his lethargy, for there is coming to his plant one of the mammoth stage productions of all time — the Freiburg Passion Play, a combination production and pageant that will keep several hundred people busy during its stay in Washington. It opens here the week of October 27.

Parnell Foes Plan Jury Funds Quiz

Arkansas Voice New Threat After Losing One Fight Against Governor.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Failing in their efforts to prevent Gov. Parnell's name from being certified as the Democratic nominee for reelection, Republican party leaders tonight said they would demand a special session of the grand jury to probe the governor's alleged excessive use of funds in the primary last August.

Their petition to restrain the secretary of State from certifying Gov. Parnell's name on the ticket at the general election November 4 was dismissed tonight by Chancellor Frank H. Dodge for want of equity. Osro Cobb, secretary of the Republican State committee, filed the petition alleging that Gov. Parnell spent more than $5,000 in the primary campaign, an amount he contended was the legal limit. He announced an appeal would be taken to the supreme court.

Gov. Parnell filed a statement of expenditures last September 9 of $5,950.35. On September 22 he amended the statement by letter in which he said a clerical error had been made in an item of printing. The corrected statement would have placed his total expenditures under the $5,000 mark, which Cobb contended was the legal limit.

Bank Safe of Bob Discovered Empty

Search for Several Million Dollars Worth of Mine Securities Fails.

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Search for several million dollars' worth of securities of Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., failed today when the safe of Charles V. Bob, missing chairman of the company, was opened and found bare. Assistant Attorney General Washburn said he believed the securities might have been divided among three banks, one here, one in Boston, and one in New Jersey. He said his office lacked power to subpena bank records outside this State. Mr. Washburn, acting for the State bureau of securities, began search for Mr. Bob several days ago to question him concerning transactions in the stock of the Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., and Rainbow Luminous Products, Inc. Mr. Bob's friends have said he is resting in Chicago to avoid a nervous breakdown. He went there in his own airplane last week, leaving the plane at a Chicago airport.

Company officials said only Mr. Bob and his confidential secretary, Frederick Russell, know where the securities are. Mr. Washburn discovered today that Mr. Russell also is absent.

Kingsford-Smtih Lands In India on Solo Flight

London, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Dispatches to the Daily Mail from Allahabad, India, today said that Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith had arrived there at 2:15 p. m. on his solo flight from England to Australia.

He is three days ahead of Bert Hinkler's record for the trip, which is fifteen days.

Chicago Churches eSe Rule by Gangs

Greed of Politicians and Fear on Part of Business Men Blamed.

Chicago, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The Chicago Church Federation charged today that Chicago's government "is donated by designing and greedy politicians, gansters and racketeers," who are motivated by "greed for large and easy money." The charge was made in a report on crime conditions by the federation's commission on political action, as approved by its board of trustees.

"This commission," the report said, "is convinced that there is cooperation between the ganster, public officials, newspaper employes and large business interests."

The report then sums up reasons for the alleged conspiracy as follows: Control of law-enforcing agencies by gangsters, from the policeman up to the judge and including taxing and election machinery; the criminals' command of large capital; timidity on the part of business leaders; indifference of voters, with corruption of election officials, and finally the part played by newspapers.

Daughter of Patterson, Publisher, Gets Decree

Chicago, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—A divorce was granted in Superior Court today to Mrs. Alicia Patterson Simpson, daughter of Joseph Medill Patterson, publisher, from James Simpson, jr., son of the chairman of the board of Marshall Field & Co.

Mrs. Simpson charged desertion, saying they were married September 28, 1927, and that her husband left her September 29, 1928.

500 GARDENERS OPEN CAPITAL CONVENTION

ANNUAL DINNER TONIGHT

Five hundred delegates arrived in Washington yesterday for the annual convention of the National Association of Gardeners, official organization of gardeners and garden growers in the United States and Canada. The opening session was held last night at the Willard Hotel, where the convention will be in session until Friday.

Mr. Charles W. Eliot, director of planting, welcomed the delegates to Washington. Addresses were made by Joseph Tansey, president of the association; Dr. E. V. Coville, botanist of the United States Department of Agriculture; and Prof. David Lumsden of the Department of Agriculture.

This morning the election of officers will be followed by a visit to the White House grounds, where representatives of the association will be received by President Hoover in the presence of the delegates. A buffet luncheon at the estate of Robert Woods Bliss will be followed by a drive to the Cathedral and grounds and through Rock Creek Park.

The annual banquet will be held tonight with Dr. Coville as toastmaster. The program will center in the International Peace Garden, a garden of thousands of acres which the National Association of Gardeners will establish on the boundary line between Canada and the United States as a living memoral to the century of peace that has existed between the two neighbor counties.

The project has been sponsored by an international committee of men and women prominent in the United States and Canada, including Albert C. Burrage, the Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, D. D., Martin L. Davey, Pierre S. du Pont, Mrs. Henry Ford, the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, D. D., Frank S. Lowden, Mrs. William A. Lockwood, E. P. Luke, Miss Marion H. McClench, Adolph Ochs, Col. Hugh A. Rose, Mrs. John F. Sippel, Alfred E. Smith, Sir Henry W. Thornton, K. B. D., Senator Thomas J. Walsh and Owen D. Young.

TRAINED TRUSTEES IN HOSPITALS URGED

X-RAY BURNS AVERTED

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—A recommendation that boards of trustees of hospitals be composed of persons trained in hospital administration was made today by Dr. Paul Keller, a director of Beth-Israel Hospital, Newark, N. J., in speaking at the twentieth annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

"Hospital boards of trustees on the whole are not equipped as experts to give direction in the conduct of that most important part of our communal life, the hospital," Dr. Keller said.

An X-ray apparatus which eliminates the burns and shock to which physicians may expose themselves was described by Dr. Edward S. Blaine, radiologist of the Wesley Memorial Hospital, Chicago.

Thread Tests Approved.

The college went on record as approving a culture method of testing surgical threads explained by Dr. Frank L. Meleney, of the department of surgery, Columbia University. Dr. Meleney criticized certain manufacturers of the thread because, he said, they do not test them sufficiently before delivery.

Dr. Allen Craig, of Chicago, urged monthly conferences between hospital administrators and the surgical and medical staffs and made a plea that physicians retain the "human touch" in their contacts with patients.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, professor of pharmacology, of the University of California, described for the ninth annual congress of anesthetists an anesthetic which he said was expected to eliminate nausea. The anesthetic, he said, is a combination of ether and ethylene and in experiments has not irritated or depressed respiration.

The death rate from appendicitis complications is on the increase, according to Dr. Hubert A. Royster, of Raleigh, N. C., who gave a radio address today in connection with the sessions.

Check on Health Urged.

Dr. Arvin Abell, of Louisville, Ky., in a radio address, advised the public to call on the doctor not only in times of sickness, but also at regular intervals to have him "make a check-up" on individual health.

Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher, of Chicago, vice president of the American College of Surgeons, in an address before the Kiwanis Club, attacked physicians who split fees. He said the doctor who turns over a patient to a man who may not be a good surgeon, merely because he will get part of the fee, is endangering the lives of his patients.

Fugitive Baltimore Girl Sought Here.

Merchants Oppose Closing of Street

Association Writes Crosby of Engraving Bureau Situation.

Closing of Fourteenth street between D and B streets northwest for two hours each afternoon was opposed by the board of governors of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association in a letter sent yesterday to Commissioner Herbert B. Crosby.

The letter also suggested that Fourteenth street south of B street be widened, and that until this is done all automobiles parking on the street between B street northwest and D street southwest be eliminated. Elimination of this parking will permit continuance of through traffic at all hours, the letter pointed out.

Closing Fourteenth street between B and D streets was decided for the benefit of the changing crews at the Bureau of Engraving. The association suggests that pedestrians be safeguarded by arranging for loading of street cars on B street rather than on Fourteenth street or on a spur track constructed into the grounds of the Bureau of Engraving.

CHAMBER CAMPAIGN UNIT MEETS TODAY

ANNUAL MEETING SOON

New memberships in the Washington Chamber of Commerce are expected to exceed the 300 mark today when teams report at a luncheon at the Washington Hotel. This will be the first luncheon of team workers since Friday.

The membership drive closes on Friday, when the new membership roster is expected to be at least 500, the quota set. Workers are being spurred to a final lap of enthusiasm by inspiring talks from President Charles W. Darr, Rudolph Jose, vice president and chairman of the expansion campaign; Col. E. G. Bliss, George Kneipp and others.

Radio talks are being made each night this week, informing the public on details of the chamber expansion program and the Washington forward movement. Mr. Kneipp spoke last night over station WRC. Col. Bliss speaks tonight over station WMAL. Mr. Jose will speak Thursday night.

Martin Leese has called a meeting of the plural membership committee just before the luncheon at the Washington today. Ten teams working under this committee have enrolled a large number of Washington concerns in the membership of the chamber.

The annual meeting of the chamber will be held next Tuesday, when new directors will be elected. Nominations for directors closed yesterday.

Dominions Discuss Wheat Quota Plan

Empire Conference Body Figures on Filling British Needs.

London, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Wheat took the stage at the British Imperial conference today, with a committee set up for that purpose discussing the establishment of a quota system for British wheat.

Under such a plan Great Britain's wheat needs would be met by a fixed percentage of home-produced grain, plus fixed percentages from the dominions and then from foreign countries.

Today's discussion was extremely technical, concluding with the decision that the suggested scheme should be examined by experts, who would report to the committee later. Lord Sankey's committee, established to study certain aspects of interimperial relations, also met. It discussed routine questions.

$30,000,000 Radio Damage Suit Filed

Grigsby-Grunow Firm Accuses R. C. A. and Other Interests.

Harrison, N. J., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Papers were served today in the $30,000,000 damage suit of the Grigsby-Grunow Co., Chicago radio manufacturers, against the RCA Radiotron Co., Radio Corporation of America, General Electric Co., Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. and the RCA-Victor Co.

Charges of an alleged unlawful combination through "cross-licenses" are contained in the complaint which was served on officials of the RCA Radiotron Co. of this city.

Actual damages of nearly $10,000,000 are alleged in the complaint but under provisions of the antitrust acts a total of $30,000,000 is sought. The complainant says the defendants control more than 4,000 radio patents.

STOCK PRICES GAIN FROM 2 TO 8 POINTS

WHEAT AND CORN RISE

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The Stock Market rebounded strongly today after an early interval of weakness. Grains improved and liquidation in bonds dried up materially so that speculative sentiment, which is at present extremely fickle, had one of its good days.

Representative equities closed 2 to 8 points higher in a total turnover of 3,889,050 shares. Of greater interest than the gains, however, was the evidence offered by the loaning rates, which showed that borrowers were willing to pay premiums to get stocks like U. S. Steel, American Can, American Water Works, North American and Westinghouse Electric.

Some quarters were quick to suggest that the loaning rate figures indicated an attempt to squeeze the bears by making it difficult to obtain stocks for delivery. It was reported that some firms were refusing to lend shares, but the number that had done so was believed to be small. Nevertheless, the long list of issues loaning at premiums or "flat" was generally taken as an indication that a substantial short interest did exist.

Rally Starts at Noon.

Today's rally, based largely on covering, developed early in the afternoon. Week-end accumulation of distress selling pushed prices sharply lower at the outset and although the leaders managed to hold their heads above last week's lows, they came uncomfortably near those levels, and as a matter of fact, about 150 stocks did touch the minimums for the year before the market turned its 1 to 5 points net losses into gains.

The slow and orderly withdrawal of the shorts was preceded by favorable news. Of considerable importance was the story told by the weekly condition statement of Federal Reserve member banks, revealing a $215,000,000 drop in loans on securities, which brought the total to the lowest since midday. This was viewed as a constructive development, since brokers' loans have been declining at a much faster pace, causing uneasiness in circles which feared that the banks were carrying too heavy a burden.

Commercial loans advanced $15,000,000 in the week covered by the report, the second consecutive interval in which a rise has occurred in this important item. Wall street was not inclined to put too much faith in this increase, however, for it has been fooled several times into believing that the long-awaited turn had come in the demand for credit. When considered in the light of firmer tendencies in the money markets, however, the upward trend acquired more significance.

American Phone Earnings Up.

American Telephone's third-quarter earnings improved over the second three months of the year. The margin was small, but President Gifford pointed out that each month of 1930 had shown a gain in business done in comparison with last year.

The early weakness of stocks was especially noticeable in the investment shares. United States Steel dipped nearly 4 points to 144¾, only one-quarter for the low. American Can, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical and American Telephone were also heavy, while on the Chicago grain market wheat prices went to new lows for the season on losses averaging more than a cent. The stubborn resistance met on the decline led to the abandonment of aggressive operations for the decline and from shortly after noon until the close, stocks climbed almost steadily.

Allied Chemical, which had broken below 200 for the first time this year, finished 8¾ points higher. U. S. Steel was unchanged, although it had risen a point, but there were net advances of 2 to 3 in American Can, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, Sears Roebuck, Westinghouse, Loew's and Woolworth.

Fox Gains 3 Points.

Fox was particularly strong, advancing more than 3 points coincident with the election of representatives of prominent banking interests to the board. General Motors, one of the issues reaching new low ground on the morning break, finished 1½ higher. Western Union and Eastman Kodak were up 6 and General Theater Equipment 5¾.

Wheat's net gains ranged from a minor fraction to 1 cent. Buying was based on a bullish Australian estimate and unfavorable weather in Canada. Corn closed from ⅛ to 1⅛ cents higher on a firm Southwest market and a better cash demand. Cotton ended the day 1 point higher to 10 lower.

The German mark was the outstanding firm spot in the generally easy list of European exchanges, its action reflecting the $125,000,000 credit for which arrangements are being completed. The Spanish peseta set a record low.

DOMESTIC LIST OFF AS BOND SALES SINK

Several More Active Issues of South Americans Move Forward.

CARRIER GROUP HARD HIT

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Activity in the bond market fell off sharply today as liquidation pursued so vigorously last week showed further signs of abatement. Domestic bonds lost ground and the foreign list moved irregularly, being featured by improvement in South American obligations.

Bargain hunters attracted by the drastic declines in Latin-American issues during the first four days of last week forced an upturn in some of the most active issues of Brazil, Chile, Argentine, Peru, Colombia and Uruguay. Those further depressed to new lows for the year were small in number and declines were in a very thin market.

John H. Fitch, president of the Fitch Publishing Co., Inc., statisticians, issued a statement cautioning against sacrificing stocks and bonds because of unreasoning fear of the overthrow of Latin-American governments. It is his firm conviction, he said, that while service payments on the loans of some weaker political divisions of some Latin-American countries may be deferred from time to time, ultimate payment of principal and interest on all of these loans is assured on the basis of known factors.

German Bonds Firmer.

Announcement that a $125,000,000 credit had been extended to the German government by an international banking syndicate that includes American houses had a firming effect upon German bonds, and the 7s and 5½s closed unchanged.

Offerings will be made soon of a new issue of $3,500,000 6 per cent convertible gold bonds of the Seaboard Continental Corporation, Paterson, N. J., is offering $7,903,000 4¼s tomorrow.

Latin-American issues showing the best recovery included Brazil 6½s of '26-'57 and '27-'57, up ¼ and 2 points, respectively; Anticobia first and second 7s, Argentine 6s of 1960, Chile 6s of 1960, and Chile Mortgage Bank 6s of 1962, Peru first and second 6s, Rio Grande do Sul 7s and 6s, on the downside; Sao Paulo 7s of 1956 dropped 30 points on a few sales to 50. Rio de Janeiro 6½s were the most active foreign issue, dropping 3 points to a new year's low at 48. Montivedio City 6s, Porto Alegre 7½s, Brazil Central Electric Railway 7s, Chile and Colombia Mortgage Bank issues were others that sold off sharply.

Seaboard 6s Decline.

All sections of the domestic list moved lower. Railroad bonds were among the most reactionary. Chesapeake & Ohio general 4½s, Chicago & Eastern Illinois 5s, St. Paul 5s of 1975, Colorado & Southern 4½s A, Denver & Rio Grande Western General 5s, Erie 5s of 1975 and lien 4s, Florida East Coast 5s, Illinois Central 4s, International Great Northern 6s, Seaboard 6s, Southern Pacific 4s, were among the rails to lose a point or more.

In the utility group, American and Foreign Power 5s rallied more than a point. American Telephone debenture 5s of 1960 gained ⅝, and Brooklyn Union Gas 5s were up 1¼. Nassau Electric 4s, Public Service Electric & Gas 5s and 4½s of 1967, Rochester Gas & Electric 5½s C, and Utility Power & Light 5s sold off sharply.

Stock privilege issues dipped with shares but made only a partial recovery. Amusements were weak.

U. S. Governments were firm.

Additional offerings tomorrow will include $12,200,000 City of Chicago 5⅜ per cent anticipation warrants; $2,526,000 City of Atlantic City, N. J., 4½ per cent bonds, and $1,500,000 St. Louis County, Mo., 4¼s.

BOND BUYING URGED BY INVESTMENT UNIT

Financial Advertisers Say Issues Will Probably Gain in Value.

OPTIMISM NEEDS CITED

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

It is in times like the present that careful investors make the greatest financial progress. It is emphasized by the Investment Research Committee of the Financial Advertisers Association in a resume of conditions in the bond market today.

"Summarizing the situation at the present," the statement says, "in bonds, investors can now buy more income for less money and enjoy the higher rate of interest for years to come. And it is not to be forgotten that bonds purchased at current prices may, later, show appreciation in value. It is a time for confident action in taking advantage of present investment opportunities in the bond market.

In the discussion it is shown that commodity prices have now reached a lower level than at any time since 1916, resulting in an enhanced purchasing power of a dollar, which adds to the unusual advantage of fixed income bearing securities. When commodity prices are on the decline, bond income is worth more in purchasing power.

New Banking Firm.

John B. Stetson, jr., former United States Minister to Poland and son of the founder of the hat manufacturing company of that name, and Daniel S. Blackman, formerly a partner in the banking firm of Boenning & Co., have formed a new banking firm under the name of Stetson & Blackman, opening offices in Philadelphia to engage in a general investment banking business.

Mr. Stetson's entrance into the investment field follows a period of five years spent in the midst of the finances of Continental Europe. As minister at Warsaw, his duties and activities centered largely on matters relating to governmental and private loans to that country as well as the financing growing out of the extensive trade built up between this country and Poland. He resigned his post at Warsaw January 1.

American Telephone Data.

In a letter to stockholders of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., President Walter S. Gifford stated yesterday:

"The present volume of business of the Bell System is favorable when compared with the level of general industrial activity. Each month of the year has shown an increase in the business done over the same month of last year. For the nine months this year the increase was 3 per cent over the same nine months last year. After three months during which the telephones disconnected exceeded those connected, there has been a net gain in September. The net gain in telephones for the nine months was 120,000.

"The number of shareholders has increased 70,000 since the first of the year. The total at the end of September was 540,000."

Directors of the Washington Loan & Trust Co. have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent payable November 1, to stockholders of record October 24. Books will be closed for transfer of stock from October 24 to November 1, both dates inclusive.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—An early decline attributed to Southern selling and to relatively easy showing of Liverpool over the holiday was followed by rallies in the cotton market here today.

Offerings were light after the early selling had run its course, and prices advanced on some trade buying and covering promoted by the steadier ruling of the stock market. New December contracts, after selling off to 10.33 under the early pressure, advanced to 10.51 and closed at 10.45 compared with 10.52 at the close of last Saturday's session. The general market closed steady net 1 point higher to 10 points lower, generally 3 to 8 points lower.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 9 to 14 points under rather active selling, which seemed to come chiefly from the South. The offering was supposed to reflect an accumulation of hedging over the holiday while the relatively easy showing of Liverpool brought in some liquidation or local selling. Notices representing about 2,400 bales were said to have been issued against new October contracts, which led to some liquidation of that position, with active months showing net declines of about 18 to 21 points before the initial offerings were absorbed.

This carried March off to 10.05, but contracts became comparatively scarce after the early selling subsided, and the market just about recovered its losses in the later trading on covering on trade buying which may have been influenced by the absence of more aggressive selling, and the steadiness of stocks and grain. March sold up to 10.85, or 2 points higher, while near months recovered the greater part of their early losses, but the close was slightly off from the best under realizing and a renewal of Southern selling.

Reports from the New Orleans conference came in for some comment as a constructive feature, but were not very generally referred to as an immediate market factor. The influence chiefly discussed in connection with the fluctuations appeared to be the early selling by the South and the steadiness in grain and stocks during the afternoon.

Liverpool cables said there had been local and Bombay liquidation over the holiday in that market. Exports today, 20,338, making 1,624,786 so far this season. Port receipts, 85,139. United States port stocks, 3,153,204.

Curb Review

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The curb market sold off substantially, only to rebound in its more active spots today, leaving a mixed assortment of gains and losses at the close.

Trading was in fair volume, the day's sales aggregating 778,300 shares. The wider declines were again in the stocks which have been lightly traded and largely neglected of late, and represented lack of bids rather than urgent liquidation.

Oils recovered substantially after early heaviness, apparently reflecting the action of the Oklahoma Supreme Court in upholding the constitutionality of the State's conservation law. Cities Service sold off nearly a point, then rallied to close up three-fourths. Gulf regained most of a 2-point drop. Humble closed steady and Indiana was off a fraction.

Electric Bond & Share remained an active feature, declining 2 points, then rallying to close about 2 net higher. American Gas & Electric and Middle West Utilities closed about a point higher. A further break of about 3 points in Brazilian Traction was partly in response to decision of the management to pay the next dividend in scrip instead of cash. It rallied before the close, however, and finished only a fraction net lower. Power Co. of Canada dropped 15 points in a few sales.

The industrials and specialties showed several weak spots among the lightly traded issues. Deere dropped more than 7 points and closed off 4¾. Aluminum Co. dropped 5 points, to 175, a new low. Dow Chemical tumbled 6, to a new bottom at 49. Fireman's Fund lost nearly 12, recording a new low under 90.

Prince & Whitely Trading was again a weak spot in the investment trusts, the preferred dropping more than 5 points, to 12. Goldman Sachs was well supported, and closed steady. Ungerleider Financial rallied more than 2 points. In the holding company group, United Founders rallied fractionally.

G. U. ANTICIPATES AIR BATTLE WITH W. MARYLAND

Westbrook Pegler Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Pursuant to the recommendations of the young man in Macon, Ga., who proposed a subsidy for the football players at the local university, I wonder if, in fairness to the athletes, they should not be paid off on a percentage basis. The young man who broached the idea was frank as far as he went. He told the merchants of the town at a luncheon of the Lions Club that a good football team would draw much business to their stores on Saturday in the fall and suggested that the only way to get a good football team nowadays was to pay the market price in "inducements."

But all he proposed as a player's subsidy was room, board and tuition, and this strikes me as a pretty cheap bid for valuable talent. If the players are to be placed on a professional basis, the only fair way to do is to pay them money in proportion to the money they draw, not only at the restaurants and stores, but at the stadium turnstiles as well.

This, of course, would be outright professionalism and contrary to the dearest illusions of those who still regard football as a romantic sport, but, from the standpoint of honesty, outright professionalism seems much more desirable than subsidized amateurism.

Looking for Signs Of Players' Revolt.

I am beginning to look for signs of a revolt among the football players, especially at institutions where the coaches are commercial opportunists with a lucrative trade in ghosted essays, indorsements and athletic goods. The athletes, in many cases, make sacrifices in order to play football, and I should think a young man with introspective intelligence and a good triple threat might sit himself down some night and figure out that it would be in no way reprehensible for him to accept a share of the money which he earns for others.

If the team is playing to a net gate revenue of, say, $300,000 in a season, and the coach is imposing on his own distinction, derived from the achievements of the players, to the extent of $25,000 a year in unearned pickings, and the merchants of the town are doing quadruple business on football days in the fall, the young men who perform the show might easily justify themselves in demanding a players' pool of, say, 20 per cent of the net.

This would be good for the self-respect of the players, who would then be able to pay their own way without any sense of mooching their living, and it would be good for the honor of the college, too. The football treasuries in some instances have money to spend for publicity, for banquets, and for the travel and maintenance of scouts on long journeys by rail and air.

Athletes' Ideals Are Guarded.

To a player living in an attic room up an alley and avoiding social life because he has no money, it must seem strange that none of this money can be paid to him lest his soul be tarnished and his ideals degraded.

Of course, in such a case, it would be necessary for the college to proclaim what it was doing, but that would not be a very serious step to take in any school which already issues cheap subsidies.

I anticipate that the merchants would find many objections to a percentage agreement affecting their profits, but I am sure a great many college students could argue the other side of the case. In preparing the memoirs of Mr. Red Grange, a year ago, I learned from him that the college town merchant is quite alert to the necessities of the self-supporting students and is always willing to impose on them. In certain hours of the day, student labor is cheap and abundant, and such is the competition of the poor students for jobs that will afford them any kind to lift, that wages are hammered down. The townies bear a resentment toward the students for undercutting their minimum requirements.

Believes Football Finest Sport.

If I ever get around to writing the recollections of a none too useful life, I shall probably have great difficulty explaining why football has been to me the finest sport on the program of a nation devoted to games. In most of the football games which I observe, the players are almost all total strangers, devoid of personality, whom I am able to identify only by the numbers on their backs. If these numbers get muddled on a wet field, or if the coach, in his mysterious wisdom, has jumbled the numbers for the purpose of deceiving the opposition, then the players have no more individuality than so many commuters dashing through the tunnels of the Grand Central at the rush hour.

Personal devotion to individual heroes, therefore, does not enter into the fascination. Rather, it is composed of girls in furs and chrysanthemums, autumn beauty, a trace of melancholy envy of youth, the tang of burning leaves, festivity, pageantry, sport and glory, and whatever those ingredients make—that's it.

Feeling thus about football, I have been loath to believe that the game must ever be professionalized at all and it strikes me that it could be completely amateurized again if the

Women's Golf Marked by Upset

Mrs. Potter Defeats Edith Quier, 1 Up, in U. S. Tourney.

Mrs. O. S. Hill and Glenna Collett Are Easy Victors.

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND.

LOS ANGELES COUNTRY CLUB, Los Angeles, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Led by the brilliant defending champion, Glenna Collett, and the imperturbable Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, medalist, favorites, with one exception, stroked their way to victories today in first-round matches of the 1930 women's national amateur golf championship.

The upset, unexpected but nevertheless not as spectacular as the rankings of the participants would indicate, saw Miss Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., member of this year's International Cup Team, defeated by Mrs. Brent Potter, of San Jose, Calif., 2 up.

Mrs. Potter, a veteran campaigner, never has engaged in a major tournament before; but among her golfing souvenirs is a northern California title, and this year she reached the runner-up station in the State championship. She outsteadied her younger opponent throughout and was 2 up at the turn. Mrs. Potter had a 41 for the first nine to 43 for Miss Quier.

Glenna Collett Unbeatable.

Miss Collett, seeking her third successive title and fifth all-time championship, set an unbeatable pace to eliminate Mrs. Harry Grossman, of Los Angeles, 6 and 4. The New York star, seasoned by long competition, snatched the first four holes before her rival could gain her bearings.

Medalist yesterday and national semifinalist last year, Mrs. Hill advanced to the second round with a 4-to-3 victory over Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis. The outgoing stretch was a nip-and-tuck affair, Mrs. Hill finished the nine one-up. Each posted 42s.

The Kansas City player kept straight down the course on the incoming holes, while Miss Wall started pressing from the tee.

Two former champions, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, and Miss Marion Hollins, of Santa Cruz, Calif., moved into the second round without difficulty. Mrs. Hurd, who won the first of her three national crowns in 1909, eliminated Mrs. Russell Fowles, of Long Beach, Calif., 6 and 4.

Helen Hicks' Golf Best of Day.

Miss Hollins, 1921 champion, showed she still retains her match play game by defeating Mrs. John Taylor, of Evanston, Ill., 3 and 2. Neither Mrs. Hurd or Miss Hollins turned in sensational golf, but their opposition was weak.

The best golf of the day was played by two girls in their teens. Miss Helen Hicks, 19-year-old luminary from Inwood, N. Y., defeated Lucille de Long, 18-year-old girl from Coronado, Calif., 3 and 1. Miss Hicks shot the first nine in 36, one under par, and had she played out the round, a par five from the eighteenth hole would have netted her a 77, four under par.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Los Angeles, vs. Mrs. Roy Green, Culver City, Calif.

Miss Helen Hicks, Inwood, N. Y., vs. Miss Barbara Lee, Oakland, Calif.

Mrs. Harley Hisbie, Detroit, vs. Miss Peggy Wattles, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Brent Potter, San Jose, defeated Miss Edith Quier, Reading, Pa., 2 up.

Mrs. Gregg Lifour, Los Angeles, defeated Miss Marie Saulsberry, Santa Ana, Calif., 7 and 6.

Stagg, Vexed by Drill, Demonstrates to Team; In Hospital Two Days

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Amos Alonzo Stagg, now 68 years old, reluctantly admitted tonight that he perhaps is a little too old to play football against the youngsters he is coaching at the University of Chicago.

Stagg, becoming disgusted at the blocking in a practice session, sprinted from the side lines to show his Maroons just how he blocked when he was a star at Yale 40 years ago. A strapping sophomore named Carl Gabel, of Chicago, accidentally rammed his knee in the "old man's" back during the blocking demonstration. As a result, the dean of America's football coaches was forced to remain in bed for two days.

ON EASTERN GRIDIRONS

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Lateral and forward passes such as Harvard employs gained entirely too much ground against Army's varsity eleven today to suit Head Coach Ralph Sasse. A strong scrub team, impersonating Harvard, scored three times against the varsity, chiefly through passes.

Harvard Hopes Soar As Regulars Return.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Harvard's hopes for a victory over Army on Saturday soared a bit today when Eddie Mays and Jack Orchard, injured back field men, reported for practice. Ogden and Tainer, linemen, will be sufficiently recovered to start against the Cadets, but Talbot, Devens, Gray and Faxon all will be out until the Dartmouth game, at least.

Penn Plans Changes For Wisconsin.

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—With Wisconsin's husky crew to be met next, Penn's foootball squad went through a long and strenuous workout today, especially on defense. Lud Wray, coach of the Red and Blue, intimated he would make several changes in his first string line before the game at Madison. Fearing injuries, Wray has scheduled only one scrimmage this week.

Three Carnegie Teams Prime for Ramblers.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—There is no rest in Carnegie Tech's camp, not with the Notre Dame game at South Bend just ahead. Three full teams were out for practice today. Sample, guard; Morbito, full back, and Armentrout, half back, were inserted into the first-team line-up at times in recognition of their fine work against Georgia Tech.

Stiff Practice For Colgate.

Navy Polishes Passes For Duke Game.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Navy's passes failed to work against Notre Dame, but Coach Ingram is satisfied they will if given the proper attention. He spent most of today's practice session on the aerial attack he hopes to use against Duke and Princeton.

Columbia at Peak For Dartmouth.

New York, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Columbia approaches the Dartmouth game with more confidence than it usually has. For the first time in several years the Lions will be at full strength just before tackling the Indians at Hanover.

Dartmouth Full Back Post Shifted.

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Jackson Cannell shifted his Dartmouth lineup today to make room for Bob Wilkin, of Salt Lake City, at the full back post, held jointly most of the season by Ed Sutton and Henry Johnson.

Cornell Works Out In 80 Degrees.

Capital Youth Shines With Colonials

Kriemelmeyer, Tech Product, to Start Friday Night.

South Dakota Team En Route to Play G. W. Here.

WASHINGTON football fans will see one of their fellow townsmen on the George Washington Eleven which makes its home debut Friday night at Griffith Stadium against South Dakota. "Otts" Kriemelmeyer, Tech High all-high full back in 1928, has just about clinched the full back position on the Colonial Eleven and is slated to start in that position on Friday night. He is the only local boy who will be in the opening line-up.

Besides being a good line plunger, Kriemelmeyer will handle the kicking for his team, sharing that duty with Lee Carlin, who will be ready to jump into the game at the first opportunity on Friday. The former Tech pupil has added a lot of weight lately and should look quite different than when he appeared in a Tech uniform.

South Dakota, which leaves its base, Vermilion, S. Dak., today, is bringing a husky squad to the Nation's Capital and one containing two players of outstanding qualities.

South, Triple-Threater, Stars for Coyotes.

Perhaps the most colorful of the entire Coyote team is its quarter back, South. A triple-threat man, South adds to his color by playing without a headgear and always attracts attention by his flashy runs. His No. "10" shoud draw many eyes on Friday night.

Another clever performer of the Westerners is Crakes, an end, who seemingly possesses the knack of catching passes in almost any position. Crakes is said to perform best under pressure and continually takes passes when surrounded by a host of would-be tacklers.

South Dakota will arrive here Friday morning in time for a short workout in the afternoon. The Coyotes will meet President Hoover at noon and pose for pictures with the Chief Executive.

Talbot County Golfers Victors in Team Match

Chestertown, Md., Oct. 14.—The strong golf team of the Talbot County Country Club, of Easton, Md., administered a decisive defeat to the Chester River Country Club outfit on the local nine-hole course when the locals went down to a 28½ to 12½ defeat. Though Chestertown recently won the golf championship of the Delmar, Va., Golf League, Easton is not a member of the loop and is the most skillful aggregation of club swingers to have met local divot lifters this season.

Home-Town Citizens To Fete Hack Wilson

Martinsburg, W. Va., Oct. 14.—The citizens of Martinsburg, home town of Hack Wilson, the National League's most valuable player as well as its all-time home run champion, today completed arrangements to honor the Chicago star upon his return to this city some time this week.

Plans call for a street parade, the escorting of Wilson to the public square and the presentation by Mayor Chris H. Dailey of a handsome loving cup, suitably engraved. Leading citizens of the town are to take part in the ceremonies, which are expected to draw a crowd of several thousand.

MANOR LOFT FIRST.

The Futurity Race of the District Racing Pigeon Association was flown from Pulaski, Va., yesterday with first honors going to a young red chock cock from the Manor Loft, whose average speed in yards per minute was 937.40.

The other finishing lofts were Henry C Hile, 937.20; Joseph Turowski, 922.20; Bethesda Loft, 915.20 and A. S. Johnstone, 909.60.

GLASS TRACK.

The twenty-fourth international six-day bike race, scheduled in Chicago next month, may be run off on a glass track. It is figured that it will add speed and reduce the number of spill accidents.

McCarthy Signs to Pilot Yankees 2 Years; O'Doul Trade Gives Robins Great Outfield

$30,000 Per Year Is Reported Salary of New Manager.

By BRIAN BELL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Joe McCarthy today finally took off his National League uniform and declared his allegiance to the American League by signing a contract to manage the New York Yankees for the next two years.

The former manager of the Chicago Cubs posed with Jacob Ruppert, president of the Yankees, before as many photographers as there are players on a major league club, as he affixed his signature to the document which he called "the best contract I ever signed."

McCarthy's reference was the only one made to the figures in contract but it was supposed that he was paid $25,000 a year at Chicago and probably received an increase of at least $5,000.

President Ruppert told the new manager that he confidently expected him to bring another pennant and another world's championship back to New York and Joe promised to do his best. The owner of the club placed his facilities behind the manager, adding, "you and you alone will be the manager."

Never Played Ball In Majors.

McCarthy, who is 43 years old and lives at Buffalo, although he is a native of Philadelphia, managed the Cubs for five years, piloting them to one championship. Before being graduated to the majors he managed Louisville for six years, playing four years. He was an infielder but never played major baseball.

"In most of 'em," he said when asked where he played in the minors. As a matter of fact he spent most of his fifteen years as an active player in the New York State League, the International and American Association.

"I was in the Federal League one winter," he said, explaining he signed with the Brooklyn Feds in the fall and the league passed out of existence before the start of the next baseball season.

He won two pennants at Louisville and his Colonels were the first American Association Club to defeat Baltimore in the "little world series," after the Orioles of Jack Dunn had dominated minor league baseball for years.

Joe was charged with an error on

Insurance for Football Players Is Plan at Yale

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Insurance for football players was suggested by the Yale News, undergraduate daily, today, saying that the wisdom of the principle was unquestioned.

The Yale athletic management once gave consideration to a plan of football insurance and dropped it. The News holds that it would be a good thing for an arrangement to be made to cover doctors' bills and hospital attention up to a given maximum, even if the athlete paid something toward the insurance with the association making up the balance.

Trades Bring Braves Two Stars of Minors

Boston, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The Boston National League Baseball Club today announced the acquisition of Wesley Schulmerick, classy Los Angeles outfielder, and William McAfee, Chicago Cub pitching recruit, in a deal which sent Pitcher Smith, of the Braves, to Chicago and Outfielder Jimmy Welsh to the Pacific Coast club.

In bringing Schulmerick and McAfee to Boston, the club is continuing its policy of obtaining likely youngsters, said Edward Cunningham, secretary. He declined to reveal the amount of cash involved but said the several trades "about evened it up." The Chicago Cubs own the Los Angeles team.

Schulmerick hit for .387 last year, while McAfee, who was farmed out to the Reading Club of the International League, won six and lost seven games.

Smith has pitched eight seasons for the Braves and has a good record. Welsh, who came to the Wigwam from Seattle five seasons ago, cost the club $50,000.

Mobile's Franchise Voted to Knoxville

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Mayor Harry T. Hartwell, of Mobile, announced this afternoon that he had been informed by directors of the Southern Association, in session here, that they had voted to transfer the Mobile franchise to Knoxville, Tenn.

Phillies Get 2 Hurlers and Outfielder in Big Deal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (A.P.).—In the biggest player deal since the close of the 1930 baseball season, the Brooklyn Robins today obtained two Philadelphia stars, Outfielder Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, 1929 National League batting king, and Second Baseman Fresco Thompson, in exchange for two pitchers, one rookie outfielder and a good sized check.

The Robins, in fortifying for 1931 two of the positions of which they were weak this year, outbid at least two other National League clubs, including the Chicago Cubs, in the scramble for Phillly talent.

Is Converted Pitcher.

The addition of O'Doul to the Brooklyn outfield gives the Robins a trio of mighty hitters. O'Doul batted .383 this year, this impressive figure giving him fourth place in the National League rating. He led the league in 1929 with .398. A reformed southpaw pitcher, the hard-hitting lefty never has batted below .300 since he left the mound for the outfield.

Babe Herman, the Brooklyn right-fielder, batted .393 this year, and Johnny Frederick, the fast center fielder, had a mark of 334. The signing of O'Doul will furnish Uncle Wil-

Mills Polishes Passing at Hilltop

All Backs Adept at Heaving; Hilltop's Offense Lauded.

By JACK ESPEY.

BOTH Georgetown and Western Maryland will enter their clash Saturday in Baltimore hoping that the decision will be awarded on the merits of their respective running attacks, but judging from current practice activities both will be prepared to fight it out by the aerial method should that course be necessary to take.

In previous performances Georgetown and Maryland have depended to a large degree on running plays to gain ground. And because those plays were successful, at least to the extent of winning their games, neither team dug into its bag of passing plays for fear its rival might learn of them.

From the camps of both teams yesterday emanated reports that forward passing was receiving much attention and that the trickiest sort of aerial weapons were being manufactured for the fray. At Westminster it was said that Coach Dick Harlow was teaching his Green Terrors some overhead plays which he concocted especially to unwind against the Hilltoppers, while at Griffith Stadium, where the Hilltoppers were drilling, Coach Tom Mills was polishing his charges in the execution of numerous aerials planned early in the training season.

All Backs Equipped To Toss Passes.

Should the game develop into a battle of passes, the fans will see some expert throwing and receiving on both sides.

Every man in Georgetown's backfield can toss an aerial accurately, while this same group are fine receivers in addition to the ends. Johnny Scalzi, quarter back, is a passer of established reputation, and probably ranks as the best among the Hilltoppers. But in the event that Mills sees a need for switching his tactics, either one of three other backs—Bill Maczees, Russ Danieu and Leroy Bordeau—can fill the role of passer acceptably.

A situation almost identical with this exists with Western Maryland. Wellinger, half back, is the leading Terror passer, but his backfield mates, Ekaitis, Doughty and Koppe, all stand ready to handle the throwing duty if called on.

Bates, End, Hero Of 1929 Game.

In Paul Bates, captain and end, Western Maryland owns the most talented receiver on either team. It was Bates who closed a pair of snaky arms around a pass thrown by Wellinger to defeat Georgetown last year.

The forward pass, therefore, will be the ace-in-the-hole for each team, Western Maryland knows virtually nothing about Georgetown's overhead plays, while the Hilltop is even less acquainted with this department of the Terror offense.

As the game draws near Washington fans are growing more and more interested. It is expected that 5,000 will follow the Hilltoppers to the Monumental City Saturday afternoon. A hard-fought contest is anticipated by everyone.

Georgetown Seen As Better Team.

Georgetown thus far has not been as impressive as Western Maryland, according to general opinion. However, a certain well known coach yesterday declared he liked this Georgetown eleven better than Lou Little's 1929 combination which bowed to the Terrors. Explaining himself, this coach said:

"I saw Georgetown last Friday night against West Virginia Wesleyan and am now convinced that it is stronger offensively than last year. I would much rather have my team meet the Georgetown team of 1929 than this one.

"This team has an offense that any cloub in the country would have trouble stopping. It is an open attack

Horse, Drugged, Scratched; Jamaica Bookies Hard Hit

JAMAICA RACE TRACK, Oct. 14 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—The racing here today was distasteful. One horse was drugged and scratched after his name had been up on the board for ten minutes as a starter. This was distressing, also complicating. The fields were cheap and light enough to discredit a winter track. The riding in some cases was incompetent, and to wind up, Recede, heavily supported second choice, was disqualified after winning the last purse on a charge of foul riding against Stevens. Such racing was more than a travesty on the sport. It was an abuse.

Only three horses were named to start in the third race, and, although W. T. Anderson's Valour II never even reached the paddock because of being poisoned and tampered with in a barn on the back stretch, his name was up as a starter long enough to have prices quoted and betting done.

Information that he was not in condition to start reached some in the market centers before it reached the stewards as indicated by a rush to wager on Sign Off at 8 to 5 and Beau Wrack at 6 to 1 while Valour II was quoted at 7 to 10.

Then came the scratching of the last named and much confusion. With only two to start, Sign Off was quoted at 1 to 2 and Beau Wrack at 8 to 5. The latter won easily from the perspective jumper and then came more excitement on the betting ruling.

John Cavanaugh, who had charge of the ring in the old days and who still is accepted as an authority, ruled that the money wagered on Valour II must be refunded but that the bets on Beau Wrack at 6 to 1 must stand.

This did not sound like justice even under the unusual situation. Betting is not recognized by the racing authorities and as a result it was impossible to declare all bets off and twenty minutes for a new book, which was the practice in the days of open bookmaking. As a result the smart ones, who knew before the stewards that Valour II would not start, profited at the expense of the so-called layers.

After ordering Valour II scratched on the report of Dr. C. R. Richards that he was in "no condition to start," the stewards instructed Harry Pebler, the racing secretary, "to refuse for the balance of the meeting entries of horses owned by W. T. Anderson or horses trained by T. D. Grimes."

HER GRACE NEVER HEADED IN LAUREL MILE PURSE

Special to The Washington Post.

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 14.—Ral Parr's magnificent 3-year-old filly, Her Grace, by Bright Knight—Markiluna, led all the way to win the Pocahontas Handicap by a length. The Montpelier Farm's Lost Agnes was second, a length in front of the Branncastle Farm's Molassas Jane. Dinah Did Upset was fourth and the other starter was Admiral Grayson's Panda. St. Prisca was withdrawn.

This was the feature event of the program at a mile, which was run in the fast time of 1:39 2-5. The winner was favorite and paid $4.80. Workman put up a superb ride on the winner.

There was little change in the positions of the field from start to finish. Lost Agnes, except for a brief moment, was second all the way. The starters are among the most valuable fillies and mares in training and all are destined soon for the breeding farms of their owners.

There was another large crowd out today for the racing. The races were formful and the prices posted liberal.

Soupcon Gains Nose Decision.

The Sagamo Stable's Soupcon, virtually even favorite with W. J. Norton's Gay Bird, led all the way to win from Gay Bird by a nose under a whipping finish. Six lengths back, the Geneseo Stable's Rubio was third. Time, 1:12 4-5. The winner paid $7.10.

The start was good for the field of twelve 2-year-old colts and geldings. Soupcon, having the rail post position, considered unfavorable at 6 furlongs, receded in the betting, but Bejshak gave him an energetic ride and kept out of a pocket that threatens the rail horse. Stellanova, from the Widener Stable, ran a good race to finish fourth. Bradley's Barometer showed improvement.

Nealon Kay Scores In Nose Finish.

Noses separated the three leading horses in the second race, which was won by Mrs. B. E. Chapman's Nealon Kay, with A. Prain up. C. V. Carrin's Vimont was second and J. W. Bean's filly, Eleusagon, third. Standard Bearer was favorite. Eleusagon, the favorite, led all the way to the sixteenth pole, when Nealon Kay, in striking distance all the way, took the lead. Adam rode a well-judge race on Eleusagon, but could not withstand the challenge of the winner. Bright Flash ran well in the early part of the race. The winner paid $5.30. The time was 1:48 for 1 1-16 miles.

Mouthpiece Wins In Juvenile Field.

Two-year-olds went a mile in the third race, twelve starting. The Lemar Stock Farm's Mouthpiece took a head decision from P. M. Walker's Duffern. John Farrell's Lightstep, in the field, was third. E. R. Bradley's Banal Girl was fourth.

Allez Vite, a Man o' War filly, and Fly Guy set a fast pace to the stretch and ran themselves into the ground. Mouthpiece and Dunfern came from behind, Shropshire on the winner. There was a long delay at the gate. Much crowding marked the race and several jockeys were called to the stand. The winner paid the longest price in several days, $35.60. The time was good for juveniles, 1:41 2-5. Korax ran well in the early race. Barren Hill jumped over the gate upright at the start and previously had unseated Phillips.

Darting through an opening near the rail as the field swung out wide entering the home stretch, J. Collins' Vacation, with Jockey Adams in the saddle, outlasted Maudlin, a 70-to-1 shot, to win the seventh race of one and one-sixteenth miles. Vacation paid $88.90 in the $2 straight mutuels. Maudlin paid $45.00 to place.

SOUPCON had good speed to move into the lead, displayed keen speed while saving ground, was placed to severe pressure during the final furlong and just lasted. GAY BIRD, always in nearest pursuit, closed stoutly in the last quarter mile. RUBIO, well up, closed gamely, but could not menace the first two. STELLANOVA was held safe. BAROMETER, a slow beginner, made up a lot of ground. SIR WRACK quit.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—NEALON KAY, $5.30, $3.10, $2.40; VIMONT, $4.10, $2.60; ELEUSAGON, $2.40.

NEALON KAY, a prominent factor from the start, responded with excellent courage when put to a drive and, finishing in resolute fashion, was up in the last twenty yards. VIMONT, outpaced early, worked his way up on the outside to finish strong. ELEUSAGON was urged from the start, saved ground and held on well. STANDARD BEARER closed a good gap. CABELLSDALE weakened the last quarter mile. ROCK CANDY had speed in spots. BAKED APPLE tired.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MOUTHPIECE, $35.60, $16.50, $10.50; DUNFERN, $5.20, $3.40; LIGHT STEP, $3.50.

MOUTHPIECE, rated along within striking distance of the leaders, secured racing room on the inside when making his run and, in a game finish, was up nearing the finish. DUNFERN moved to the leaders when ready, gained the lead and held on stoutly. LIGHT STEP finished steadily. BANAL GIRL faltered in the last furlong. SIR BYRON raced well. FLY GUY and ALLEZ VITE stopped.

LADY CAPULET TAKES FRENCH LASS IN TOW.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:15. Off at 3:17. Winner, Tranquillity Farm's b. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—LADY CAPULET, $11.10, $4.80, $3.00; FRENCH LASS, $4.70, $3.20; AL GREEN, $2.70.

LADY CAPULET, forcing a fast pace and going in her best fashion, came willingly under a stiff drive in the last furlong and, displacing AL GREEN, just lasted long enough. FRENCH LASS, reserved for the first half mile, finished stoutly under punishment. AL GREEN displayed good speed, saved ground, but went lame suddenly in the last sixteenth to pull up very lame. VOLTEAR was unable to reach the leaders. GOOD and HOT went well.

HER GRACE PRECEDES LOST AGNES IN FEATURE.

FIFTH RACE—One mile. Purse, $2,000. For 3-year-olds and upward, fillies and mares. Start good from stalls. Won ridden out; place, same. Went to post at 3:51. Off at 3:52. Winner, Ral Parr's ch. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—HER GRACE, $4.80, $2.80, $2.30; LOST AGNES, $3.30, $2.40; MOLASSES JANE, $3.00.

HER GRACE, rushed to the front going to the first turn, was rated along for the six furlongs, was shaken up during the stretch run and held LOST AGNES safe. Latter followed close up, made repeated efforts, but was not good enough. MOLASSES JANE, kept under urging all the way, showed a good test. DINAH DID UPSET was never dangerous.

BUCKEYE POET FINDS MARK WITH CANNON.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BUCKEYE POET, $4.90, $3.00, out; HAT BROOM, $3.60, out; GALDEN AUBURN, out.

BUCKEYE POET went to the front with a rush, opened a long lead after six furlongs and held sway thereafter. HAT BROOM, in closest pursuit the entire trip, held the others safe. GOLDEN AUBURN showed no speed through the late stages.

GRID TITLE PATH IN SOUTH BESET BY HIGH HURDLES

Vanderbilt, Kentucky Games Follow Tilt With Tennessee.

Georgia to Engage Carolina Saturday; Then Auburn.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Championship hopes of at least five of the strongest Southern Conference gridiron teams will be tested severely during the next fortnight, with several certain to fall by the wayside.

Wallace Wade, in his valedictory at Alabama, probably has the toughest assignment in facing Tennessee and Vanderbilt on successive week-ends, but the grief doesn't end here, for Kentucky and Florida stand directly ahead, with Georgia farther down the rocky path.

If Tennessee survives the Alabama encounter it must rally its forces against the following week to repulse a strong threat from North Carolina.

With little Spring Hill as its opposition this week, Vanderbilt has the advantage of a breather before gathering speed again for a sweep against Alabama on October 25.

Carolina and Auburn To Test Georgia.

North Carolina, barely successful over Maryland last week, meets Georgia Saturday, with Tennessee's Volunteers next in line. Should Georgia successfully withstand Carolina's charge this week it will find a much improved Auburn eleven awaiting it next week-end.

These games are the outstanding ones, but other undefeated conference teams find plenty of real entertainment ahead. With Chicago and Furman slated for the next fortnight, Florida is sure to enter the November stretch unbeaten, but Kentucky, another favored team, finds two Chicago machines, Washington and Lee and Virginia, blocking its road.

Georgia Tech opposes Auburn Saturday and next week meets Tulane's Green Wave in the first conference game for the 1929 champions. V. M. I. has Virginia and Maryland in a row, while Clemson must get past South Carolina.

At Lexington Coach Harry Gamage is stressing pass defense in preparation for the Wildcats game with Washington and Lee's Generals Saturday. Ellis Johnson, the brilliant sophomore quarter back, who was injured some time ago, joined the squad again and will be ready for service against the Generals.

Coach Alexander Seeks Passer.

Coach Bill Alexander, of Georgia Tech, is in the market for a good passer and kicker. Capt. Earl Dunlap and Doug Graydon, the Arkansas traveler, were injured in the Carnegie Tech game and their absence leaves Tech without either capable tosser or punter.

Dunlap may be ready for the Auburn contest Saturday, but trainers plan to hold Graydon out for another week.

Charlottesville Fives Leave for Ohio Game

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 14.—The Fives Football Squad, representing the Charlottesville School for Boys, started at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the long trek for the Midwest in quest of another national football title. Last fall they won the 100-pound midget championship. This season they have had to move up into the 110-pound class in their race for national honors.

On Thursday night of this week the Fives will line up against the Bearcats, of Kent, Ohio. The game will be played under lights in the League Park at Akron, Ohio. Kent's team, Midwestern claimants for the national championship last fall, was defeated by the Fives, 27 to 0, in a December game staged on Lambeth Field, at the University of Virginia. This year the Bearcats are out for revenge.

Princeton Given New Plays.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Princeton failed to show much of an offensive against Brown, but the Tigers hope to do better against Cornell, thanks to a couple of new plays Bill Roper outlined for them today. Only four of the men who started against Brown were at work today, the others nursing minor injuries.

Same Brown Team To Face Yale.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Tuss McLaughry was so satisfied with his Brown Team's performance against Princeton that he will start the same eleven against Yale.

Yale Coaches Plan Kicking Game.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Mal Stevens, Yale coach, expects the Elis will have to play a kicking game against the strong Brown Team, which has developed a rugged defense this season. Booth and Crowley will do the kicking for the Elis.

HOPE HIGHER FOR VIRGINIA VICTORY

Special to The Washington Post.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 14.—Virginia's splendid fight in the first half against Penn's heavy team last Saturday has boosted Cavalier stock and there's a general feeling that the team will find itself before another week-end rolls around and be in shape to gain a victory over Virginia Military Institute at Lexington next Saturday.

"One of the hardest-fighting teams that I ever saw," was a comment of Bud Wray, the Quaker coach, at the close of Saturday's encounter in Philadelphia. The attack which functioned so poorly in Durham got under way in Philadelphia and gained seven first downs against the heavy Quakers. In the fourth quarter the smashing offensive of Sackett, Pinder, Myers and Bryant drove 52 yards down the field for a touchdown. Sackett's 20-yard sprint was Virginia's best individual gain.

Virginia's passing attack worked well against the Quakers. With Thomas on the throwing end the Cavaliers were able to threaten the Penn goal in each period. This phase of play is getting special attention in the preparation for the games with V. M. I. and Kentucky, on successive week-ends.

Line Is Problem Of Coaches,

Coaches Abell and Tebell have the backs to do the ball carrying. It is the problem of the line that is causing them worry. The runners can't advance without holes to go through and the passers can't pass unless they are protected.

Bill Thomas, ace of the Cavalier back field, continues to attract attention by his brilliant play behind the line. Against the Quaker Saturday, as against Duke the week before, he was an outstanding star on a defeated team. For two weeks he has been spectacular as a defensive rather than an offensive half back. This coming Saturday he hopes to reverse the role and aid Virginia in scoring a victory over the Cadets.

Capt. Hunter Motley is another of the Cavaliers who caught the eye of the crowd by his play in the Pennsylvania game. Sports critics were lavish in their praises of the performance of the big tackle who led his mates in their gallant fight on Franklin Field.

Hanover Club Unlikely To Return to League

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Oct. 14.—Published reports of the expected withdrawal of the support of the Cleveland Club of the American League from the Frederick Club of the Blue Ridge League have resulted in the publication in Hanover newspapers of articles which reveal the status of baseball in that city.

According to these articles, the chances of Hanover, which dropped out of organized baseball with Martinsburg last year, coming back into the fold are most remote. There is much interest in Hanover, it is pointed out, but it does not come from persons who are willing to support the club to the extent of assuming its obligations.

Hanover was a member of the Blue Ridge loop for thirteen years, operating part of that time as a community proposition entirely. In late years, however, the Detroit Tigers helped it out to the extent of $5,000 per annum, for which the Tigers took as many players as they desired. While in the Blue Ridge loop, Hanover sent many promising players up the baseball ladder, the most famous of which is Billy Sherdel, formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals, now with the Boston Braves.

COX JOINS SAINTS.

Rollins Retains Golf Crown In Finals at Belle Haven Club

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 14.—For the second consecutive year Charles Rollins, of Fredericksburg, won the men's golf championship at the Belle Haven Country Club, south of this city, when he defeated C. C. Brown, 5 to 3, in a 36-hole match. Rollins received a handsome trophy for winning the title. He defeated Sebrell in a hard-fought match in 1929 to win the championship.

More than 50 players took part in the tournament. This was the final tournament of the season listed for the Belle Haven Club.

Tom Ryan, golf professional, stated today that on each Saturday as long as the weather permits, sweepstakes will be played. He expects a great many players to take part in these contests. Prizes will be awarded to the various winners.

The Pirate Athletic Club will open its 1930 football season on Sunday, playing the fast Virginia Midgets on the Shipyard Field at 2 o'clock. Coach Cline has called an important practice for tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Queen and Lee streets. All candidates are requested to report.

The Virginia Midgets will clash with the Alexandria High School Scrubs at Baggets Field Thursday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. This is the first contest for both clubs. Ralph O'Neill is coach of the Virginia Midgets.

Robert M. McDonald, chairman of the board of governors of the Northern Virginia Athletic Officials Association, requests all football officials of the association and the members of the board to be present promptly at 7 o'clock at a meeting tomorrow night. Dr. C. T. Dreifus, president, will preside. Many important matters will be transacted.

CENTENNIALS PRACTICE.

The Centennials will practice tonight at 7:30 on the New York Avenue Playgrounds. All players are requested to report in preparation for Sunday's game against the Wolverines. E. Hinkel is especially invited to attend.

"I hope so, too, Mr. McCarthy," was the reply, "but the name is Ruppert."

Ruppert paid tribute to Bob Shawkey, retiring manager of the Yankees, saying that he signed McCarthy because of his greater ex-

LAUREL NOTES

Special to The Washington Post.

LAUREL RACE TRACK, Md., Oct. 14.—C. M. Feltner, who is racing a small string here, has won sixteen races this season, seven of them with Terra Nova. He will winter his stable at Berryville, Va.

It was reported today that N. K. Beall, well-known turfman of this State, will take charge on November 1 of the stable owned by Joe Leiter, of Chicago. Leiter has 32 horses, including 22 yearlings in training at Berryville, Va., and plans to campaign at New Orleans.

Don Yates has purchased Sea Rip, 5-year-old chestnut son of Friar Rock—Grecian, from the Black Dot Stable.

The old J. K. L. Ross estate near here will be a busy place Sunday, as Trainer Elmer Trueman will work the 30 yearlings he has quartered there. Hal Parr, Howard Bruce, B. B. Jones, owner of the Audley Farm of Virginia, and other sportsmen for whom Trueman is training will be on hand to witness the trials.

Miss Dorothy Neuhart's Iollan, 6-year-old bay gelded son of The Midshipmate, bled while being breezed this morning and Trainer Willie Booth scratched him from today's sixth race.

J. C. Kirkpatrick claimed Homelike out of yesterday's seventh race for $1,800, while Martin Powell took Frances St. L. out of the same race for $2,000.

Horsemen are being warned not to hire the apprentice rider Howard Quillen, who left the employ of Edward Riley Bradley without the latter's permission.

A sale of yearlings will be held in the paddock here on October 28 and 29. To date various breeders of Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia have made consignments to the sale.

R. McKeever shipped Stephanite down from Canada to his son Joe, who has been racing Tall Grass at this meeting. Stephanite is a 3-year-old bay son of Stefan the Great—Thimble.

WASHINGTON ACES ORGANIZE

In organizing for their sixth basket ball season the Washington Aces have issued a call for candidates.

Henry Weigel, F. Wiler, Boots Scruggs and Paul Lawson are requested to attend the first practice of the Aces, scheduled for next Monday night at Central High gym between 8 and 9 o'clock. Candidates should report also at this time.

W. & L. TEAM PRIMES FOR KENTUCKY

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., Oct. 14.—The Generals of Washington and Lee have but two more practice sessions before them in which to prepare for the meeting with the University of Kentucky Wildcats at Lexington, Ky., this Saturday. It will be the first Southern Conference tilt for the Virginians.

The Generals are not taking the West Virginia defeat to heart. The loss to the greater reserve power of the West Virginia Team has no effect on the standing of the Washington and Lee Team in the conference, and it is for the Kentucky game that the Washington and Lee Team is pointing. The practice drills this week have been a reiteration of Coach Eugene Oberst's preseason plans of playing each game as a separate entity. Each week was destined to have its different problem, and only one game was to be in the offing, not two or three.

Mattox Brilliant Despite Injury.

The Generals came out of the West Virginia clash unmarred. "Monk" Mattox, star half back, who received a great ovation for his game work with a cut eye, will be able to play against the Wildcats. The spectators at the Washington and Lee-West Virginia game sat spellbound during the first three quarters as the Generals battled the Mountaineers on even terms, and until the last period it was anybody's game, but the Mountaineers rose to the occasion, and sending in substitutes who were as good as the men they replaced, two touchdowns were piled across in a hurry.

Kentucky won't have an easy time with the Generals, if individual comment about the football camp here can be trusted. Washington and Lee has a fighting crew this year and they hope to demonstrate with first-hand information in the lair of the Wildcats in Lexington, Ky., this Saturday.

MRS. GRAHAM BEATEN.

Mrs. Margaret Graham, the District's only representative in the annual Greenbrier autoumn tennis tournament at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was eliminated yesterday in the quarterfinal round by Miss Barbara Duffy, of Chicago, 6—0, 6—1.

The semifinalists are Mrs. W. V. Winchester, Baltimore; Mrs. Philip B. Hawk, New York; Miss Duffy, and Miss Le Boutillier, New York.

ROBINS GAIN O'DOUL IN DEAL WITH PHILS

Thompson had his poorest season in 1930, when he batted only .284, but the four years he has been the Phillies' regular second baseman he has an average above .300. He is only 27 years old and his friends confidently expect a change of uniform and scenery to prove beneficial.

Elliott, Giant, Came From Seattle.

Elliott, who is three inches over 6 feet and weighs 230 pounds, came to Brooklyn from Seattle in 1926 and with the exception of 1929, when he was sick most of the season, he has done excellent work.

Dudley, once with Washington, has been with the Robins two years and, although his work in 1930 consisted chiefly of relief pitching, he "took his turn" in 1929 with fair success.

Lee, who, like Dudley, was promoted from the Atlanta Club of the Southern Association, played few full games for the Robins in the season just closed but was kept on the bench throughout the year, Manager Robinson refusing attractive offers for his services.

SAYS PEGLER

coaches could be shorn of their prerogatives and powers. After all, the original purpose of the football coach was not to indorse articles of commerce and lend his name to commercial excursions after the manner of bookmakers and saloonkeepers running special trains to out-of-town prize fights.

Coaches Originally Taught Games.

He was engaged, originally, to teach the athletes how to play a game, but in the course of time some very entertaining but shrewd and acquisitive coaches were cast into prominence, and as they progressed they reversed the original relationship between coach and player. Nowadays, the coach is a power, standing in the same relation to the player as a major general to a buck private, and a large proportion of the players graduated each year have promptly become coaches themselves. There are not enough jobs for all of them, and consequently, I suppose, a lot of young former players will turn out failures in the long run.

Reduce football coaching to an amateur pursuit for devoted old grads or seasonal occupation for professionals, hired, like golf instructors, to teach the sport, and the game will become a game again.

Just now, however, it is becoming an industry, and if it must be an industry, the players, in all fairness, should receive their share of the profits wherever they accrue.

Maryland U. and St. John's Use Same Practice Tactics

COACH CURLEY BYRD, of the University of Maryland, and Todie Riggs, mentor at St. John's College, of Annapolis, are using the same methods in preparing for the intrastate tilt at College Park Saturday afternoon.

Except for running through plays and fundamentals, both coaches are resting their first-string players and letting the reserves do the toiling.

The Old Liners, after going through the struggles with Yale and North Carolina, the latter termed by the Tarheel trainer as being one of the most gruelling grid duels he ever had seen, simply had to have a letup.

St. John's, too, had a hard game with V. M. I. six days before the strenuous tussle with Western Maryland last Friday in Baltimore, and is in very much the same boat as Maryland.

While the St. John's squad is not as big as Maryland's, it has good replacements for every position in the line-up and, like the Old Liners, is well fixed for back-field reserves. In fact, St. John's saved its best ball-toeing back, Allan MacCartee, a Washington boy, so as to have him fresh and at his best against the Old Liners.

Despite the fact that it is resting its first-stringers, Maryland plans to open against St. John's with the same eleven men who began the tilts with Yale and North Carolina. St. John's is regarded as extremely dangerous, not alone on its showing against Western Maryland but because the Johnnies' first team just about matches Maryland in poundage and is a fighting combination, exemplifying the spirit of its coach.

Maryland and St. John's once were deadly rivals, but they have not played since 1923, when Maryland won, 27 to 0.

Ferris Jakes Jim Is Best in Sweepstakes and Pointer Class.

THE sixth annual field trials of the Northern Virginia Field Association was brought to a close yesterday afternoon. This twi-day event was run over the course between Chantilly and Centerville, Va., between the Lee highway and the Lee-Jackson highway. Three trials were closely followed by the sportsmen from all sections of the East coast, many of them from Washington.

One of the most closely contested features was the dog show held in Herndon, the association's headquarters, Monday night. Ferris Jakes Jim, owned by Harry B. Mitchell, of Herndon, captured the sweepstakes prize for the best all-around dog entered. The winners of the classes were as follows: Setter dogs, first, Valintines Forest Prince, owned by A. W. Valintine, of Richmond, Va.; second, Bobby McPherson, owned by R. Bennett, of Roanoke; third, Kellys Sundown, owned by Bernard Kelly, of Herndon. Setter bitches, first, Lady Ballou, owned by George D. Thayer, of Newark, N. J.; second, Queen Fairfax, owned by A. B. Sterratt, of Nutley, N. J.

Mitchell Pointer Wins First Prize.

Pointer dogs, first, Ferris Jakes Jim, owned by Harry B. Mitchell, of Herndon; second, Devils Joe, owned by M. D. Darrel, of Wilmington, Del.; third, Ferris Jims Pat, owned by A. B. Sterratt, of Nutley, N. J. Pointer bitches, first, Helen S., owned by George Sutherland, of Rocky Mount, N. C.; second, Donna Rita, owned by W. H. Rodd, of Charlottes Court House, Va., and third, Jane Alexander, owned by E. C. Meade, of Richmond, Va.

The first day's trials were so close that a run off was necessary before the judges could decide on the winners. This class was the Derby Stakes with 26 dogs entered. This event was won by Beverly Manor Fripo owned by S. B. Timberlake, of Staunton, Va. Second, Mae Wynne; third, Helen S., owned by George Sutherland, of Rocky Mount, N. C.

Yesterday's event the All Age Stakes, was won by Procters Major Rex, owned by Dr. W. H. Hopkins, of Annapolis, Md. Second, Ferris Jims Pat, owned by A. B. Sterratt, of Nutley, N. J., and third, Gloucester Duke, owned by C. H. Alexander, of Wares Neck, Va.

MRS. BRAND GOLF TITLE WINNER

Score of 173 Leads at Chevy Chase; Triple Tie for Second.

THE Harry C. Sheridan Cup, emblematic of the women's championship at the Chevy Chase club, was won yesterday by Mrs. Harrison Brand, jr., who had a score of 85—88—173 for the 36 holes of medal play.

A birdie 2 on the tenth hole and a par 4 on the sixteenth, 371 yards, were life savers for Mrs. Brand and compensated for the almost disastrous 8 which she needed on the fifth hole.

There was a triple tie for the runner-up position between Mrs. Hume Wrong, 91—83—174; Miss Susan Hacker, 85—89—174, and Mrs. L. O. Cameron, the winner of the title last year, 93—81—174. Mrs. Cameron's 81 was the low score of the tournament. Mrs. Frank R. Keefer, who led on the first day with 84, failed to carry on yesterday and finished with 91 for a total of 175. A putt of about 12 inches on the thirty-sixth green, which she missed, prevented a quadruple tie.

The play-off for the runner-up position will occur in the near future. Three prizes will be presented so that two of the players in the triple tie will have an opportunity to figure in the awards.

Women members of the Congressional Country Club yesterday competed in a team match, Mrs. H. A. Knox and Mrs. R. Lester Rose being the respective captains. Mrs. Knox's team won, 9½ points, to 5½ points, as follows:

BATTLE OF PASSES FORESEEN BY MILLS

with great speed, deception and timing, and the backs entrusted with putting it over are, in my opinion, exceptionally clever. I don't care what team you name, I believe that it wouldn't be able to keep those backs from gaining.

"Some of these same backs, for instance, Scalzi and Johny Bozek, could not do half so well with Georgetown's Warner style of attack last year. Their plays then were of the power variety, while those they use now are just built for the fine running qualities of these boys."

Fruit and Vegetable Crops Getting Better

Reports received by the Department of Agriculture indicate improved fruit and vegetable crops. Prospects for fruit crops have increased 2.3 per cent in the last month with indications pointing to 20 per cent better yields than a year ago.

Snap bean crops in Maryland and Virginia are below the usual total on account of lack of rain. However, improvement is reported in the demand for apples in the Potomac-Shenandoah Valley.

BOARD EQUALIZES TAX ASSESSMENTS

Arlington County Officials Consider 120 Cases at Public Hearing.

DRAINAGE SYSTEM SET

BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

The Arlington County Board of Tax Equalization at its first public hearing, at the courthouse, yesterday equalized the tax assessment of approximately 120 properties located in practically all sections of the county. These assessments resulted from complaints to the board and notices sent out by the board of proposed increases in the assessments.

Of the total number of properties considered by the board, Chairman Emery N. Hosmer stated that there was but one objection, and that was made by Claude Tavenner, through his counsel, State Senator Frank L. Ball. The board will consider the objections raised by Mr. Tavenner at the hearing which has been set for Friday of this week at the courthouse.

It was pointed out by the board that the increases were indicated in acreage and subdivisions owned mostly by W. A. Cowles and Mr. Tavenner.

Chairman Hosmer stated that a large part of the increases in the county's revenue will come from the property which was assessed at the last regular assessmen as acreage, but has since been developed into home sites.

Miss Ethel Morrison, of Jackson, Miss., who has been appointed director of week-day religious education for the public schools of Arlington and Fairfax Counties, arrived in Arlington County yesterday.

Miss Morrison, who is a graduate of the Presbyterian Training School, at Richmond, Va., comes to the two counties to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of Miss Isabel Latimer, who left early in the fall for South America, where she has accepted a like position.

It is hoped to start classes in the next few days following completion of the schedule for each county.

The Arlington County Monarch Club will hold its weekly luncheon meeting tomorrow at 12 o'clock in the Ashton Heights Woman's Clubhouse.

Enlargements at the Washington-Lee High School which provide for addition of 32 classrooms are being made for the purpose of giving added school facilities and to better take care of the continued increase in the school enrollment and not for any increase course of study, County Superintendent Fletcher Kemp declared last night.

"There is no intention on the part of the county school board to make any increase in the present courses, but in some cases to make slight revisions, the plan is to continue to maintain a State credited high school and wherever possible to increase the school efficiency," Superintendent Kemp said.

The work in the additions is now progressing rapidly and with continued good weather the work will be completed and the students enjoying the proper size classrooms by the beginning of the new year Superintendent Kemp stated.

F. W. Richardson, of Fairfax, who rounded out 50 years of service as clerk of the court of Fairfax County, was a visitor at the Arlington County courthouse yesterday, where he received congratulations of William H. Duncan, county clerk, and all of the county officials.

Discussing proposals for a change in the form of the county government as offered by the Arlington County Civic Federation which proposes the county manager plan with election of a county board of five members at large, Col. J. G. Pepper, of Barcroft, last night voiced opposition to the proposed change.

"My strong objection," said Col. Pepper, "is, first, that sponsors of the movement fail to offer to vpters of the county any concrete advantage over the present plan which will either reduce the cost of administration or increase efficiency in government.

"As to the proposed plan to elect the county board of five members at large, I am opposed to that plan on the grounds that thickly settled sections of the county would elect members of the board and thus control affairs of the county, leaving outlying sections without any representation on the governing board," said Col. Pepper.

With the view of giving to citizens of Ballston a storm drainage system which, it is claimed, was promised to them more than a year ago, B. M. Hedrick, member of the board of supervisors from Arlington District in which Ballston is located, announced yesterday that the county board of supervisors at its meeting today will instruct the county engineer to advertise for bids for its construction.

Pursuant to its policies adopted at a recent meeting, the board will consider all applications for extensions to the county water system at its meeting today, provided all applications which are presented provide for payment of 50 per cent or more of the front footage of main asked for.

The Men's Club of St. George's Episcopal Church will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow night in the Parish Hall at 8 o'clock. Capt. Norman L. Baldwin, of the Signal Corps of the U. S. A., is announced as the speaker.

There will be a meeting of the League of Republican Women of Arlington County held tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. Mary Lockwood, Kirkwood Terrace, at Clarendon.

Meeting yesterday afternoon, the executive committee of the Parent-Teacher Association of the James Monroe School completed its plans for the monthly meeting to be held Friday afternoon at the schoolhouse.

Tomorrow a number of members of St. George's Episcopal Church will accompany the rector, the Rev. Henry J. Miller, to Farnham, Richmond County, Va., where they will attend the consecration service of the Rev. Frederick Deane Goodwin, D. D., as bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Virginia.

Lynchburg Man Dies.

Lynchburg, Va., Oct. 14 (Special).—John J. Rutledge, 72, died yesterday at his home, 60 Cabell street. He was a native of Appomattox County, but had lived here eleven years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Victoria Rutledge, and two children.

North Carolinian Locked in Hotel Bathroom as Thief Escapes.

"SECURITIES" ARE PAPER

Russell M. Wallace, of High Point, N. C., last night detailed to local police a thrilling story of how he had lost $1,000, and most of his confidence in strangers.

Wallace, who is owner of a golf course at High Point, said that a few days ago he met a C. E. Dean who was playing on his course in the Southern State. In a conversation which followed it was disclosed Dean possessed knowledge of how to buy bonds worth at least $3,000 for only $1,000.

Being a shrewd business man, Wallace, of course, was interested, and promised to meet Dean, as the man was known to him, in Washington yesterday. Accordingly, they met in Union Station and Dean promptly invited wallace to his room at a downtown hotel.

When they reached the room, Dean told Mr, Wallace he had the bonds, and promptly pulled out two fat packages which were bond size. Wallace, in turn, pulled out a roll of bills with which to pay the man. Before he knew what was happening, he had been shoved into the bathroom of the suite and the man had snatched the roll of bills from his hand. Behind the locked door, while he was waiting to be released, he found that the alleged bonds were only bits of magazine paper cut into a convenient size.

Schoolgirl Bride's Father Forgives

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., Oct. 14.—A father who brought about the arrest of his daughter, bride of less than a day, has decided to give his parental blessing upon the match and the young lovers are together again, following the bridegroom's release from jail here.

Last Thursday, Miss Cecil Cline, 16, Middlebrook High School girl, decided to quit the class room and get married. She went to Lynchburg, where she obtained a marriage license to wed Hallie Jones, 28. With the couple were Mrs. Mamie Jones, aunt of the bride and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Ollie Farren, friend. All declared that the bride was "between 21 and 22."

When H. L. Cline learned that his daughter had been married to Jones, he swore out perjury warrants for the girl, his son-in-law, Mrs. Mamie Jones, and Farren. All four were arrested Friday and all except the bride spent the week-end in jail.

Investigation revealed that before the couple applied for a marriage license Miss Cline wrote the figure "22" on a slip of paper and placed it in her hat; that she placed "21" on another piece of paper, which was put in her shoe. When the marriage bureau clerk asked her age, she said "between 21 and 22"—and other witnesses corroborated her. Yesterday Cline relented and withdrew the warrants.

Fifty men today got a blaze on the Virginia Pulp & Paper Co.'s land near Bergoo in Webster County under control. Six other forest fires in nearby territory were also reported under control.

Temple Quarry Stone In Gavel Given Lodge

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., Oct. 14.—A gavel made from stone taken from the quarries of King Solomon at Jerusalem was presented tonight to Winchester Hiram Lodge, No. 21, A. F. and A. Masons, by the Rev. Dr. Frank T. McFaden, this city, grand master of Masons in Virginia. The gavel was brought the past summer from Jerusalem by his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Blanton, of Richmond, and has Masonic emblems carved on it. The lodge tendered Dr. McFaden a vote of thanks. The quarries of King Solomon were discovered during the last century. It was from them that the stones were hewn and taken to Jerusalem for the temple.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY FACE HEAVY DEFICIT

Prince Georges Board Finds Expenditures $13,000 Over Budget.

NEW BUILDINGS ASKED

At a meeting of the board of education of Prince Georges County yesterday the county superintendent of schools, Nicholas B. Orem, reported that expenditures for the system will run about $13,000 over the budget. And at the same meeting fourteen separate requests were received for extensions of the system, which would entail the outlay of nearly $100,000.

Eight new school buildings throughout the county are responsible for $6,000 of the deficit, with the necessity for employing additional teachers adding $7,000 more, Mr. Orem said. Only $301,409 is available for the schools, which cost $307,517. In view of this deficiency, a program of rigid economy of material in the schools has been instituted.

Three new schools were among the requests made, as well as extension of the present school bus lines, and one new school wanted a road. Increases in the number of children hauled led several school bus contractors to ask for more money.

Requests Are Filed.

The Marlboro Colored Parent-Teacher Association asked for a new $40,000 school at Upper Marlboro, the trustees of the Aquasco colored school want a new building, and Fairmont Heights wants a $35,000 building. These requests were filed.

Harry Tayman, a bus contractor, reported that so many pupils were being carried between Marlboro and Croom that he had to make two trips each way each day. He wanted $200 extra for these extra trips. Action on his request was postponed until the next meeting. George L. Moore wanted an increase in the contract price for the service to the Oxon Hill School because the number of children transported had increased from 63 to 90. Action on this was also postponed.

Bradbury Heights presented a request for a road to the new school building in that town. This was refused because there were no funds, and no permanent right-of-way. Later the petition was presented to the board of county commissioners, who took no action on it.

Hired With Proviso.

Schools at Glendale, Ardmore, University Park and the colored high school at Marlboro reported that their enrollment was sufficient to warrant, under the law, the employment of additional teachers. They will be employed with the proviso that they may be discontinued if money is not raised to pay them.

Claude M. Barb requested more money for building the Holly Grove School, as it had cost more than he had expected. His petition was denied, as he had already been paid the full amount the contract called for.

The Seabrook Citizens Association recommended that Mrs. Carl Mangold be appointed trustee of that school in place of Mrs. A. J. Thomas, who has moved from the district. The Board of Education acceded and Mrs. Mangold was appointed to serve until May, 1931.

Ask Bus Line Extension.

Patrons of the Oxon Hill School appeared to ask the extension of the school bus line serving that institution, the same line which had asked more money because it was carrying more passengers than were expected. The mayor and council of Colmar Manor also asked that the bus line carrying pupils from that community to the Bladensburg School be extended. This request was refused because there were no funds for the extension.

A request from patrons of the Brandywine School for an extension of route 2 was also refused. The board said that the contract for this line had been signed after full notice had been given and that the request should have been made before the letting of the contract.

After this, the board adjourned to meet again at the call of the president. This was done because the next regular meeting of the board will fall on Armistice Day, a legal holiday.

A jury in Circuit Court in Upper Marlboro yesterday awarded damages of $3,500 to Charles J. Penn in his suit against the county commissioners. Penn alleged that he was injured in August, 1928, when the car he was driving struck a depression on the Ritchie road near Ritchie Station, and claimed that the commissioners were responsible for the accident.

Penn, through his lawyers, Arthur C. Keefer and J Wilson Ryon, had asked for $5,000. Arguments in the case consumed all of Monday, and the charge to the jury was given that night. The verdict was brought in early yesterday morning. Counsel for the complainant has not filed an appeal, and could not be reached last night.

Sixteen more indictments were brought in yesterday by the grand jury, according to State's Attorney J. Frank Parran. The names of those indicted will not be made public until after they have been taken into custody.

Eight persons were named in the six indictments which the jury reported Monday. Manuel Parcover and Abraham Rosin, both of Washington, will be held for trial on a charge of arson. They are alleged to have set fire to a store in College Park which was at that time owned by Rosin. It now belongs to Elmore Power.

An indictment charging William Love, colored, with arson, was also brought in. Love is alleged to have fired a house in Fairmont Heights because he had a grievance against the occupants. Bernard Gray will face trial on a nonsupport charge.

Henry Bennett was indicted on two charges, one of assault with intent to kill and the other of assault and battery. These charges arose out of a fight Bennett had with Goldie Dyson, also colored.

Evidence against Rutherford Mead the jury thought sufficient to warrant holding him for trial on charges of housebreaking and larceny. A similar charge against Dramon Swann was also upheld. Swann is charged, however, with larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Bids for the construction of a permanent roadway along Cecil avenue in Hyattsville will be received at a special meeting of the town council Friday night. At this time the council will receive a report on the advisability of employing a paid driver for the fire truck, who will also keep the truck in repair.

The matter of hiring a driver for the truck came up at a lengthy meeting Monday night, when John J. Fainter was approved as new chief of the fire department. Mr. Fainter takes the place of Noble F. Rushe, who resigned because his business took him out of town a large portion of the time.

At this meeting a change in the manner in which property owners pay for streets laid in front of their land was also discussed. At present, two years is allowed during which owners may make part payment of the assessments. Councilman Thomas E. Hume was appointed chairman of a committee which will consider the change and report to the council.

Another committee was chosen to work out a new system of numbering houses in the town, and the police committee was directed to consider the banning of parking on Spencer street opposite the school. This, according to Mrs. Hontas M. Sturgis, supervising principal of the school, is dangerous to the pupils. The inadvisability of holding police court next door to the school was also brought out. John W. Camp claiming that habitues of the court were hardly fit to be next door neighbors to school children.

John J. Fainter, new chief of the fire department, is past president of the Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association, and was first president of the Prince Georges County Association. He has also been treasurer of the unit of which he is now chief.

NAVY MAY CLOSE TORPEDO STATION

ROTARIAN MEETING HELD

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

That the Alexandria Naval Torpedo Station may be closed by the Government and the building leased to private manufacturing concerns, was reported as a probability by Dan S. Hollenga, business manager of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, at the monthly meeting of that body Monday night. Mr. Hollenga stated that he had called on Assistant Secretary Ernest L. Jahncke, who had referred him to Admiral Leahy, and the latter had written him a letter to the effect that in the event the plant is closed he would be willing to lease the building for manufacturing purposes. The building contains 100,000 feet of floor space, is situated on the waterfront, with a wharf, and is modern in every respect having been constructed during the war.

A resolution offered by J. William May, to the effect that the chamber go on record as opposed to the proposed increase in rates by the Alexandria Water Company, caused considerable discussion. The resolution proposes that the matter be taken before the highest tribunal, and in the event satisfaction is not obtained, that efforts be made to secure a supply of water from Washington, as suggested by Councilman Fannon at a recent meeting of the city council. The resolution was finally referred to a committee for consideration and report.

L. H. Dudley, chairman of the civic development committee, reported that on October 14 the committee will make an inspection of the schools, and that a meeting will be held today to formulate plans for a city park, to be presented to the city council. Mr. Dudley announced the resignation from the committee of Dr. P. B. Pulman, and the appointment of Dr. Felix D. Swope to fill the vacancy.

George F. Downham, chairman of the finance committee, reported that cash on hand October 13 amounted to $1,518.48 and recent dues to date totaled $2,729.20. He recommended the appointment of a man to collect dues and perform other duties.

G. Jeter Jones, governor of the 56th District of Rotary in Virginia, addressed the local Rotary Club yesterday in the George Mason Hotel, presided over by Judge William S. Snow. Announcement was made of a sectional meeting to be held in Fredericksburg October 30 and a district meeting at Virginia Beach in April of next year.

Prior to the meeting a conference was held between Mr. Jones and these club members: Judge W. S. Snow, Fred C. Goodnow, Herbert Cross, Henry T. Moncure, Francis H. Fannon, Everett Swan, James Armstrong, Col. Clarence Deems and Lawrence Roland.

The annual inspection of the members of the local police department will be made at headquarters at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon by Police Captain W. W. Campbell. The members of the force, numbering 29, will wear their new autumn uniforms.

Next week the police will resume pistol target practice at the city jail. Each squad will be under the direction of a sergeant.

It has been announced by the Alexandria High School authorities that in order that the uniformed members of the cadet corps who are designated as being the neatest at stated inspections, may wear a mark of this distinction, a red fourragers will be issued to such cadets, to be worn until won by some one also at inspection. The transfer of these fourragers will be effected under the direction of the platoon leaders concerned.

A meeting of the city Democratic committee has been caled for 8 o'clock tonight at 107 North Fairfax street, by Charles C. Carlin, jr., chairman. Former Judge Howard W. Smith, Democratic candidate for Congress for the Eighth District, will address the meeting.

The Forty and Eight, honor society of the American Legion, will hold a "wreck" or initiation Friday night at the Armory. The wreck will be preceded by a parade, headed by the drum and bugle corps of the legion post.

Miss Kathleen Douglas, of George Washington Park, will open her junior clas of tap, ballet, folk and interpretative dancing October 16, from 2 to 3 p. m., for children ranging in age from 2 to 5 years.

John F. Dobson, 72 years old, a carpenter, died yesterday at his home, 417 South St. Asaph street. He is survived by his wife, four daughters and a son. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Scientist Will Try to Study Sun's Atoms During Eclipse

Dr. S. A. Mitchell, Leader of Expedition in South Pacific, Optimistic Over Plan to Observe Minute Matter 93,000,000 Miles Away.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—Dr. Samuel A. Mitchell, scientific leader of the American expedition now in the South Pacific to observe the sun's eclipse October 21, today made public through his office here his principal objective.

He is director of the Leander McCormick Observatory of the University of Virginia.

The objective is to study atoms in the sun's flaming atmosphere 93,000,000 miles distant. These solar atoms are no larger than earthly ones, which means they are so tiny that the biggest is several hundred diameters too small to be visible in the most powerful microscope.

The almost incredible scientific feat of studying them in the sun, Dr. Mitchell's report says, is not only feasible but has been so thoroughly worked out already that "the astronomer knows more about the constitution, temperature and distribution of gases in the sun's atmosphere even though it is 93,000,000 miles away, than we know at present of our own terrestrial atmosphere 20 miles above our heads."

Each line represents the absence on the photographic plate of a certain wave length of the sun's light, missing because it has been absorbed by some, but not all, of the sun's atoms lying in view of the camera eye. These atoms change their ways of absorbing light according to temperatures and many other conditions, so that a specimen is really a photo of what atoms are doing in great masses.

Astronomers have learned how to interpret these mass photos. For example, one set of lines, Dr. Mitchell says, reveals in the sun's atmosphere the presence of a layer of iron vapor 600 miles deep.

Other lines show a different iron vapor only 240 miles deep. The differences are due to the fact that iron does not all vaporize in one explosive flash at a single temperature level. Some of the iron atoms get "excited," as the asronomers say, and begin to glow and show lines at one temperature, while others are not fully vaporized until higher temperatures. The lower iron vapor layer on the sun represents higher temperatures.

This kind of reading of the earth's upper layers is hindered by the lack of light from terrestrial atmosphere.

VIRGIL CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD TODAY

100 APPEAR IN PAGEANT

Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 14 (A.P.).—The bimillenium anniversary of the birth of the Latin poet Virgil will be observed here tomorrow with an all-day program featuring the presentation of a Virgilian pageant taken from the sixth book of the Aeneid tomorrow night.

Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest scholarship society in America, founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776, is fostering the program, and more than 100 students of the college will appear in the outdoor pageant on the campus tonight, chronicling the visit of Aeneas to Hades.

Dr. Oscar M. Voorhees, general secretary of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, has said the William and Mary celebration will be the most elaborate that has come to his attention. The 2000th anniversary of Publius Virgilius Maro is being celebrated this fall by classical societies all over the world.

Outdoor Stage.

Dr. A. W. Wagener, of the ancient languages department of the college, has written the text of the pageant, based on John Dryden's English translation, and the faculty has assisted in the dramatization.

A special outdoor stage, covering an area 100 feet square, has been constructed on the campus, overshadowed by a background of improvised rocks, crags, cliffs and caves.

The sixth book of Aeneid represents the visit of Aeneas to the lower regions. A libretto with an appropriate prologue and epilogue has been prepared, and the students taking part are from the college dramatic club.

Dr. Knapp to Take Part.

Outstanding among the speakers of the day will be Dr. Charles Knapp, chairman of the committee of public ceremonies and professor of ancient languages at Columbia University.

Dr. Knapp is among the best-known Virgilian scholars in the United States, and has an illustrious record in classical philology. He is associated with leading philological associations in America, and has published works on Aulus Gellius and Ovid, besides contributing voluminously to classical journals throughout the country.

He was to arrive here tonight and his address will open the celebration here tomorrow morning.

Shenandoah Apple Crop Not Stunted

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., Oct. 14.—Commercial fruit growers of the Winchester district were flatly denying today a statement attributed to George W. Koiner, State commissioner of agriculture, to the effect that apples this fall in the Shenandoah Valley are stunted and lacking in color, due to the long drought.

Growers declare that while there are many apples grading 2¼ inches, there are also a great many more which measure 2½ inches and better, and that there are comparatively few lacking in color. It was stated that the cool, nights of the past several weeks have developed apples to a high degree of brilliant coloring.

It also was emphasized that apples this fall contain a higher sugar content than ordinarily, due to less water in the fruit, and that the keeping quality will be accordingly enhanced. York Imperial apples measuring from 2¼ to 2¾ inches are being sold for $4 per barrel and better for shipment to England, Germany, Holland and France. Stayman Winesaps, 2½ inches and up are bringing $4.50 and old-time Winesaps, 2¼ inches and up, command $5. Ben Davis apples for South American trade are selling at $4 per barrel here.

DANVILLE UTILITY SALE IS DEFEATED

WAS THIRD LIKE OFFER

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., Oct. 14.—Danville voters today voted heavily against an offer to sell the city-owned gas and electric plants to the Western Power Light and Telephone Co. of Missouri in a referendum called for the purpose. The vote was 1,517 for and 2,548 against.

Under the terms of the contract proposal, the Western Power, Light and Telephone Co. offered not only a cash price of $4,300,000 but also promise to donate $100,000 for a new industries fund, as well as doubling the present steam generating plant at a cost of $600,000. It also promised to reopen the Morotock Manufacturing plant which closed early this year, and to give employment to 200 people.

It was the third time since 1926 the Danville voters have gone to the polls on the same issue. In December, 1926, there was a negative response on an offer by the Appalachian Power Co., the majority being 251. In June, 1927, the Appalachian Power Co. made a higher offer, but this, too, was rejected by a majority of 212.

Worker Is Killed In Queer Mishap

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., Oct. 14.—Clarence Lewis, of Ridgeley, W. Va., was instantly killed this morning in an unusual acident at the plant of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Co. Lewis was employed in the milling department of the plant, in a portion of which various substances, including a special composition oil, are mixed to make rubber suitable for tires.

Lewis was in the act of drawing a can of oil from a 50-gallon steel tank. For the purpose of agitating the oil to make it flow properly and freely from the tank, air pressure was provided by attaching a steel tube to an air hose and inserting the tube into the tank after removing the bung-hole cap.

The pressure of the air, about 100 pounds, failing to find release through the oil or oil spigot, blew off the head of the tank. Portions of the flying steel from the tank struck Lewis on the head and chest, causing his death almost instantly. Lewis, who was 36 years old, is survived by a wife and several children.

The student is said to have admitted taking jewelry valued at $1,400 from the Black and Gold Shop at College Park, Md., which was robbed on the night of August 16. Police are also holding more than $500 worth of jewelry pending its identification.

The boy is being held by Washington police to await action of Maryland authorities.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The major portion of last night's session of the Falls Church town council was devoted to the discussion of the water situation existing in the corporation limits on account of the continued drought this summer. Under the leadership of the Falls Church Volunteer Fire Department's water committee, headed by R. E. Kendrick, a large body of the town's residents appeared before the council and urged that prompt action be taken to attempt to remedy the situation, which has now become acute.

The council was informed that approximately one-half of the wells in the town are dry and the balance show some degree of pollution that render them unsafe for drinking purposes. The health authorities of both Fairfax and Arlington Counties, in which the town lies, have made a large number of tests on the wells in the various sections of town and have warned the citizens not to use the water without first boiling it.

Mr. Kendrick told the council that he knew many of the citizens were leaving the town on account of the lack of water and that the shortage greatly increased the fire hazard. Another resident, J. Fred Huber, stated that he had secured two tests of the water in his well, which had been deepened and now had 8 feet of water in it, but it was still unfit for drinking. He further declared that the health officer who analyzed the water for him said that if many wells in Falls Church are as badly polluted as his that only two cases of typhoid would be necessary to start an epidemic.

The council finally adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the committee on water, sanitation and public health be directed to discuss at once with the officers and engineers of the Arlington County sanitary district ways and means of extending water mains and service into the Fairfax County portion of Falls Church and to report back to the council at an early date.

"Resolved further, That the mayor be authorized to designate an advisory committee of citizens on water supply, consisting of five members, to cooperate in a consultive capacity with the council's committee."

Mayor Leonard P. Daniel named the following persons to the citizens' committee: Carrol V. Shreve, Harry Keyser, Merton E. Church, H. K. Bowen and Edwin H. Rosengarten.

The financial problems arising from this situation were discussed at some length. It was believed that the necessary money for the laying of the water mains would either have to be raised by voluntary subscriptions or by assessing the property owners $2 a front foot.

Fire originating from a gasoline stove threatened to destroy the home of R. E. Ward on Broad street near Oak in the town of West Falls Church yesterday afternoon. The family were in the yard when they noticed the smoke pouring out the doors and windows. They called the Falls Church Fire Department, which responded and after waging a stubborn fight against dense smoke and flames with chemicals succeeded in saving the house. The lack of water greatly hampered their efforts. Gas masks were necessary because of the smoke. Two rooms of the house were gutted by the flames. The damage amounted to about $1,500.
